A Note From the Author

You will notice that in this book there are no “end notes” at the end of the chapter or the end of the book. The reason there are no end notes is because it is very troublesome for a reader to look up a note which may have some important information that will go unread or may only be “Ibid.” It is especially difficult to have end notes with an ebook; therefore, the print and ebook editions of this book have been formatted exactly the same, with notes within the text.

I use the NIV as the main translation in this book because it is usually accurate in the prophecies (though I do not recommend it for the entire Bible).

Also, all underlining or other emphasis in this book is my own, and is never found in the original quotes.

Where necessary, I cite references and tell you where I get information and interpretation; other than that, you can assume that the interpretation is my own; about 99% of this book is my own interpretation. Even when I quote others, I often will make observations related to the quote which are not found in the original information.

Introduction

The USA is Mystery Babylon the Great harlot from the Bible, and its destruction is prophesied.

The first few chapters present evidence and analysis to support this claim; however, Babylon does not represent the entire country, but only wicked America. Next there is one chapter about the coming civil war in the USA, exposing the roots of the Deep-State.

The remaining numerous chapters provide hundreds of prophecies, some new, some going back decades, that speak of another US civil war, followed by a nuclear war and invasion, or other events such as terrorist attack or natural disasters.

Christians will create a truly God-fearing nation from the civil war that will survive the Russian/China invasion. If that were not bad enough, after we defeat the Russian invaders, it is not long until we are invaded by the Antichrist. We will be losing this last war when Christ returns and saves us.

Many people misinterpret Babylon the Great (BTG) harlot, prostitute, in Revelation 17 and 18. She has been interpreted as the Roman Catholic Church, the Protestant Church, America, Jerusalem, Islam, Saudi Arabia, and who knows what else. There is actually scriptural PROOF that the USA is Babylon the Great!

One of the most difficult things I had to do in my years of research into Bible prophecy, was come to the realization that America is Babylon the Great (BTG). I did not want to believe it. I resisted because it means that America will receive great destruction, which will begin even before the Great Tribulation (GT) and WWIII. But after years of study, the evidence forced me to that conclusion.

I realized that most nations of the world will suffer great destruction to one degree or another, based on their sins. So why wouldn't the USA suffer for its sins? You don't have to dig far to learn about the evil deeds that the USA has done around the world, and even to its own people. Therefore, Babylon USA will receive its due punishment from God.

I will provide a mountain of evidence and explain how America is political Babylon, which is the government of the United States of America (especially the Deep-State); cultural Babylon, which is the polluted culture of America that produces vile movies, TV shows and music; and economic Babylon which includes evil corporations (not all of capitalism) that is headquartered in America. America is the premier capitalist nation in the world. If Babylon is also a city, then it is New York City.

An argument could be made that there is also a religious Babylon; but if so, then that has been well covered already: see the videos, Tares Among the Wheat, and A Lamp in the Dark on YouTube and other sites, which point to the Roman Catholic Church.

Like my other books on Bible prophecy, there are a lot of new insights in this book that are not found in any other books on Babylon the Great and America. I will discuss how America was founded with a de facto covenant with God ("de facto" means being in effect, though not formally recognized). Also, few people have previously known that America is chosen by God because it was one of the nations that God promised to Abraham. Most Christians do not realize that God promised Abraham more than one nation! It is likely the main reason that America became the greatest and most powerful nation the world has ever seen.

But I consider the chapters with HUNDREDS of prophecies to be the most important part of this book. Some prophecies are from major prophetic voices, but most are not well-known. There are even some from ordinary Christians who have had a dream or vision. God is trying to warn us about what is soon to come; therefore, we need to read and understand these dreams and visions. I even have a chapter full of Eastern Orthodox prophecies; most are about Russia, but some include the USA.

Even though I have spent more than 40 years studying and writing about Bible prophecy, I still had questions, and there were areas that were not perfectly clear. The prophecies in this book have helped me immensely in putting a few missing pieces of the puzzle together. Therefore, they could help you as well.

The prophecies reveal that GREAT trouble lies just ahead for those who live in the USA because of the coming civil war. The prophecies tell us that the next civil war will be worse than the first!

Some of these prophecies have been widely told for many years, warning Americans about the terrible events ahead, but many Christians are not concerned because they believe in a pre-tribulation rapture. The mistake is assuming that pre-trib means pre-horrible suffering FROM ANY CAUSE, such as war. Most nations in history have suffered from horrible war, and it is now our turn. There was NO rapture before the first civil war, and there will be NO rapture before the next civil war begins.

It is genuinely impossible to fully know what is coming upon this country without reading the prophecies in this book.

In the first book I wrote on Babylon the Great, in 2015, I did not know what the cause of the civil war would be, or which group within the USA would cause it, but those who are paying attention can now see it brewing in many cities throughout America today. Even though both political parties are corrupt and responsible for doing great evil, the next civil war will be caused by the same people who caused the first US civil war. The evidence and the prophecies point to the Democrats.

When they lost the first US Civil War in 1865, the Democrats assassinated President Abraham Lincoln, then started the KKK, and have caused much evil in the nation since then. The Democrat KKK did not disappear, as most people believe, by becoming Republican; that group today is just another small hate group. The official KKK that ruled the entire Democrat South went into the federal government under several Democrat presidents, such as Truman, who started the CIA. In more recent years they have even joined with Communists, thus creating our modern super-evil Deep-State. They do not want a two-party system, but full control.

Here are just some of what we will learn in the prophecies:

- * Bombs will hit several major cities. One in Washington, DC, will kill so many elected officials that a special election will be needed of the Congress to elect a temporary President and Vice President to finish out their terms (those in line to replace them will all be killed).

- * They will elect Obama. He will be the last president of the United States.

This civil war will also see—

- * Many states withdrawing from the union.
- * Much violence in the streets.
- * Guns being confiscated in Democrat-run states.
- * Increasing unemployment.
- * Growing food shortages because of disruption in the production and distribution of all types of food.
- * Water becoming poisoned in some cities.
- * Social security checks and federal retirement checks will stop.
- * Christians and Republicans rounded up and put into detention centers in Democrat states.
- * Entire industries will go under, resulting in great shortages.
- * Banking will eventually go under completely.
- * Travel between states will be restricted, and borders could be closed between some states.
- * Natural disasters will also be on the increase, with great earthquakes, volcanic eruptions, and even an asteroid impact in the Atlantic Ocean causing a massive tsunami.

Yes, the prophecies specifically speak of all the above coming in the next few years. In the country that once fed the world, we will know hunger in all 50 states. The USA will never be united again, but will form two or more nations.

This civil war that will weaken us to the point that Russia, China, and their allies will take advantage of the situation and nuke and invade us. However, America will NOT be invaded and occupied for seven years before the GT even begins, which has been claimed. The Russia war will be short because China will turn on Russia, and there will also be natural disasters that force them to withdraw.

But that is not the end, because the Beast nations will have risen up in Europe and the Middle East, and they will shortly invade North America. The Beast will rule the Democrat states and enforce the mark of the beast. He will also attack the Christian states that will be called the New Republic of America. We will be fighting but not winning, and then Christ returns and destroys the Antichrist.

I have carefully selected these prophecies to provide details that we need to know. Just saying an earthquake is coming is not helpful; just saying war is coming is not helpful. The majority of these prophecies give details that help us piece together and better understand all the above events, and more.

But these chapters are not merely a collection of important prophecies; I also provide commentary on them to help us better understand them and the events they show are coming. Correctly interpreting and piecing them together is a calling in itself.

That said, I admit that, even with all these prophecies and expert analysis, there are still things that cannot be known. As Apostle Paul said, “We see through a glass darkly.” But at least you will see more clearly than you did before reading this book.

I am currently writing Book 2 of the Time of the End series, which is a commentary on Revelation, Daniel, and other significant Bible prophecies. What I learned from the prophecies herein has greatly impacted my overall understanding of end-time events as presented in Book 2. It should be out sometime between January and March of 2026.

In the appendix I discuss the misinterpretations of Walid Shoebat and Joel Richardson, who claim that Babylon The Great is Saudi Arabia and Mecca.

I even have two chapters with prophecies about Obama coming back into power in the US. Because of the civil war and death of the regularly elected president and vice president, we can now see how he can come back into power. He will only be president for a short time, but the prophecies reveal that his actions during his eight years in office are leading us into civil war. He is the main driver behind it.

Even though I do not go into the details of who the Antichrist may be in this book, there are many people who have had dreams and visions that Obama is the Antichrist, while others believe it is Prince Mohammed bin Salman Al Saud, often just called MBS. Since it is impossible to know all details in advance, perhaps Obama will be the American Antichrist; that is, he will be just as evil as the Antichrist and will enforce the worship of the Antichrist and the mark of the beast in the Democrat states.

However, there will actually be two Antichrists; one will be the political leader, and one will claim to be the returned Jesus. Therefore, I also include the prophecies about Obama being an Antichrist, because him coming back into power and persecuting Christians is relevant to the subject of this book.

One final point: many of the prophecies cover multiple topics; rather than chop them up, I have placed them in the chapter that I believe best fits each prophecy. Therefore, even though there is a chapter about natural disasters and another one on terrorist attacks, there are prophecies throughout the book that will include a mention of a natural disaster or terrorist attack, or some other significant event.

Finally, even though you can benefit from the prophecies in this book, regardless of your view of the rapture, because this is Book 1 of a series of 3, I would be remiss if I did not point out my view of the rapture and when and where it takes place within the events shown in these prophecies.

So, my view is that there are in fact multiple raptures, based on the several different harvests of ancient Israel, as well as there being three different groups of people seen around the throne in heaven in Revelation. Since the context requires that they arrive at different times, there must be multiple raptures. I thought I was the only one that believed in multiple raptures, but I have learned of several people on YouTube who teach that there are 3 raptures, but their details concerning them are totally different from mine.

After all the horrible events of this civil war, when it ends, then Russia will nuke and invade us. A few prophecies tell us that the rapture takes place when the missiles come down. (But this is actually the third rapture. There is even a fourth at the return of Christ.)

In the middle of all the hardship, the much-prophesied final Great Revival will indeed happen before and after the first rapture.

Chapter 1

Who is Babylon the Great?

(1) Mystery Babylon

Many prophecy experts like to say that the USA is not found in Bible prophecy, but the USA is the most powerful nation in the world today, so why would you not find such a nation in Bible prophecy? No, you very much would expect a mention of the world's most powerful nation in Bible prophecy, especially if it suffers great destruction during WWII and the Great Tribulation!

In Revelation 17 and 18 we are given information about a great harlot that has the title, "Mystery, Babylon the Great." Many Bible commentaries say something like, "it is obvious that it refers to Rome." The reason it says "MYSTERY" is because it is not obvious! That word, Mystery, tells us that her interpretation will be difficult to figure out. BTG could not have been understood until the arrival of the 20th century.

As we shall see, the harlot is not easy to understand; she sits on seven mountains and sits on many waters, nations, and languages. She has connections with rulers of nations, rides the beast, is a prostitute and is the mother of prostitutes, and makes the world's merchants wealthy. She is also a city that rules over kingdoms, and even kills God's prophets. Therefore, her interpretation is not simple, but very complex and multilayered.

Some Bible teachers claim that the harlot represents the false religion of the Antichrist, which makes no sense because the beast will attack and burn Babylon the Great (BTG). Why would the Antichrist try to destroy his own religious system, which he will supposedly set up for people to worship him? That is illogical nonsense! Nowhere in Revelation 17 and 18 can you find the word “worship,” because the main interpretation of those chapters is not connected to false religion. And a “woman” does not always refer to a religion in the Bible, as some people claim, but also can represent nations such as Israel, and cities such as Tyre.

Some Bible prophecy “experts” even teach and write books saying that literal Babylon in Iraq will revive to become BTG, which is very laughable. And the Roman Empire is not going to revive; this was proven false in Book 2 (BK2).

The claim is also made that Rev. 17:18 refers to the city of Rome: “The woman you saw is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth.” The present tense used in the statement does not require that it refer to the first century. Rev. 7 also used the present tense when it spoke those who “have come out of the great tribulation” (v.14). Are we expected to believe that the GT had already taken place at this point in Revelation or in history? No, the main focus of Revelation 17 & 18 is the final years before the return of Christ. Rome ruled over the nations of the world, and so we are looking for another country that rules over many other nations without ruling them directly-- which the USA does.

Now let’s take a look at what Revelation 17 says about this extremely wealthy harlot:

One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and said to me, “Come, I will show you the punishment of the great prostitute, who sits by many waters. 2 With her the kings of the earth committed adultery, and the inhabitants of the earth were intoxicated with the wine of her adulteries.”

3 Then the angel carried me away in the Spirit into a desert. There I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that was covered with blasphemous names and had seven heads and ten horns. 4 The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and was glittering with gold, precious stones and pearls. She held a golden cup in her hand, filled with abominable things and the filth of her adulteries. 5 This title was written on her forehead: MYSTERY BABYLON THE GREAT THE MOTHER OF PROSTITUTES AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 I saw that the woman was drunk with the blood of the saints, the blood of those who bore testimony to Jesus. When I saw her, I was greatly astonished. 7 Then the angel said to me: “Why are you astonished? I will explain to you the mystery of the woman and of the beast she rides, which has the seven heads and ten horns.” (Revelation 17:1-7)

The answer to her mystery is multilayered and not easy to see right on the surface, so we must dig for more information. Notice that she wears jewels and pearls and gold, and holds a golden cup in her hand, which shows that she must be very wealthy.

The book of Jeremiah refers to an end-time Babylon that is described very much like Babylon the Great (BTG). Here is what the Zondervan NIV Bible Commentary says about BTG in Revelation and its connection to Jeremiah’s call for people to come out of an end-time Babylon:

“Come out of her, my people” forms the burden of Jeremiah’s refrain concerning Babylon. . . . Even in its OT setting, this was no mere warning to leave the actual city of Babylon, much less here in Revelation. John is burdened to exhort the churches to shun the charms and ensnarements of the queen prostitute (v.7) as her qualities are manifest in the world they live in. Wherever there are idolatry, prostitution, self-glorification, self-sufficiency, pride, complacency, reliance on luxury and wealth, avoidance of suffering, violence against life (v.24) there is Babylon. Christians are to separate themselves ideologically and physically from all forms of Babylon. (Vol. 2, p. 1210)

So wherever there is excess, greed, lust, captivity, aggression, and exploitation, there is BTG. This certainly describes the wicked and evil characteristics of the USA. Babylon the Great is a city, a nation, a culture, and an economic system that is practiced by many people and nations, which makes the world’s merchants wealthy. This refers to capitalism, which is one of the ways she has relations with many of the world’s rulers and people.

Original Babylon was the strongest nation for hundreds of miles around. It ruled over as many other nations as it could reach, believing that those nations were better off under Babylonian rule, but it ruled them only for its own benefit. Because of its rule over others, it became rich and powerful and lifted up in pride. The same could be said of Rome. Does this sound like anyone we know? Yes, it describes the USA. The US is called a global power because it has power and influence over many other nations of the world politically, economically, and culturally.

(2) Come Out of Her

If Babylon the Great represents the religion of the Antichrist, or anything religious, how could God's people be a part of it, since it calls for God's people to leave her before the destruction?

4 Then I heard another voice from heaven say: "Come out of her, my people," so that you will not share in her sins, so that you will not receive any of her plagues . . . (Rev. 18:4)

In Matthew 13 there is the parable of weeds and wheat that represent both good and bad people in the same field; likewise, in Revelation 12. The woman is given the wings of a "great eagle," which represents Christians founding America (see BK2). As a result of America's Christian foundations, many Christians have become blind to the wickedness that has also grown inside her. Babylon the Great represents wicked America, the part of the US filled with greed and many other vial sins. So, the great eagle represents the good part of America, but BTG represents the bad part of America.

God told the Israelites that if they repented, they would live in safety and peace, but if they refused, the king of Babylon would invade and destroy them. Babylon invaded and destroyed Jerusalem and took the Israelites captive. Even the righteous people in Israel were taken captive, such as the prophet Daniel. So also today, many good people live or work in Babylon the Great; this is why we are told to come out of her, so we will not suffer and die along with the wicked; this refers to more than not taking part in the evil that is taking place, but also in physically leaving those areas of the nation that have become exceedingly wicked and will receive judgment.

For example, New York changed their laws in 2019 to nearly legalize baby murder. The law says:

. . . there's now no criminal remedy available to women for an illegal abortion. The act also removes the killing of an "unborn child with which a female has been pregnant for more than twenty-four weeks" from the definition of a homicide, meaning that the killing of a fetus in utero by anyone—not just an abortionist performing a legal procedure—is no longer actionable as a homicide. (lozierinstitute.org/six-states-and-their-radical-approaches-to-abortion-law)

That is just one step away from infanticide, and these things always go in increments, so expect it to happen. God is warning us here in Revelation to GET OUT of those areas of the country that are certain to receive the Wrath of God! Much judgment will take place even before the first rapture, including natural disasters and the start of civil war. The USA is also responsible for spreading legalized abortion into many other countries.

After the planes hit the towers on 9/11, many thousands of people streamed out of the towers before they collapsed, so they were not killed; but many good people, including Christians, did not make it out in time and were killed. Likewise, people who live in wicked cities in America must leave those cities, which are destined for destruction during the coming times of trouble.

This passage is not saying to leave America, but is merely telling Christians to leave the areas that are the most wicked. However, God may indeed lead some people to leave the country. There are prophets who claim that all of the USA is Babylon the Great, and will ALL be totally destroyed; I do not include those prophecies, because many others tell us that many Christians will be here throughout the GT, and will build a new Christian nation.

There are dozens of Islamic terrorist cells already in America; most of their targets will be large cities. So, if you live in a particularly wicked place like Southern California, Las Vegas, or Portland, Oregon, I would suggest moving, seriously. Remember the command to come out of her.

There have been 10 successful attacks on the US since 9/11, such as the Boston Marathon bombs; the Christmas party shooting in December 2015 by a Pakistani woman and her husband in San Bernardino; and the killing of 49 people at an Orlando, Fla. nightclub in June of 2016. There have also been several church shootings and many threats.

There are also, reportedly, many sleeper agents waiting to help the invading armies from Russia and China. They will set off bombs, shoot down passenger planes, etc. They will likely begin these attacks LONG BEFORE the invasion, because they want to weaken the US.

Flee from Babylon! Run for your lives! Do not be destroyed because of her sins. (Jer. 51:6)

One or more US cities could be destroyed by nuclear bombs even before the nuclear war from Russia and its allies. Don't complain to God if you are living near Las Vegas and it is hit by a nuclear bomb. Many Christians will not leave BTG because they do not want to leave their big nice home or their lucrative career. Money and the things they own will hold them like a chain.

According to Joseph Farah's G2 Intelligence Bulletin, 12-70 nukes have already been smuggled into the US by terrorists. Captured al-Qaida members and documents say the plan is called the "American Hiroshima," which is to detonate nuclear bombs in several US cities at the same time. The terrorists paid the Mexican gang MS-13 to smuggle the bombs and terrorists across the border:

Al-Qaida has obtained at least 40 nuclear weapons from the former Soviet Union, including suitcase nukes, nuclear mines, artillery shells and even some missile warheads. In addition, documents captured in Afghanistan show al-Qaida had plans to assemble its own nuclear weapons with fissile material it purchased on the black market. . . .

In addition to detonating its own nuclear weapons already planted in the U.S., military sources also say there is evidence to suggest al-Qaida is paying former Russian special forces Spetznaz to assist the terrorist group in locating nuclear weapons formerly concealed inside the U.S. by the Soviet Union during the Cold War. Osama bin Laden's group is also paying nuclear scientists from Russia and Pakistan to maintain its existing nuclear arsenal and assemble additional weapons with the materials it has invested hundreds of millions in procuring over a period of 10 years. . . . the attacks will take place simultaneously in major cities throughout the country, including New York, Boston, Washington, Las Vegas, Miami, Chicago and Los Angeles. (3) The Merchants

The most significant description of the harlot is the large amount of global trade she engages in, seen here:

3 "The kings of the earth committed adultery with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from her excessive luxuries." . . . 11 "The merchants of the earth will weep and mourn over her because no one buys their cargoes any more--12 cargoes of gold, silver, precious stones and pearls; fine linen, purple, silk and scarlet cloth; every sort of citron wood, and articles of every kind made of ivory, costly wood, bronze, iron and marble; 13 cargoes of cinnamon and spice, of incense, myrrh and frankincense, of wine and olive oil, of fine flour and wheat; cattle and sheep; horses and carriages; and bodies and souls of men.” (Rev. 18:3, 11-13)

The above verses describe international trade on a massive scale. This list of goods is not a definitive list but only representative. It means BTG will trade in all kinds of goods from all over the world. This list of trade goods is given for a reason. Apostle Paul told us that the love of money, or greed, is the root of all evil, and what is the most widespread form of the pursuit of money in our modern world? Capitalism and international trade. Paul also told us that greed is a form of idolatry.

Greed rules over the modern world through the pursuit of wealth; it dominates the thoughts, plans, and the goals of both governments and corporations. But if one applies the description of BTG to only one nation, it fits America better than any other single nation; if to only one city, it is New York City. On this point, many commentators, preachers, and prophets agree, including the late David Wilkerson. Greed has even infected American Christianity, as preachers teach that righteous men will become wealthy. It is no longer a blessing to have enough food, clothing, and shelter; now Christians expect and want to get rich, and believe that it is God’s will for them to be rich.

The USA is the most dominant capitalist nation on Earth. I believe BTG refers to both the United States of America and global capitalism, because when America falls, capitalism will fall: “The merchants of the earth will weep and mourn over her because no one buys their cargoes any more . . .”

I believe America is the greatest nation in the history of the world, and I also believe that capitalism has given us the greatest amount of material goods and prosperity the world has ever known; but they are both imperfect, with many flaws. I could present a history of capitalism showing its many abuses, but that is not the point of this book.

We recently saw an example of the greed and excess of Babylon the Great in the economic crisis of 2007-2009 that included a mortgage loan scam that was organized by Wall Street traders and bankers. Many people lost their homes or their life savings because of this greed. Many more examples could be given.

The product list includes “horses and carriages” (v13). The usual word for chariot in the N.T. is “harma” (Acts 8:28, 29, 38; Rev. 9:9). It was a two-wheeled chariot. But here, the Greek for “carriages” is (ῥῆδᾱ) rheda (4480): Thayer’s Dictionary says it means: “a chariot, a type of vehicle having four wheels.” Not many chariots of the first century had four wheels, but this prophecy refers to the modern era. Do we use 4-wheeled transport today? Yes, of course, the automobile.

The claim is made that BTG refers to Jerusalem. So let’s take a look at a verse in Rev. 17 and the last verse of Rev. 18:

I saw that the woman was drunk with the blood of God’s people, the blood of those who bore testimony to Jesus. (Rev. 17:6)

“In her was found the blood of prophets and of God’s people, of all who have been slaughtered on the earth.” (Rev. 18:24)

The argument is made that it must refer to Jerusalem because it refers to killing God’s prophets, and America has never persecuted or killed Christians or Jews. But a very important point is being overlooked, which is that at least part of the USA will yet be taken over by radical atheists/Communists who will indeed persecute many Christians and Jews.

That being said, how could any system, organization, philosophy, or city be responsible for the death of every righteous person who has ever been unjustly killed, “all who have been slaughtered on the earth,” and also be responsible for making the world’s merchants wealthy?

The Bible says that greed is the root of all evil; greed for power and wealth caused Rome to invade her neighbors and capture and sell some of them as slaves, and plunder and tax the survivors. Several nations of Europe and Asia have done the same thing in past centuries, but the most widespread form of greed today is seen in capitalism. I will present some examples of capitalist greed in the next chapter, which results in much death and suffering.

(4) Sits on Many Waters

The entire chapter of Revelation 18 describes the fall of Babylon the Great, and gives us information we can use to identify her:

After this I saw another angel coming down from heaven. He had great authority, and the earth was illuminated by his splendor. 2 With a mighty voice he shouted: “Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great!” She has become a home for demons and a haunt for every evil spirit, a haunt for every unclean and detestable bird.

3 For all the nations have drunk the maddening wine of her adulteries. The kings of the earth committed adultery with her, and the merchants of the earth grew rich from her excessive luxuries.” 4 Then I heard another voice from heaven say: “Come out of her, my people,” so that you will not share in her sins, so that you will not receive any of her plagues; 5 for her sins are piled up to heaven, and God has remembered her crimes. (Revelation 18:1-5)

Jeremiah prophesied about Babylon in Jer. 50-51, but part of those chapters must refer to prophetic end-time Babylon, not literal Babylon, because, for example, ocean waves cannot reach old Babylon that was located many miles inland; yet it says, “The sea will rise over Babylon; its roaring waves will cover her” (Jer. 51:42). So, it has not and will not ever be covered with water, as prophesied by Jeremiah.

However, other commentators have pointed out that an invading army is sometimes referred to as rushing waves of water by the prophets, but for that to be the case in Jer. 50, it would be mixing metaphors, which would be very confusing. I do not believe that the Bible would speak of being dried up (Jer. 50) and covered with water if the water is an army. So, would this mean that being dried up is the lack of an army? See how it would cause confusion?

As you can see in the image below, New York City is surrounded by many waters. The World Trade Center stood just about two blocks from the water's edge. And Manhattan is literally an island.

On the left of the island of Manhattan is the Hudson River, and on the right is the East River. East of the Bronx is Long Island Sound. The Statue of Liberty is located in Upper New York Bay. Lower New York Bay is between Staten Island and Brooklyn. To the south is the Atlantic Ocean.

And the city of Rome does not sit on the coast of Italy but is located on the Tiber River, 15 miles (24 km) inland, and as high as 456 feet above sea level. So, it could still be hit by a powerful tsunami, but the elevation will diminish most of it. New York, on the other hand, actually sits on the shore at sea level.

(5) A Double Portion

Take careful notice of the wealth, power, and international trade that are described in Revelation 18:

6 Give back to her as she has given; pay her back double for what she has done. Mix her a double portion from her own cup. 7 Give her as much torture and grief as the glory and luxury she gave herself. In her heart she boasts, 'I sit as queen; I am not a widow, and I will never mourn.' 8 Therefore in one day her plagues will overtake her: death, mourning and famine. She will be consumed by fire, for mighty is the Lord God who judges her. (Rev. 18:6-8)

Rev. 18 can only describe a city or nation of global power and wealth whose fall will be seen and felt around the world. It is very possible that the fall of the twin towers of the World Trade Center on 9/11 was a prophetic picture of what will happen to the whole of BTG, and may actually be seen here in Rev. 18.

9 "When the kings of the earth who committed adultery with her and shared her luxury see the smoke of her burning, they will weep and mourn over her. 10 Terrified at her torment, they will stand far off and cry: "Woe! Woe, O great city, O Babylon, city of power! In one hour your doom has come!"

On 9/11, the south tower literally fell one hour and two minutes after being struck by a plane, and the north tower fell about 1.75 hours after being struck. Notice the last verse. In most translations, it says, "in one hour your judgment has come." The Greek word for "judgment" is "krisis" (2920) which is the root of the English word "crisis." "Crisis" is used frequently in connection with the stock market and the economy. Since 2008, there have been numerous crises, such as the European "debt crisis" and the "home loan crisis." Is it just a coincidence that this word is used here? It is used two of the four times the word "judgment" appears in Rev.; the other two times the word "krima" (2917) is used.

Rev. 18:11-13 was given earlier; so we continue with verse 14:

14 "They will say, 'The fruit you longed for is gone from you. All your riches and splendor have vanished, never to be recovered.' 15 The merchants who sold these things and gained their wealth from her will stand far off, terrified at her torment. They will weep and mourn 16 and cry out: "Woe! Woe, O great city, dressed in fine linen, purple and scarlet, and glittering with gold, precious stones and pearls!

17 In one hour such great wealth has been brought to ruin!' "Every sea captain, and all who travel by ship, the sailors, and all who earn their living from the sea, will stand far off. 18 When they see the smoke of her burning, they will exclaim, 'Was there ever a city like this great city?' (Rev. 18:14-18)

Why will they "stand far off, terrified at her torment"? Could it be because they are afraid of being exposed to nuclear radiation? Was there ever a nation as rich and powerful as America? American companies dominate the world; American culture dominates the world; American politics dominates the world; American inventions dominate the world; so when America falls, the world will mourn, "Woe! Woe, O great city."

The World Trade Center housed companies that were engaged in all sorts of business ventures, especially world trade, or aided it in some way. The north tower housed companies such as the Bank of Taiwan, China Resource Products USA, American Bureau of Shipping, and Baltic Oil Corporation. The south tower tenants were companies like the New York Stock Exchange, Candia Shipping, and Hua Nan Commercial Bank.

19 They will throw dust on their heads, and with weeping and mourning cry out: “Woe! Woe, O great city, where all who had ships on the sea became rich through her wealth! In one hour she has been brought to ruin! 20 Rejoice over her, O heaven! Rejoice, saints and apostles and prophets! God has judged her for the way she treated you.” (Rev. 18:19-20)

How could Babylon the Great only refer to false religion? How could merchants worldwide grow rich because of false religion? Of course, there are preachers and churches that take in billions of dollars during their lifetimes, but it is actually a small amount compared to global business that does billions every day.

Notice, we are told again that the destruction will take place in one hour; also notice the double “woe.” The smoke of the burning towers was seen for many miles out to sea, and there were people from many different countries who died, causing great mourning in many of the world’s nations. It will be far worse when many cities in the US receive destruction. People the world over will be wailing the loss of such a great country.

Yet, while some people are crying woe, others will be rejoicing. Millions of people in Muslim countries literally danced in the streets when the towers collapsed. There were even some dancing Israelis.

Ultimately, the reference to “one hour” speaks of the future destruction by nuclear missiles. When the cities get nuked, the nuclear missiles will land within minutes of each other. It is probable that all the nuclear missiles that hit America will hit within one hour.

New York City is officially called the Big Apple, and apples are known for their deep red color (that is, most apples). The official flag of New York State shows two women, each with a scarlet-colored cloak. In the center are a mountain and two ships on the sea. Above it all is a globe, signifying a global reach.

Verse 7 states, “I sit as queen.” One of the boroughs of New York City is called Queens. Verse 7 does not say that she is a queen, but that she calls herself a queen.

(6) Babylon Will Never Be Rebuilt

21 Then a mighty angel picked up a boulder the size of a large millstone and threw it into the sea, and said: "With such violence the great city of Babylon will be thrown down, never to be found again. 22 The music of harpists and musicians, flute players and trumpeters, will never be heard in you again. No workman of any trade will ever be found in you again. The sound of a millstone will never be heard in you again. (Rev. 18:21-22)

What about the statement that says Babylon the Great will never be rebuilt and no one will ever live or work there again? During World War 2, two cities in Japan were turned into ash by nuclear bombs, but those cities were rebuilt. Many other cities also were burned and bombed, and they were rebuilt. What great city or nation could be destroyed today and never rebuilt?

The bombs that were dropped in Japan were small, with low radioactive output, which is how people can live there now. But modern nukes are very large with high radioactive output. Yet the bombs will not continue putting out radiation like a nuclear power plant will. Many of our large cities are near nuclear power plants that will melt down and will continue emitting radiation until such time that someone can go in and secure the fuel rods or remove them, which means never. So, it is very dangerous to live anywhere near a nuclear power plant.

But rather than being limited to one city, it refers to all large cities in the US that have become very wicked, and that God will make sure get destroyed, either with nuclear missiles or with an invading army, or earthquakes and other natural disasters. After the war and natural disasters, the US will have a much smaller population, so those destroyed cities will not be needed.

There are some researchers and prophets who believe that the USA will cease to exist, but the evidence points only to the wicked, and there is also evidence that the survivors will continue, even if with fewer states (details given later).

On another level, it could refer to the destruction of evil that characterizes BTG; there will no longer be any of the greed, lust, and depravity that characterizes BTG. And capitalism as we know it will cease to exist after this destruction. There will never again be large multinational corporations and banks that exist only to make their stockholders and officers wealthy. There will never again be corporations that care more about making money than about the people who work there. Never again will there be corporations that are willing to destroy the environment to make as much money as possible. In the future, businesses will take care to not pollute the environment, and not abuse their workers. Rev. 18 continues:

23 The light of a lamp will never shine in you again. The voice of bridegroom and bride will never be heard in you again. Your merchants were the world's great men. By your magic spell all the nations were led astray. 24 In her was found the blood of prophets and of the saints, and of all who have been killed on the earth." (Rev.18:23-24)

Notice that it says, "Your merchants were the world's great men." Even though there were many rich and powerful merchants in Rome and Constantinople, the kings and generals were the world's richest and most powerful men; but today, the merchants are the richest and most powerful. There are corporations with larger budgets and net worths than some nations, and even have more power.

(7) The Greatest Capitalist Nation

In the ancient past, Atlantis was a rich and powerful city; Jerusalem was the greatest city during the rule of Solomon; Athens was the greatest Western city in its time; Carthage was the greatest city of its time; Rome was the greatest city of its time; and Constantinople was the greatest city of its time. Yet, none of those cities can compare to America of the last 125 years, thanks to international trade and global capitalism. Most of the prosperity in the world today comes from global trade, and most of that is done with the United States and Western Europe; China is a weak third (see note below). So, when America falls, the global economy will collapse. Given all the above information, the fall of Babylon the Great refers to the fall of both the United States and global capitalism.

Even the large and prosperous economy of China is mostly because it manufactures goods sold to the USA, or for USA-owned companies. Therefore, without America, China would not have near the GNP that it does.

This is an excellent place to state another area in which America surpasses all other nations, which is all the important products that we invented. Here is just a shortlist of some of the essential American inventions or discoveries: electricity, Morse Code, light bulb, record album, mass production, rubber tire, movie camera, jazz, baseball, basketball, telephone, airplane, personal computer, smartphone, microwave oven, stock car racing, drag racing, skateboarding, snowboarding, and let's not forget television, the internet, and MUCH more. And when we did not invent something, we took it and made it better and produced millions of them to be sold around the world, like the automobile and the camera. All of these inventions have changed and shaped the modern world. Therefore, America is on top when it comes to inventing and producing world-changing products. Though other countries are beginning to make many inventions, historically, the US is on top.

Think of the oil industry. We created the oil industry and even developed Saudi Arabia's oil fields, but because the price was so low, we became dependent on Middle East oil. But when the price went up, we got busy and found more oil in the US, even though it is hard to get out, and became the world's largest producer of oil once again. That is just another example of American ingenuity.

Therefore, America not only produces and sells and buys more goods than anyone in the world; we also invent most of the important products in the world. We are on top of the world, which is why it says in Rev. 18, "I sit as queen; I am not a widow, and I will nev- er mourn” (v.7). This phrase also shows us the prideful attitude of many Americans, that we will never be defeated but will remain forever the most powerful nation in the world. Perhaps this is why Jeremiah describes end-time Babylon as “O arrogant one” (50:31).

When the destruction comes, it will be the end of the buildings and the factories and the trucks and the ships and the movie studios, and many people will die. Global capitalism and the American culture, as we know it today, will be destroyed. But the destruction will begin before the nukes come down, with natural disasters and civil war. The USA will never dominate the world again. Though this sounds grim for America, there will be many survivors.

America was once a Christian nation but is now in danger of being taken over by the godless. If left alone, they will end up making it illegal to be a Christian in America. Sometimes it is necessary to take a knife and cut off an infected limb before the infection spreads and kills the whole body. In the case of America, the infection could spread throughout the entire world, as we shall see in other chapters. But God will cut out the evil and save the good.

Chapter 2

Economic Babylon

(1) The History and Nature of Capitalism

It's fitting that Babylon is used to symbolically represent the capitalist world today, because Babylon had one of the best examples of capitalism in the world before modern times. Ezekiel 17:4 referred to Babylon as "a land of merchants" and a "city of traders." Thousands of cuneiform tablets detail merchant activity in ancient Babylon, showing that free enterprise and private capital investment flourished. Businessmen made money transporting rural-grown produce to cities, and some loaned money to others, which allowed them to start businesses, such as a tavern:

The example of the Babylonian businessmen (and women) shows that there was a good deal of flexibility in the social fabric which allowed a whole range of people from different backgrounds to make a living and even considerably enrich themselves by providing a range of services -- managerial, administrative and financial -- by acting as middlemen between different institutions and private persons. (The Babylonians, by Gwendolyn Leick, p. 9)

This shows that they had a form of capitalism. They even had factories that produced pottery and textiles:

Woollen textiles though were one of the most important products of Babylonia. Already during the time of the Third Dynasty of Ur, there were textile workshops attached to the great institutions; ration lists for the workforce consisting mainly of women and children have survived. . . . In later periods too, Babylonian textiles, including fully finished garments, were highly prized luxury items throughout the Near East. (Ibid, page 135-136)

A workforce of women and children; capitalism in its purest form!

Children in Europe and America once had to work in coal mines and factories because their employed parents did not earn enough money to feed them.

The US actually had children working in factories and coal mines before labor laws stopped it.

Notice that BTG is called a prostitute. A prostitute is the quintessential expression of easy money and quick profit, and it shows that people will do just about anything for money. Investors on Wall Street are out to make easy money, and they are willing to sell their souls in the process. Anything for a dollar.

The stock market is the driving force of capitalism. When a corporation sells stocks, it sells a small piece of itself, like a prostitute; this is done to raise money. The selling of millions of shares of stock will raise millions of dollars, enabling the company to buy new machinery, thus allowing the company to produce more goods and make more money.

But she is more than just a prostitute; she is called “the Mother of Prostitutes,” the mother of many corporations that all sell pieces of themselves. The New York Stock Exchange on Wall Street is where the stocks of the world’s corporations are bought and sold. Without a stock exchange that buys and sells shares, corporations could not raise capital. The buying or selling of stocks is what made modern capitalism and the Industrial Revolution possible.

Babylon was a great nation of merchants, so BTG is the ultimate merchant, buying and selling stocks in merchant companies that are multinational. This is one of the ways in which the woman rules over many peoples, nations, and languages; because some form of capitalism is found in most nations of the world, even Communist China.

In centuries past, one nation would invade another and sell the people into slavery, or impose a heavy tax on Jews and Christians. Why? Greed. Greed once had its headquarters in Rome, then later in Damascus, Istanbul, or London. Today, greed's headquarters is in New York City. A book about Wall Street had this to say about it:

Slaves-- those staples of seventeenth and eighteenth-century commerce-- were the first commodity to be regularly traded on Wall Street, in a market located at Wall and Pearl Streets, where the shoreline then was, before landfill pushed it three blocks farther east. (Gordon, J. S.)

Notice that the first commodity ever traded on Wall Street was slaves! Could anything have a worse beginning? Its very foundation is exploitation for profit, because of greed. Is it just a coincidence that it was located at the corner of Pearl Street? BTG is said to wear pearls. The above quote was taken from a book called, The Scarlet Woman of Wall Street, published in New York by Weidenfeld & Nicolson, 1988. It shows that even secular people who work in the heart of capitalism refer to Wall Street as the Scarlet Woman because they know its true nature.

The Stock Market is located in New York; “The woman you saw is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth” (Rev. 17:18). New York has been called the “capital of the world,” and is the capital of capitalism, making it the capital of global greed.

Rev. 18:10 says, “O Babylon, city of power.” New York is certainly that. No other city on Earth today fits the description of BTG better than New York City. Not only is it the “financial capital of the world,” it is also the “media capital of the world”:

It is home to several of the largest media conglomerates in the world, including Time Warner, News Corporation, the Hearst Corporation, and Viacom.

Three of the “Big Four” record labels have their headquarters in the city.

One-third of all independent films in the world are produced in New York. More than 200 newspapers and 350 consumer magazines have an office in the city. The book-publishing industry alone employs about 13,000 people. . . .

The city is the national headquarters of the four major American broadcast television networks, ABC, CBS, FOX and NBC. It is also the home of many large cable television channels, including MTV, Fox News, HBO and Comedy Central. (Wikipedia.com)

No wonder NYC was the target of terrorism on 9/11. Rev. 18:5 says, “her sins are piled up to heaven.” The Literal Translation (LIT) says, “her sins joined together, even up to Heaven.” Some translations say her sins “are piled as high as the sky” or “have reached to the sky.”

This could easily describe skyscrapers that are built by joining one floor upon another until they reach the sky. It is these tall buildings that house the corporations that prostitute themselves. So BTG lives in skyscrapers. The World Trade Center buildings were the tallest buildings in America before they fell.

(2) Sits on Seven Hills

9 “This calls for a mind with wisdom. The seven heads are seven hills on which the woman sits. 10 They are also seven kings. Five have fallen . . . (Rev. 17:9-10)

Some people point out that the city of Rome was built on seven hills, but the Greek word also means mountains, which is why many translations say mountains rather than hills. The seven mountains refer to the seven continents of the world, thus signifying her global reach. The officially recognized continents are North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, and Antarctica.

It does not mean that she literally rules the world, but merely that she has power and influence over all the nations, as America does. Neither Rome nor Constantinople had power and influence over the entire planet, like the end-time harlot does.

Then the angel said to me, “The waters you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations and languages.” (Rev. 17:15)

This is another passage that shows Babylon the Great with global influence and power.

Finally, it is interesting to note that Long Island, New York

(next to New York City) has a township named Babylon. In 2010, it had a population of 213,603. There is even a village called Babylon within the town! So we have two Babylons: a town, and a village right next door to New York City. Just a coincidence, perhaps.

We see it says, “Fallen! Fallen! is Babylon the Great,” indicating it falls twice. The first fall most likely happens when a huge asteroid impacts into the Atlantic Ocean (2nd Trumpet, Rev. 8) and causes the New Madrid earthquake (explained later). Then the second fall will be with nuclear war and another massive earthquake (explained later).

Rev. 16 says:

No earthquake like it has ever occurred since man has been on earth, so tremendous was the quake. 19 The great city split into three parts, and the cities of the nations collapsed. (Rev. 16:18-19)

I once believed that this refers to the continental USA being split at the Mississippi River and at California at the same time; however, I now believe that the first split will be with the New Madrid earthquake, which means that this is when Russia nukes and invades the USA, and California will split off. (See the prophecies in later chapters.)

But notice that all the world’s cities are also destroyed, not just BTG. So, this supports my view that BTG, on one level, refers to the entire modern, industrialized world today, especially the large cities. But the head of BTG is the United States.

The quake will be global, which is why all the major cities will also be destroyed. If you saw movies such as 2012 or San Andreas, then you have seen what it will be like in some parts of the world, but especially in America.

(3) Her Crime

But what was her crime? The only thing mentioned in the text was her great wealth and luxury, “Give her as much torture and grief as the glory and luxury she gave herself” (Rev. 18:7). Babylon lived in great wealth and luxury while using slaves to make her rich. Even today, BTG continues a similar pattern, living in luxury while her workers in other nations suffer extreme poverty, making a few dollars per day. Furthermore, there are products sold around the world today made by child labor, and even slaves. In capitalism, greed is the only creed, and America is the queen of greed.

There are even people in America today who want to abolish the minimum wage; it is called Laissez-faire capitalism (let it be, or leave it alone), as it rejects any government intervention. Yes, capitalism has given us the greatest standard of living in history, but only because of regulation. It is because of minimum wage laws and laws limiting work hours that the standard of living increased for the average worker. If you don't believe the minimum wage helps workers and the economy, all you have to do is look at Mexico or many other countries that have low wages.

Note: Is making money wrong? Why would prosperity be described in Rev. 17 & 18 as a prostitute? There is nothing wrong with making money; we should all have enough. Companies should also make enough money, but "enough" is the key word. Companies are not satisfied with a few million dollars in profit; they want hundreds of millions, and some literally make billions each year! Their huge profits mean they can afford to pay their employees more money so that both husband and wife don't need to work to pay the bills, and so entire families in other countries don't have to work just to feed themselves.

Women in Asia often have to work 14 hours each day for pennies an hour sewing clothes for stores like Walmart. They are no better off than slaves. But these companies pay their CERs (Chief Executive Robbers) a king's ransom. Capitalism nearly destroyed the world economy back in 2008-2009, due to mortgage and investment scams and banking mismanagement; all because of greed. It cost the citizens millions of jobs and lost retirement accounts.

Even in America, many companies work their employees like slaves. Some people are forced to work 10 or 12, even 14 hours a day. One lady told me that a local meat company forced her to work 33 (or was it 35) days in a row without a day off, 10-14 hours each day.

So, don't tell me that there is no evil in capitalism. Just because there is a lot of good in it does not mean that there is no evil in it. I could mention good things about the Roman Empire, but that would not erase the amount of great evil it committed.

(4) The Global Threat of Corporate Greed

In previous editions of this book, I had an entire chapter by the above title, but I have condensed it down to a few pages.

The original corporate monster was Standard Oil of the 19th century, founded by John D. Rockefeller. The company engaged in ruthless monopolistic practices in the late 19th and early 20th centuries, including coercive deals with railroads, and sabotage of competitors' pipelines. It used predatory pricing to force small companies to sell ownership to Standard or be bankrupted. These tactics crushed smaller oil companies, manipulated markets, and exploited workers, prioritizing profit over ethics. Its actions led to the landmark 1911 antitrust case, breaking up its monopoly for violating fair competition principles.

There are many good companies in the world, but there are also many that will pollute the environment and kill millions of people to make money, such as the agribusiness giant, Monsanto, a predatory monster. Monsanto's tentacles reach around the world, squeezing the life out of local farmers, poisoning farmworkers, and even the people who eat the genetically modified organisms (GMOs) that the company produces. They also poison the non-GMO crops with their herbicides.

Monsanto is the company responsible for giving us DDT, Agent Orange, PCBs, dioxin, and now GMO corn, soy, bovine growth hormone, and aspartame (NutraSweet). The chemicals they produce, along with a few other companies, are responsible for killing billions of monarch butterflies and bees around the world, which could result in famine because the bees pollinate many kinds of fruits and vegetables. The poison also causes kidney disease in people exposed to it.

Ninety percent or more of all corn sold in the US is GMO corn. A study done by Professor Gilles-Eric Seralini and published in Food and Chemical Toxicology showed that GMO corn caused many health problems, including liver and kidney damage.

The company has bought so many politicians that it does not matter whether the Democrats or the Republicans are in power; Monsanto still gets whatever it wants. Some people leave government to work for Monsanto, while some Monsanto employees go to work for the government, making policy that favors Monsanto.

Even scientists are paid off to say that GM crops are safe. Canadian scientists testified about being offered 1-2 million dollars to approve GMOs. How many others have taken the money? The Canadian scientists found that GMOs and the bovine growth hormone were of questionable safety and needed more testing. After they testified to those facts, they were immediately fired. One was Dr. Shiv Chopra, author of the book, Corrupt To the Core, about how government corruption endangers the public food supply.

Dr. Árpád Pusztai was an eminent scientist for 35 years at the Rowett Institute in Ireland, with awards and hundreds of published papers. He found organ damage in the lab rats fed GMOs and was immediately fired. A Ph.D. scientist at the Univ. of Aberdeen said two phone calls came from the Prime Minister of the UK, Tony Blair, which resulted in the firing: “It was perceived by the Americans to be harming their industrial base” (The World According to Monsanto). Here we have an example of industry pulling the strings of nations on a global scale.

In spite of the firing, the study resulted in GMOs being banned in much of the EU; GMO food is at least labeled, resulting in little GMO food in stores in the EU. A two-year study by a team led by French scientist, Gilles-Eric Séralini of the University of Caen, found cancer in lab rats fed GMOs. He was harshly attacked by other scientists, but refused to retract his findings. The study was retracted by the scientific publication that published it, but later republished it with supporting evidence.

When Obama’s CIA caused a popular uprising that removed the corrupt leader of Ukraine, they then helped the newly elected leader with IMF loans, on the condition that the country allow the production of GMOs that were previously banned. Why would the US government be pushing a product by Monsanto into other countries that do not need or want it? Just how many people working in government are bought and paid for by Monsanto?

It would NOT have been any different if Mitt Romney had won the presidential election in 2012. Romney got rich through his ties with the consulting firm Bain & Company, which provided business advice to Monsanto. It was B&C that advised Monsanto to go into GMOs. And Mitt Romney personally worked with Monsanto as a business consultant. (www.thenation.com/article/169885/mitt-romney-monsanto-man#)

Peru banned GMO products in 2011, then in 2021 the ban was extended for another 15 years. Hungary destroyed all its Monsanto cornfields, joining ninety other countries that aggressively monitor and restrict or ban GMO imports, according to the Center for Food Safety (Ibid). And Colombia has banned the use of the toxic herbicide that kills the bees and butterflies. Russia has also banned GMOs.

It is highly recommended to look for this label on food, which tells you that it does not contain any Genetically Modified ingredients.

But Monsanto has bought up at least 50 seed companies worldwide, trying to eliminate competition and to better push its GMO seeds: “DuPont and Monsanto are now the two largest seed companies in the world. As a result of their control of the seed industry, farmers are reporting that the availability of good non-GM seed varieties is rapidly disappearing” (<http://online.sfsu.edu/rone/GEessays/GMfree5.htm>)

Mexico is the home of many native species of corn; they are fighting GMO infestation, and they believe that Monsanto has intentionally contaminated fields with their GMO seeds.

It was illegal to grow GMOs in Paraguay, but then, mysteriously, GMOs were found growing throughout the country; thus, Paraguay was forced to legalize them, which allowed Monsanto to then demand payment for its GMO seeds.

GMO seeds must be purchased anew every year; the company does not allow the farmers to keep some of their harvests to use for the next planting. This is how the company makes a fortune off GMO seeds.

Monsanto has sued numerous farmers for patent infringement for using the seeds they grow the following year rather than buying more seed from Monsanto. But the worst part is that they have sued many farmers who never even used their seeds, because some GMOs were found growing on their land; even though the farmer had not bought or planted GMOs. The lawsuits cost the farmers hundreds of thousands of dollars in legal fees, as Monsanto tries to put the farmers out of business that refuse to use GMOs. To learn more, watch a short film titled, Monsanto's Dark Legacy, free online.

A shocking investigative report from Germany's largest daily newspaper alleges that Monsanto, the US Military, and the US government are working together to fight both anti-GMO activists and independent scientists who study the adverse effects of genetically modified food. On July 13, 2013, the German newspaper Süddeutsche Zeitung exposed how the US government “advances the interests of their corporations,” and focused on Monsanto as an example. A news blog reported:

The report titled, “The Sinister Monsanto Group: ‘Agent Orange’ to Genetically Modified Corn,” described a ‘new fangled cyber war’ being waged against both eco-activists and independent scientists by supporters and former employees of Monsanto, who are described as “operationally powerful assistants” and who have taken up sometimes high-ranking posts in the US administration, regulatory authorities, and some of whom have connections deep within the military industrial establishment, including the CIA. (www.activistpost.com /2013/07/ us-military-monsanto-targeting-gmo.html)

This evidence was corroborated by Edward Snowden, the NSA whistleblower who said the NSA spies for US corporations:

ARD TV quoted Snowden saying the NSA does not limit its espionage to issues of national security and he cited German engineering firm, Siemens as one target. (www.cbsnews.com/news/snow den-nsa-conducts-industrial-espionage-too/)

The reason GMO corn and soybeans were created is so that farmers could spray tons of Roundup herbicide on the crops without killing them, resulting in a weed-free harvest. It has nothing to do with trying to feed the world. Roundup and similar herbicides are also sprayed on non-GMO wheat even though it will kill the plants. The spraying is done right before the harvest, which actually causes the plant to produce more seed as it is dying, and then the ground will be weed-free until the next crop.

Eating this wheat is causing many people to become intolerant to gluten, but the cause is not the gluten, it is the pesticide in the wheat. Studies have shown that this pesticide is in all our urine at levels ten times higher than in Europe, and even at high levels in breast milk. But this is all OK with the FDA, as long as Monsanto is making money. (Study conducted by Moms Across America and Sustainable Pulse: www.scribd.com/doc/217265343/Glyphosate-Testing-Full-Report-Findings-in-American-Mothers-Breast-Milk-Urine-and-Water).

In 2013 a study was done of glyphosate, the main ingredient in Roundup, by MIT that said its, “Negative impact on the body is insidious and manifests slowly over time as inflammation damages cellular systems throughout the body” (www.reuters.com/article/2013/04/25/roundup-health-study-idUSL2N0DC22F20130425).

GMO contamination of the food is continuing with the approval of a GMO apple that will not turn brown, and GMO grass that will be fed to cattle that you will eat, and many other plants and food crops. God may have to destroy America if only to eliminate all the harmful crops and plants that this country is spreading around the world. He may have to destroy the world to save it.

“Any politician or scientist who tells you these [GMO] products are safe is either very stupid or lying.” (David Suzuki, CC, OBC, Ph.D. LLD, Geneticist) (Institute for Responsible Technology, <http://responsible-technology.org/js-food-quality>)

If contaminating our food were not bad enough, in 2013 the USDA approved a GM Loblolly pine tree, and did so without any input from the public or testing on its effects on the ecosystem.

These companies know that if you get into bed with the government, you will be allowed to do whatever you want. But if you don't, then the government will send a SWAT team to arrest you and confiscate your products, because of some vague law you failed to follow.

These multinational companies are loyal to no government, but will make deals with any government, regardless of how corrupt and brutal; they are only interested in making money. But this will all change after WWII and the return of Christ when Christians will take over running the world.

Finally, if you have not realized it, Monsanto has been called, "The World's Most Evil Corporation." UNFORTUNATELY, Monsanto is just one example of corporate Babylon The Great that abuses and kills people, all because of GREED. (You may also want to look into the pharmaceutical companies that produce vaccines. They may have surpassed Monsanto in doing great evil.)

(Other sources for this chapter include: The World According to Monsanto, documentary; articles at truthout.org, gmwatch.org; Seeds of Death: Unveiling the Lies of GMOs documentary, by Gary Null; www.salon.com/2014/01/31/we_have_this_smoking_gun_monsanto_is_killing_the_monarch_butterflies_partner, and other sources.)

We have already learned about how corporations will do anything to make money; it has recently come to light that the Apple corporation has made deals with the Chinese Communist Party, because Apple wants cheap labor to make their high priced phones; and they are willing to do whatever the CCP wants them to do, such as providing the Chinese government with technology they can use to track and monitor the people.

Obama gave a publisher a $350 million contract to produce Common Core curriculum; then when Obama left office, that same publisher gave Obama a $65 million book deal.

Hillary and Bill Clinton's foundation took in hundreds of millions of dollars; some of which went directly into the pockets of the Clintons. This money came from foreign countries with which Hillary had dealings while she was Secretary of State. Very little of the money goes to charitable causes, but is paid to themselves.

Joe Biden can be seen on video telling a fellow in Ukraine that unless he calls off the investigation into Hunter Biden, he will not receive a billion-dollar loan.

The war in Ukraine has become an excuse to launder money to corrupt politicians in Washington, DC. They send money to Ukraine, but much of it "disappears," no one knows where it goes. It is secretly sent back to Democrats, and even Republicans in Congress.

A whole book would be needed to provide all the details of all the crimes which are committed by the US government, and US companies, so these are just examples of BTG.

Chapter 3

The Seducer of the World

(1) Wicked/Evil Hollywood

America became a great nation that God has blessed, which is why it is such a rich and powerful nation. But its culture has become infected by great evil. The woman held a golden cup, “filled with abominable things and the filth of her adulteries” (Rev. 17:4). (I will not go into the worst of the evil, such as child trafficking, but will leave that for others to expose.)

This very much describes the vomit that Hollywood spews upon the world through its TV shows and movies that promote sex, violence, and wickedness while mocking godly Christian values. The filmmakers seem to be trying to see who can include the most profanities in a movie, numbering in the many hundreds in just one film. It produces cultural and spiritual vomit that is being spewed upon the whole world, and already has polluted the minds and hearts of generations of people, especially in the US and Canada.

Revelation calls it filth and abomination. Abomination (946) bdehugma, means “a foul thing, a detestable thing” (Thayer). It refers to something that is offensive, especially in a religious sense. Hollywood is making it “normal” to spew foul language, to view taking illegal drugs as “normal,” and to view promiscuity as “normal.” Hollywood is Babylon in every sense of the word, and it will burn in the fire of God’s judgment.

The wine of her fornication is the lure of wealth. Or as the NIV puts it, the “maddening wine of her adulteries” (18:3).

There is a connection between their adultery with Babylon and their sharing of her luxury, as if sharing her luxury was part of their adultery. (The Zondervan NIV Bible Commentary, Vol. 2, p. 1211)

The Greek for “adultery” is porneia (4202) and means more than sexual immorality. “Symbolically it stands for idolatry, the forsaking of the true God in order to worship idols” (CWD). In this case, it represents greed, which is idolatry, because greed rules the modern world. Greed is at the heart of modern capitalism, industry, world trade, consumerism, and especially Hollywood.

Miley Cyrus got the increased fame and fortune she was seeking when she rubbed up against Robin Thicke on an awards show that was broadcast live on ABC TV network in 2013, with children of all ages watching. Notice the hair twisted into horns.

The desire for money has entrapped many people, even professing Christians. Hollywood is notorious for corrupting Christians. You will see a new actor profess to be a Christian, and it is not long until she is taking off her clothes and using g-d in movies, living with her boyfriend, etc. There is a long list of former Christians who have been devoured by fame and fortune, including many well-known names currently in movies and TV series.

Mass media is the most powerful brainwashing tool that was ever invented. George Orwell said, “The people will believe what the media tells them they believe.” You become what you feed your mind every day, and the majority of what is fed to us through the mass media is cultural trash and spiritual vomit. There is an old saying, “Garbage in, garbage out.”

We need to be careful what we feed our minds and spirits, and how we live if we expect to go in the rapture, or be saved from destruction during WWIII.

If the filthy movies and TV shows and music were produced by the government, they would call it “propaganda,” but because they are produced by private companies, they call it “entertainment.” Satan is using the power of the media to effectively corrupt the entire world. By the time a child reaches 18 years of age, they have watched countless murders, drug use, robberies, adultery, fornication, drunkenness, and witnessed many thousands of sick, twisted, gory, bloody, filthy acts.

The speed at which the culture is rotting seems to be increasing. Back in 1988, a sex tape nearly ruined the career of actor Rob Lowe, but today, actresses intentionally release sex tapes to help their careers! If you are willing to take your clothes off and have sex, your Hollywood career will be more successful. The public has long known about this, but it is far worse than that.

Many actors and singers have actually sold their souls to Satan. Singer Katy Perry can be seen on video saying that she sold her soul to Satan, and giving the sign of Satan. In Nov. 2022, Disney released a new Christmas show, and the children “accidentally” misspelled Santa:

But it gets worse. Many of them do more than give allegiance to Satan. A major Hollywood actor, director, and producer, has stated that Hollywood is infected with Satanists and pedophiles. In an article originally published on Your News Wire, which changed its name to newspunch.com (now deleted, but found at archive.today), Mel Gibson said:

Hollywood is drenched in the blood of innocent children. For a long time all the references to pedophilia and cannibalism were symbolic or allusive. But I was personally introduced to the practice in the early 2000s. I can talk about this now because these people, the execs, they're dead now."

The blood of a sexually abused infant is considered highly 'enriched' and is highly prized. The money changing hands, the favors, the kick-backs – you have no idea. Babies are a high-functioning currency all of their own. Babies are their premium brand of high-grade caviar cocaine diamond steak."

It appears that the children are r*ped and offered in s*crifice to Satan; their bld and fl*sh then consumed. Gibson also said the only reason he can speak about it is that those who invited him to join are now dead. He was threatened, that if he ever spoke about it; he and his family would be murdered.

I saw a video clip that someone took with their phone, showing Helen Mirren giving Lady Gaga the Sign of Satan at the 2022 Screen Actors Awards; which was promptly returned:

This is all part of the filth and abomination of Babylon the Great. So now you know who controls the mass media. The cultural decline has been taking place gradually, but I have lived long enough to see a significant difference in the nation.

One of America's favorite shows has spread around the world, and made hundreds of millions of dollars for its owners, perhaps billions— but they want more, so the Wheel of Fortune TV show has partnered with Las Vegas and has shamelessly promoted Las Vegas and gambling as being good, wholesome entertainment. The show is frequently taped in Vegas, where there are Wheel of Fortune slot machines, and they have Pat and Vanna sitting at a gambling table; they smile and wave, “Come to Vegas, it’s fun.”

America is a mighty economic and military power, and its culture is so influential that it impacts all other nations in the world. But, you may say, the EU nations also are powerful with influence; however, America dominates them all. The US truly has power and influence over European countries. Because of this, we receive a lot of hate and negative press from Europe.

So, it is no surprise that in Revelation we see our economic system, culture, and way of life portrayed as a great harlot that sits on many peoples, nations, and languages. The description provided in Rev. 17 & 18 is just what you would expect to find in prophecies about the great wicked world-power of today.

God may have to destroy America if only to stop the flood of filth coming out of Hollywood, New York, and the porn industry that is corrupting our society and the whole world.

It is not just American media that has spread around the world, but everything American. It was probably Reverend Josiah Strong who was the first to write, “As America goes, so goes the world,” in his influential book, Our Country (1885). Only two nations allowed abortion when it was legalized in the US; now many nations allow it, following America’s lead, including Israel. But America is doing more than leading; it is using its position in the world to pressure other nations into legalizing abortion on demand.

You think it cannot get any worse, and it does. Now we even have vampires and human-eating zombies on TV! And the TV networks are putting curse words into primetime shows and even their TV commercials, so even if you don’t watch the offending TV shows, you still get the commercials. I watch very little network TV any more.

Las Vegas is famously known as “Sin City,” yet many Christians have no issue living there or even gambling! Such “Christians” will miss the rapture. God allowed King Nebuchadnezzar to destroy Jerusalem as God's judgment, so also God will permit terrorists and Russian nukes to destroy many US cities. God will allow this because of the promotion of open and shameless filth spewing from the USA.

Islamic jihadists are trying hard to obtain a nuclear bomb, which they may have already acquired. Or, perhaps they will acquire one from North Korea or Pakistan. They have a list of targets they want to destroy within America, and one of the top places on the list is Las Vegas because it stands out as a shining example of American decadence. So do not be surprised if a nuclear weapon in the back of a truck burns up Las Vegas.

I urge all Christians to leave "Sin City" while they still can. It is foolish to continue living in such a wicked place. If Lot had not fled Sodom, he would have perished with the sinners. Las Vegas and Hollywood are the American Sodom and Gomorrah.

Christians need to flee Babylon or they will suffer with the sinners! It is time to stop listening to the "everything will be all right" preachers and start listening to those who preach the truth. Everything is NOT going to be wonderful; life will become very difficult, even before the start of the Great Tribulation.

We will see in the prophecies in this book that great wars and hardships are coming upon the USA, before the nuclear war and Russian invasion!

(2) The Beast Hates the Harlot

There are many facets to the prophecy of BTG in Rev. 17 and 18, but they all fit together. Though the harlot has existed in some form throughout history, her description in Revelation 17 refers mainly to the harlot as she exists during the years before her destruction.

The beast with seven heads and ten horns seen in Rev. chapter 13 represents seven (or more) past empires (BK2) that have ruled the Mediterranean world and Israel. The beast will be 10 mostly Islamic nations that join to form an empire. In recent years it has become clear that Islam is close to taking over several nations in Europe, and will eventually do so.

The beast and the ten horns you saw will hate the prostitute. They will bring her to ruin and leave her naked; they will eat her flesh and burn her with fire. (17:16)

This verse perfectly describes the relationship between the Muslim nations and America. Muslim nations not only hate the Jews and Christians, they also hate America with a passion that can only be Satanic in origin— or is it divine?

For God has put it into their hearts to accomplish his purpose by agreeing to give the beast their power to rule, until God's words are fulfilled. (17:17)

One of God's purposes here is to destroy Babylon the Great. That is, not America, but the evil that dwells here and spreads from here to the whole world. So, America will face great destruction during the civil war and WWIII, but it will not be completely destroyed. Several cities and regions will escape destruction, as we will see in the prophecies that follow.

If they nuke the whole country, it will be uninhabitable and the land unusable, but they do not plan to ruin the entire country, because they want to plunder us. They want to take our houses, our farms, our cities, etc. They will not be able to reap our wheat and cotton if the land has become radioactive.

But you may say, doesn't it say that BTG will be totally destroyed? Yes, but that refers to the wickedness and evil that is in the country. BTG lives mostly in large cities; especially in Democrat-run cities and states. There are many Christians living in America that will miss the rapture, and though many will die in the war and natural disasters, many will survive to rebuild at least part of the country.

Notice these important words, "eat her flesh." The only way you can eat a large chunk of meat is one bite at a time; this suggests that there will be many small attacks. I once believed that the beast nations would be aligned with Russia and China, but the recent prophecies reveal that the beast will not be part of that invasion. The beast will actually have its own separate invasion after a short period of respite. Think of it as WW4, and it will be as bad as the Russian invasion.

(3) The Woman Rides the Beast

Rev. 17 verse 7 says the woman rides the beast:

Then the angel said to me: "Why are you astonished? I will explain to you the mystery of the woman and of the beast she rides, which has the seven heads and ten horns. (v.7)

We have already learned how the USA rules over many other nations, which makes them hate us, and so here we are clearly told that the USA rides, or rules over those nations.

Rev. 17 tells us that the woman specifically rides the scarlet beast, which is the eighth and final head of the beast, and represents the final empire of the beast, not all of its former heads; which represent the past empires.

(4) USA's Foreign Crimes

The US government has been responsible for the deaths of many innocent people, especially in the Middle East. For example, the US gov. helped to reinstall the Shah of Iran after he was overthrown, then the shah became a US puppet. He was corrupt and engaged in torture and murder and oppression of his people. This is why the Iranians hate the US with a passion. The Shah of Iran ruled until the Ayatollah overthrew him in 1979. Then the US backed Saddam Hussein in his war against Iran, even though he used chemical weapons against the Kurds.

Then in 1991, the US told Saddam that if he invaded Kuwait, we would not do anything to stop him. It was a trap because we hoped he would invade. He did, we fire-bombed his armies, then put his country under heavy sanctions for ten years that caused the deaths of several million children and babies, including Christians. The US gov. kept them from getting much-needed medical supplies, which means the US government is responsible for those deaths. Then after the US invaded Iraq a second time, and captured Saddam in 2002, the nation became a hotbed of murder and suicide-bombings that have killed thousands of Christians and caused millions to flee the country. If the US had stayed out of Iraq, there would not have been lots of bombings of churches, Christian-owned businesses, and Christian homes; plus, all the death and suffering of the Muslim population. So to answer the claim that the US has never killed Christians --- yes it has!

Several authors have written in detail about America's foreign policy and the Petrodollar, and provide evidence that the US invaded Iraq in 2003, not because the US believed Iraq had weapons of mass destruction, but because Saddam Hussein stopped using the Petrodollar in 2000, and was using Euros instead. If all the other OPEC nations were to follow, then the dollar would have become much weaker. The total economic dominance of the US was threatened.

Therefore, the charge that the US invaded Iraq for the oil is false; we did not take their oil, but we likely invaded to preserve the Petrodollar. Within hours of invading Iraq, the order was given to switch from the Euro to the dollar. Maintaining a strong dollar benefits America in many ways, such as keeping imported goods cheaper to buy for American consumers.

The US also had an issue with Qaddafi of Libya when he attempted to get all of Africa to create a new currency, the gold dinar, which would be used for oil transactions instead of the dollar. Obama had the CIA give weapons to Qaddafi's internal enemies who killed him in 2011. It was a good thing for the US government, but very bad for Libya and all its inhabitants, especially the Christians; as they were then hunted and killed by the fundamentalist Muslims, including ISIS terrorists.

(Just how many Christians has the US killed, directly or indirectly? MILLIONS!)

Syria switched from the Petrodollar to the Euro in 2006, but the US had no pretext to invade or topple the government. Oh, I forgot, a civil war broke out in 2011, supposedly as part of the Arab Spring, and then later Obama falsely claimed that Assad used chemical weapons; so he planned to bombard the country with missiles and likely invade, but the war was averted at the last minute by a global outcry, and threats from Russia. Additionally, Obama also gave weapons to Islamic terrorists who supported ISIS, because they were fighting to topple Assad, which shows just one more way that Babylon the Great America has blood on its hands.

Egypt does not have much oil, but it still had a US-backed dictator, whom the people ousted from power with massive protests. Then the terrorist group called the Muslim Brotherhood “won” the presidency. Obama supported the Muslim Brotherhood and helped them gain power, and gave them lots of aid and military equipment; then, the MB began arresting, torturing, and killing Christians and anyone else who did not vote for them. The people did not want them in power, so they protested again until the military took over and arrested the Muslim Brotherhood.

But Obama did not like the fact that the MB was overthrown, so he cut off all military aid. The Obama administration was willing to support the Muslim Brotherhood even though it was greatly persecuting people, especially Christians, and is the mother of all terrorist organizations (BK2). The so-called election they had was not a free and fair election, but what does the US gov. care? The US elections have also experienced massive voter fraud by democrats in the 2008 and 2020 presidential elections (actually for decades). The CIA, with the help of Israel’s version of the CIA, the Mossad, killed president John F. Kennedy and framed Lee Harvey Oswald for the crime. Then to ensure there could be no defense provided, they had Jack Rubenstein, a.k.a., Jack Ruby, shoot him immediately.

The point of this story is that this is powerful evidence that America is Babylon the Great that rules over the world to such an extent that it will topple governments, kill rulers, and invade countries to maintain its global dominance. It has also toppled governments in South America and Asia— you get the picture.

Just to be clear, the Mossad was created about the same time as the CIA, and they have worked together perpetrating many international crimes. This means the Israeli Deep-State is just as evil and just as guilty of horrible crimes as the US Deep-State.

(If you want to know more about the Petrodollar, there are lots of articles online and books on the subject. Many people are predicting major economic problems for America when OPEC stops using the Petrodollar. Russia, China, and other nations are already starting to move away from it. The IMF is already planning to have its money become the global reserve currency to replace the dollar, at least in global trade. The IMF money is called Special Drawing Right, but it should be called World Currency.)

Monsanto continued the predatory behavior of Standard Oil, and the evidence shows that the US government is the Standard Oil and Monsanto of nations; a predatory bully that is out to profit at all costs, economically, politically, militarily, and even acts against American citizens, especially Christians.

A 100-year-old depiction of Standard Oil.

The loss of freedom started with the Patriot Act and the NSA, and has gotten worse with the National Defense Authorization Act (2012) which allows the government to detain American citizens indefinitely without charge or trial. In other words, we no longer have the protection of the Constitution! It will only worsen as the federal government becomes more tyrannical. One of my favorite memes seen online says, “If you behaved like your government, you would be arrested.”

A pastor refused to perform a gay wedding, not really, yet! It was probably just an anti-abortion supporter.

The above image and caption first appeared in the 2015 or 2016 edition of my book, The Fall of Babylon the Great America, but has actually happened since then. The Democrat-controlled Biden government has arrested anti-abortion activists by showing up at their homes with armed agents, as though they were armed criminals, but they allowed many actual criminals to go unpunished. There is more about the tyrannical Deep-State in the chapter titled, The Democrat Deep-State.

There are many other ways in which America acts badly, but I will not belabor the issue by going into any more detail. I have presented enough information to prove this point. The details can be found in many books, websites, and videos.

God may have to destroy America just to stop this global bully called the Federal Government. America is Babylon the Great that will be destroyed by fire. A prophecy from Eastern Orthodox Saint Aristocles of Moscow (1918), said:

America will suffer a great geological-biological disaster for the disasters that have caused the unjust death of so many innocent people. (World War 3? Armageddon? Orthodox Prophecies with Metropolitan Neophytos of Morfou, (part 1) Church of the Eternal Logos, YT, May 9, 2024. The Itinerary of the Great War, PDF, page 6.)

P.S.

The great evil of many corporations should not be a surprise, since they are the ones who are developing the technology that will eventually be used by the beast to give out the mark. They even appear to want the global elite to take over the world, because their power and wealth will only increase. They will gladly join the beast system and to be part of controlling the world with their technology.

End-Time Babylon in the Old Testament

So now we know that Mystery Babylon refers to America, but there are also references in the prophets of the Old Testament that must refer to an end-time Babylon because of the context and phrases such as “the Day of the Lord,” which places the prophesied events during the Wrath of God upon the world at the return of Christ. Some OT references also refer to original Babylon; in that case, the prophecy is what is called a dual prophecy, with a near-term fulfillment and another fulfillment far off in the distant future, which is usually at the end-time.

(1) Isaiah 13

Isaiah chapter 13 describes the destruction of Babylon, but the first half clearly refers to end-time Babylon, because the description refers specifically to “the Day of the Lord.” Even parts of the second half could also refer to end-time Babylon:

- 1 An oracle concerning Babylon that Isaiah son of Amoz saw:
- 2 Raise a banner on a bare hilltop, shout to them; beckon to them to enter the gates of the nobles.
- 3 I have commanded my holy ones; I have summoned my warriors to carry out my wrath— those who rejoice in my triumph.
- 4 Listen, a noise on the mountains, like that of a great multitude! Listen, an uproar among the kingdoms, like nations massing together! The LORD Almighty is mustering an army for war.
- 5 They come from faraway lands, from the ends of the heavens— the LORD and the weapons of his wrath— to destroy the whole country.

6 Wail, for the day of the LORD is near; it will come like destruction from the Almighty. 7 Because of this, all hands will go limp, every man's heart will melt.

8 Terror will seize them, pain and anguish will grip them; they will writhe like a woman in labor. They will look aghast at each other, their faces aflame.

9 See, the day of the LORD is coming —a cruel day, with wrath and fierce anger— to make the land desolate and destroy the sinners within it.

It states armies will come from the ends of the earth to attack Babylon and destroy the land, which means to destroy the cities of BTG. God sends those armies to “destroy the sinners within it” (v.9). When the original Babylon was conquered by the Media-Persian Empire, those armies did not have to travel far, because Persia (Iran) was right next door!

Isaiah also says the end-time Babylon is destroyed by fire, which the original Babylon was not: “They will look aghast at each other, their faces aflame” (v.8). When the nuclear fireballs appear in the sky, people will look at each other in shock, horror, and disbelief.

The next verse was likely quoted by Jesus in Matthew 24 and refers to the 7th Bowl of Wrath, when natural disasters come upon the world in full strength:

10 The stars of heaven and their constellations will not show their light. The rising sun will be darkened and the moon will not give its light.

11 I will punish the world for its evil, the wicked for their sins. I will put an end to the arrogance of the haughty and will humble the pride of the ruthless.

12 I will make man scarcer than pure gold, more rare than the gold of Ophir.

Take special notice of that last verse; the Wrath of God upon the world will kill billions, leaving the world with a much smaller population. Jesus said if those days were not cut short, no one would be left alive (Matt. 24:22).

The later part Isaiah 13 may also refer to America:

19 Babylon, the jewel of kingdoms, the glory of the Babylonians' pride, will be overthrown by God like Sodom and Gomorrah.

Who was the “jewel” nation of the 20th century? The nation that was the first choice for most immigrants? America. Notice the words, “will be overthrown by God like Sodom and Gomorrah.” How were those cities destroyed? By fire raining down from the sky. Ancient Babylon was not destroyed by fire, and certainly not by fire from the sky, so this refers to end-time Babylon. And it shows that BTG, America, will be burned by nuclear missiles, then my meteors and asteroids.

How was ancient Babylon destroyed? It was not destroyed; it was merely conquered by Cyrus the Mede by diverting the water channel that went under the wall of the city while the people were having a party. The army then went under the wall to take the city without destroying it, so it continued to exist for hundreds of years.

It remained a great city until the death of Alexander the Great. The fighting among his generals for control of the empire resulted in many people fleeing from Babylon, which caused it to suffer a decline. Though it revived for a time, it did not regain its greatness, but continued to exist during the Apostolic age.

So, the evidence reveals that the original city of Babylon was never destroyed by fire, as stated in Isaiah and Jeremiah; therefore, those passages must refer to end-time Babylon.

(2) Jeremiah 50

1 This is the word the LORD spoke through Jeremiah the prophet concerning Babylon and the land of the Babylonians:

2 “Announce and proclaim among the nations, lift up a banner and proclaim it; keep nothing back, but say, ‘Babylon will be captured; Bel will be put to shame, Marduk filled with terror. Her images will be put to shame and her idols filled with terror.’

3 A nation from the north will attack her and lay waste her land. No one will live in it; both men and animals will flee away.

4 “In those days, at that time,” declares the LORD, “the people of Israel and the people of Judah together will go in tears to seek the LORD their God.

5 They will ask the way to Zion and turn their faces toward it. They will come and bind themselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that will not be forgotten.

The last two verses above tell us that the Jews will convert to Christianity near the time when end-time Babylon is destroyed, which agrees with what I present in BK2. The “everlasting covenant” is the New Covenant. In this passage, to seek the Lord and to ask the way to Zion means they are seeking the truth about God and his Son; it does not mean that they plan to travel to Israel.

Jeremiah continues:

6 “My people have been lost sheep; their shepherds have led them astray and caused them to roam on the mountains. They wandered over mountain and hill and forgot their own resting place.

7 Whoever found them devoured them; their enemies said, ‘We are not guilty, for they sinned against the LORD, their true pasture, the LORD, the hope of their fathers.’

The above two verses speak of Christian shepherds who have led astray many Christians in Europe and America. Books have been written decrying the fallen state of Christianity today. Many people who come to destroy America will believe they are doing so because we are a sinful nation that has sinned against God, and they will be right, even though they too will face the judgment of God for their acts of terrorism or war.

8 “Flee out of Babylon; leave the land of the Babylonians, and be like the goats that lead the flock.

9 For I will stir up and bring against Babylon an alliance of great nations from the land of the north. They will take up their positions against her, and from the north she will be captured. Their arrows will be like skilled warriors who do not return empty-handed.

10 So Babylonia will be plundered; all who plunder her will have their fill,” declares the LORD.

11 “Because you rejoice and are glad, you who pillage my inheritance, because you frolic like a heifer threshing grain and neigh like stallions,

12 your mother will be greatly ashamed; she who gave you birth will be disgraced. She will be the least of the nations- a wilderness, a dry land, a desert.

13 Because of the LORD’s anger she will not be inhabited but will be completely desolate. All who pass Babylon will be horrified and scoff because of all her wounds.

14 “Take up your positions around Babylon, all you who draw the bow. Shoot at her! Spare no arrows, for she has sinned against the LORD.

What exactly did original Babylon do that was a horrible sin against God, which would cause God to send great armies to destroy it? It did invade Israel and enslave the people (Jer. 21:10; 25:9, 12); however, God wanted that to happen because of Israel's sins. In like manner, the USA was founded by Christians for the glory of God, and the Gospel has gone out to the world from these shores. But America has also sinned against God by turning its back on Him and Christianity in general, while turning to many other false religions and atheism.

It says, "All who pass Babylon will be horrified and scoff because of all her wounds." People will likely scoff because we were once great; "Look at you now! You are not such a big dog now!" Or, "You got what you deserve!" Jeremiah continues:

15 Shout against her on every side! She surrenders, her towers fall, her walls are torn down. Since this is the vengeance of the LORD, take vengeance on her; do to her as she has done to others.

16 Cut off from Babylon the sower, and the reaper with his sickle at harvest. Because of the sword of the oppressor let everyone return to his own people, let everyone flee to his own land. . . .

That last verse is very interesting. It says that many immigrants will live in Babylon, and that when the end approaches, they will leave and return to their home countries. In other words, they will flee from Babylon. Jeremiah continues:

21 "Attack the land of Merathaim and those who live in Pekod. Pursue, kill and completely destroy them," declares the LORD. "Do everything I have commanded you.

22 The noise of battle is in the land, the noise of great destruction! 23 How broken and shattered is the hammer of the whole earth! How desolate is Babylon among the nations!

Here Babylon is called "the hammer of the whole earth." Who is the nation that throws its weight around, forcing other nations to do what it wants? America, of course. Though China and Russia are growing in world influence and can be considered superpowers, they are latecomers. The USA was the only true superpower after the fall of the British Empire, until the 21st century.

Jeremiah continues:

24 I set a trap for you, O Babylon, and you were caught before you knew it; you were found and captured because you opposed the LORD.

Notice that America will fall victim to a trap of some kind. I will include a prophecy in another chapter, which will reveal what this trap could be (a prophecy by Mike Tucker).

Jeremiah continues:

25 The LORD has opened his arsenal and brought out the weapons of his wrath, for the Sovereign LORD Almighty has work to do in the land of the Babylonians.

26 Come against her from afar. Break open her granaries; pile her up like heaps of grain. Completely destroy her and leave her no remnant.

I can assure you that Saudi Arabia has few granaries; perhaps none! But America has many of them full of wheat, corn, soybeans, etc. Even during the famine of the Great Tribulation, we will still have more than the desert of Arabia.

30 Therefore, her young men will fall in the streets; all her soldiers will be silenced in that day," declares the LORD.

31 "See, I am against you, O arrogant one," declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty, "for your day has come, the time for you to be punished.

32 The arrogant one will stumble and fall and no one will help her up; I will kindle a fire in her towns that will consume all who are around her."

33 This is what the LORD Almighty says: "The people of Israel are oppressed, and the people of Judah as well. All their captors hold them fast, refusing to let them go. 34 Yet their Redeemer is strong; the LORD Almighty is his name. He will vigorously defend their cause so that he may bring rest to their land, but unrest to those who live in Babylon.

The above verses say that both the Israelites, from Israel, and the Jews, from Judea, will be oppressed during the period just before the destruction of end-time Babylon. The wording also suggests that Babylon will be the cause of it, though it is not stated directly. Ancient Babylon did not enslave both Israel and Judah, because Israel had already been taken away by the Assyrians. Babylon only enslaved the nation of Judah, comprised of the southern Hebrew tribes. So the people of Israel would refer to the descendants of the ten lost tribes of the northern kingdom. (I reveal where they are today in a later chapter.) Jeremiah 50 continues:

35 "A sword against the Babylonians!" declares the LORD- "against those who live in Babylon and against her officials and wise men!

36 A sword against her false prophets! They will become fools. A sword against her warriors! They will be filled with terror.

The false prophets in America are the preachers who say, “Don’t worry, Jesus died to make you happy and prosperous, so you are not going to suffer anything before the rapture.” They forget that the US has already had a major civil war, and many problems during its history, and another civil war will happen soon.

37 A sword against her horses and chariots and all the foreigners in her ranks! They will become women. A sword against her treasures! They will be plundered.

38 A drought on a her waters! They will dry up. For it is a land of idols, idols that will go mad with terror.

39 “So desert creatures and hyenas will live there, and there the owl will dwell. It will never again be inhabited or lived in from generation to generation.

40 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah along with their neighboring towns,” declares the LORD, “so no one will live there; no man will dwell in it.

Verse 37 tells us that foreigners living in America will become cowards and not fight. And again, it refers to America’s treasures being plundered. Next it tells us about the drought and famine that are coming upon America, as also seen in Rev. 18. And again, we are told that America will be destroyed like “Sodom and Gomorrah.” How can Saudi Arabia suffer famine because of drought? They don’t have waves of grain!

41 “Look! An army is coming from the north; a great nation and many kings are being stirred up from the ends of the earth.

42 They are armed with bows and spears; they are cruel and without mercy. They sound like the roaring sea as they ride on their horses; they come like men in battle formation to attack you, O Daughter of Babylon.

43 The king of Babylon has heard reports about them, and his hands hang limp. Anguish has gripped him, pain like that of a woman in labor.

44 Like a lion coming up from Jordan’s thickets to a rich pastureland, I will chase Babylon from its land in an instant. Who is the chosen one I will appoint for this? Who is like me and who can challenge me? And what shepherd can stand against me?”

45 Therefore, hear what the LORD has planned against Babylon, what he has purposed against the land of the Babylonians: The young of the flock will be dragged away; he will completely destroy their pasture because of them.

46 At the sound of Babylon's capture the earth will tremble; its cry will resound among the nations.

When the Medes and Persians defeated Babylon, the Babylonians were having a party, so it does not seem like the king was full of fear and anguish about an approaching army. Notice the phrase, the "Daughter of Babylon." Barnes Notes says, "It is common in the Scriptures to speak of cities under the image of a virgin, a daughter, or a beautiful woman."

Notice that last verse. When the USA is nuked and invaded, it will also suffer a huge earthquake that will split California off from the other states. The quake will be even larger than the coming New Madrid earthquake. We will learn about both in later chapters.

(3) Jeremiah 51

Prophecies about Mystery Babylon continue into Jeremiah 51:

This is what the LORD says: "See, I will stir up the spirit of a destroyer against Babylon and the people of Leb Kamai.

2 I will send foreigners to Babylon to winnow her and to devastate her land; they will oppose her on every side in the day of her disaster. . . .

Leb Kamai refers to the Medes and Persians; they attacked original Babylon, but later we will see verses that do not fit ancient Babylon at all:

5 For Israel and Judah have not been forsaken by their God, the LORD Almighty, though their land is full of guilt before the Holy One of Israel.

6 "Flee from Babylon! Run for your lives! Do not be destroyed because of her sins. It is time for the LORD's vengeance; he will pay her what she deserves. 7 Babylon was a gold cup in the LORD's hand; she made the whole earth drunk. The nations drank her wine; therefore they have now gone mad.

These verses contain wording similar to Rev. 17 & 18. Notice that Babylon is described as "a gold cup in the Lord's hand." About this statement here, the Pulpit Commentary says, "Babylon, as the instrument used by God for his judicial purposes ..." This predicts that at one time, end-time Babylon was greatly used of God; so America was used by God to spread the Gospel around the world and is still doing so, though it has become mostly a lukewarm gospel. Since when has Saudi Arabia or Mecca been a golden cup in God's hand? Nonsense. They have done nothing but spread Islam, which approves of slavery, rape, and murder.

How have the nations gone "mad"? They have become infected by the desire to become wealthy, like America. They want to have cars and TVs and everything else like Americans. They have also been polluted by the TV shows, movies, and music.

But when they see America destroyed, they will know that their jobs will now disappear, and their foreign aid will disappear, and their Christian charity aid will disappear, and they will be weeping for themselves as much as for America.

8 Babylon will suddenly fall and be broken. Wail over her! Get balm for her pain; perhaps she can be healed.

9 "We would have healed Babylon, but she cannot be healed; let us leave her and each go to his own land, for her judgment reaches to the skies, it rises as high as the clouds.'

It is too late for America; a revival will not keep it from destruction; it is too far gone. The final revival will only save a few tens of millions. But even if half the country repented, the other half will be the worst of the worst who literally hate God and any thought of morality; therefore, a large part of America will be destroyed.

The last verse above could refer to the collapse of skyscrapers, or perhaps to mushroom clouds created by nuclear explosions.

10 "The Lord has vindicated us; come, let us tell in Zion what the Lord our God has done.'

11 "Sharpen the arrows, take up the shields! The Lord has stirred up the kings of the Medes, because his purpose is to destroy Babylon. The Lord will take vengeance, vengeance for his temple.

Verse 10 likely refers to Christians around the world who have suffered because of the actions of the US government.

Verse 11 is another dual fulfillment passage, because the Medes and the Persians conquered original Babylon, and the modern inhabitants will be involved in the destruction of end-time Babylon, first through terrorist attacks, then by Iran's military taking part in the Antichrist's invasion. Jer. 51 continues:

. . . 13 You who live by many waters and are rich in treasures, your end has come, the time for you to be cut off. . . .

This is the same wording as in Revelation. Here again, we see modern Babylon lives by many waters, which has both a literal and symbolic meaning. Revelation gives the symbolic meaning, which is many peoples, nations, and languages.

And Mecca certainly does not live by many waters, as it is about 50 miles from the Red Sea and is surrounded by desert. Saudi Arabia has water on the west and only a short shoreline on the east because other nations are on the south, Oman and Yemen. But America has a vast coastline on the west, south, and east, and has the huge Great Lakes on the north.

24 “Before your eyes I will repay Babylon and all who live in Babylonia for all the wrong they have done in Zion,” declares the LORD. . . .

Notice that this verse references not just the city of Babylon, but also the entire region that Babylon ruled, which is called “Babylonia.” Therefore, end-time Babylon is more than just a city; it is also a country. It appears again in verse 35:

35 May the violence done to our flesh be upon Babylon,” say the inhabitants of Zion. “May our blood be on those who live in Babylonia,” says Jerusalem.

36 Therefore, this is what the LORD says: “See, I will defend your cause and avenge you; I will dry up her sea and make her springs dry. . . .

Notice the statement that “her sea” will dry up. Those who follow Shiebat’s view say that the Red Sea will dry up, which would require the entire global ocean level to drop about 1,500 feet, which is utter nonsense, because it is not an inland sea but is connected to the global oceans. That is an astounding volume of water. This could happen, in theory, at the end of the Wrath of God, but how could it also be covered with water, as here?

41 “How Sheshach will be captured, the boast of the whole earth seized! What a horror Babylon will be among the nations! 42 The sea will rise over Babylon; its roaring waves will cover her.

43 Her towns will be desolate, a dry and desert land, a land where no one lives, through which no man travels.

How can the Red Sea be dried up, and yet the sea cover Saudi Arabia or even Mecca? No, it cannot happen. But America does have the Great Lakes that are as large as seas, so one or more of them could dry up to fulfill this prophecy while still allowing for cities on the coast to be covered by water by tsunamis. We will see more proof of this shortly.

And when was ancient Babylon “a horror” to the other nations? As shown already, ancient Babylon was not destroyed, but only taken over. But when America is nuked, it will become a horror, and the nations will cry, “Woe! Woe! O great city.”

44 I will punish Bel in Babylon and make him spew out what he has swallowed. The nations will no longer stream to him. And the wall of Babylon will fall. . . .

This passage tells us that God will specifically target the sin that is in America, which is why Las Vegas and Hollywood will be destroyed, not simply by earthquake, but by massive balls of fire that will turn them into hell on Earth. Radiation sickness causes a person to vomit or “spew.” Notice that the nations currently “stream” to Babylon, which is true of America but not true of Saudi Arabia! Two thousand years ago, all roads led to Rome, but in our world today, it can be said that all roads lead to America. But sadly, our fall has already begun, as we will see in other chapters.

45 “Come out of her, my people! Run for your lives! Run from the fierce anger of the LORD.

46 Do not lose heart or be afraid when rumors are heard in the land; one rumor comes this year, another the next, rumors of violence in the land and of ruler against ruler. . . .

How can God’s people come out of Saudi Arabia? There are only a handful of Christians. And Saudi law stipulates that no Christians are allowed in Mecca, none! The last verse above tells us that there will be a civil war in America. Jeremiah continues:

48 Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will shout for joy over Babylon, for out of the north destroyers will attack her,” declares the LORD.

49 “Babylon must fall because of Israel’s slain, just as the slain in all the earth have fallen because of Babylon. . . .

The order of these verses is important; first there will be “violence in the land” (v46) which has already started with the riots, looting, and mobs burning down buildings and tearing down statues; then “ruler against ruler,” which is civil war. Then America will be invaded, “out of the north destroyers will attack her.”

Here again, it matches Revelation, telling us that Babylon is responsible for everyone who has ever been killed. How could this be Saudi Arabia, or Mecca, or even Islam? Jeremiah continues:

53 Even if Babylon reaches the sky and fortifies her lofty stronghold, I will send destroyers against her,” declares the LORD.

54 “The sound of a cry comes from Babylon, the sound of great destruction from the land of the Babylonians. . . .

Verse 53 is amazingly accurate. How many countries in the world have reached the sky? As of 2022, only 12 nations had satellites in orbit, including only one Muslim nation, Iran. But that number increased to 88 by March of 2025. So just reaching the sky is not spoken of in this prophecy, but it must mean something greater than satellites.

The space station was conceived and mostly built by America. We only invited other nations to be part of it as a gesture of goodwill, but it is our space station. And verse 54 speaks of “great destruction.” Really? You could destroy every city in Saudi Arabia with only a few nuclear bombs; it only has 29 million people, about the same number in the states of New York and New Jersey.

58 This is what the LORD Almighty says: “Babylon’s thick wall will be leveled and her high gates set on fire; the peoples exhaust themselves for nothing, the nations’ labor is only fuel for the flames.” . . .

Americans are among the hardest working people in the world, and the reason they work so hard is so they can buy more and more stuff. But everything they have worked so hard for will be burned in the flames of God’s judgment. In contrast, very few Saudis work at all. With their oil wealth, they have imported many foreign workers to do all the jobs that are actually work. Estimates put the number of foreign workers as high as 40% of the entire population! They don’t invent anything, they don’t manufacture anything, all they do is pump oil, which they sell to North America, Asia, and Europe because we actually use machinery that requires oil.

60 Jeremiah had written on a scroll about all the disasters that would come upon Babylon— all that had been recorded concerning Babylon.

61 He said to Seraiah, "When you get to Babylon, see that you read all these words aloud. 62 Then say, 'O LORD, you have said you will destroy this place, so that neither man nor animal will live in it; it will be desolate forever.'

63 When you finish reading this scroll, tie a stone to it and throw it into the Euphrates. 64 Then say, 'So will Babylon sink to rise no more because of the disaster I will bring upon her. And her people will fall.'" The words of Jeremiah end here.

Here we get a very clear picture of literal water, not an army; just as the stone sunk into the water, so will Babylon sink into the water. Mecca is about 50 miles from the Red Sea, and more than 900 feet above sea level, so how could it be covered with water? Especially if the Red Sea were to dry up, as Shoebat expects to happen! But the entire East Coast, from Maine to Florida will be covered by a huge tsunami.

(4) Other Passages

The good parts of America will survive the destruction to become more than one nation, but it is not likely to ever again be a global power, because of what is written in Isaiah 47:

1 "Go down, sit in the dust, Virgin Daughter Babylon; sit on the ground without a throne, queen city of the Babylonians. . . . 3 Your nakedness will be exposed and your shame uncovered. . . . 5 "Sit in silence, go into darkness, queen city of the Babylonians; no more will you be called queen of kingdoms. . . . 7

You said, 'I am forever— the eternal queen!' But you did not consider these things or reflect on what might happen. 8 "Now then, listen, you lover of pleasure, lounging in your security and saying to yourself, 'I am, and there is none besides me. I will never be a widow or suffer the loss of children.' 9 Both of these will overtake you in a moment, on a single day: loss of children and widowhood. . . . Your wisdom and knowledge mislead you when you say to yourself, 'I am, and there is none besides me.'

11 Disaster will come upon you, and you will not know how to conjure it away. A calamity will fall upon you that you cannot ward off with a ransom; a catastrophe you cannot foresee will suddenly come upon you. . . . Let your astrologers come forward, those stargazers who make predictions month by month, let them save you from what is coming upon you.

14 Surely they are like stubble; the fire will burn them up. They cannot even save themselves from the power of the flame. . . . (Isaiah 47)

Notice how similar Isaiah 47 sounds to Revelation 17 and 18, and how it fits the United States: the pride, the pleasure-seeking, and the destruction by fire. But in point of fact, BTG is NOT all of America; it is only the wicked and evil part. Time will tell how much gets destroyed, but the entire country will suffer from the coming civil war and natural disasters, and then the nuclear war and invasion.

Notice also that this end-time Babylon is called “queen of kingdoms.” Which country in the world today can be called that? Saudi Arabia? Not a chance! It was America during the 20th century and is still the most powerful at this writing, because the most destructive events have not happened, yet.

Finally, in Obadiah there is a passage that likely refers to the space station:

“Though you soar like the eagle and make your nest among the stars, from there I will bring you down,” declares the Lord. (v.4)

The eagle is our national bird, and to make a nest means to make a home there, not just fly there. This suggests that USA will have a great fall while the space station is in the sky.

Chapter 5

The Statue of Liberty Prophecy

(1) The Woman in A Basket

There is a prophecy in the book of Zechariah that no one is even attempting to interpret. The prophet had a vision of a woman placed in a basket with a thin metal cover. I had previously tried to understand this vision without success; then one day I was watching a documentary that showed how the most famous woman in the world was constructed, the Statue of Liberty, and saw important pieces of the vision explained.

Let's examine the prophecy in detail to see what it shows:

5 Then the angel who was speaking to me came forward and said to me, "Look up and see what is appearing."

6 I asked, "What is it?" He replied, "It is a basket." And he added, "This is the iniquity [literally, appearance] of the people throughout the land."

7 Then the cover of lead was raised, and there in the basket sat a woman! 8 He said, "This is wickedness," and he pushed her back into the basket and pushed its lead cover down on it.

9 Then I looked up—and there before me were two women, with the wind in their wings! They had wings like those of a stork, and they lifted up the basket between heaven and earth.

10 "Where are they taking the basket?" I asked the angel who was speaking to me.

11 He replied, "To the country of Babylonia [literally, Shinar, a plain of Babylon] to build a house for it. When the house is ready, the basket will be set there in its place." (Zechariah 5:5-11)

Ok, we know that a woman cannot fit into a basket that is only a few gallons or liters in size. Therefore, we know this is symbolism. What we have here is:

- * Two women with wings
- * A woven basket
- * A thin metal covering
- * A woman
- * Lifted up between heaven and earth (v.9)
- * This woman is set in place, literally set on a base; some translations actually say pedestal (HCSB, NASB)

The two women that lift and carry the basket represent the two nations that took part in the construction of the statue and its base, France and America. The statue was paid for and built in France, but the pedestal was paid for and built in the United States.

The metal lid represents the thin metal covering that makes up the outer body of the statue: 310 sheets of copper molded into the shape of a woman. Even the type of metal is significant; the lid is said to be made of lead, which is a soft metal. The metal of the statue, copper, is also a soft metal, though not as soft as lead, yet much softer than iron.

The question has been asked, then why did it not say, copper? For the same reason it did not say “I saw a great statue.” Dreams and visions do not give direct information, but 99% indirect information, which requires interpretation.

Notice that the woman in a basket is to be lifted up “between heaven and earth.” Lady Liberty is 151 feet tall, on a pedestal that is 89 feet tall, and built on a larger earthen foundation that is 65 feet tall. This makes the tip of her torch 305 feet in the air, taller than any structure in the Western Hemisphere at its construction, and probably the world.

In the final construction as it now stands, there is metal weaving inside the statue, similar to basket weaving. (See photo below; there is also a video on my YT channel, MichaelDFortner.)

But, you may say that is not exactly like a basket because you cannot pick it up and carry it around. It is not meant to be the size of a basket, because a woman cannot fit into such a basket. It is not exactly like a basket because the weave is loose, but when interpreting symbolism, it does not have to be exact, just close. The last part of the passage even describes the pedestal of the statue, and the

ESV is more literal on these verses:

Then I said to the angel who talked with me, “Where are they taking the basket?” 11 He said to me, “To the land of Shinar, to build a house for it. And when this is prepared, they will set the basket down there on its base.” (5:10-11) (ESV)

The Modern English Version (MEV) says, “the basket will be set there on a pedestal.” I was surprised to find the following statement in the notes of The New Oxford Annotated Bible, “On its base, as though the ephah [basket] were an image.” Yes, it is an image, a colossal statue.

Metal bands that form a loose weave all through the statue on the inside of the copper sheets. These bands hold the copper sheets together, and hold them to another metal framework, that looks like a spinal column.

This passage says that the woman in a basket is taken to the land of Shinar, “to build a house for it.” This means it is taken to the land of Shinar before the house is built. And that “when this is prepared,” then it will be placed on the base. And this is exactly what happened.

Lady Liberty arrived in June of 1885, but the base was not constructed because the funds had not been raised. When the funds were finally raised, the base was built and finished in April of 1886, then the body of the Lady was assembled on the base.

Notice that a house is built for it, but then the wording changes to base or pedestal; “to build a house for it. And when this is prepared, they will set the basket down there on its base.” The concrete foundation covered with earth contains many rooms that once housed the Statue of Liberty Museum; this is the house. Above the house is the pedestal, so Lady Liberty sits on the base and the house. An astonishing prophecy!

Not all translations read the same as the ESV above, so I consulted many different translations. The most literal translations, including the KJV, refer to a house and then a base.

However, what about the two statements about the woman in a basket being wickedness? Some translations say iniquity. The original Hebrew is difficult to correctly translate. Here are a few other translations of 5:6:

And he said, This is their form in all the earth. LIT

This is their eye in all the land — JPS

This is their aspect in all the land. Young's Literal Trans.

The KJV says, “This is their resemblance.” The Geneva says, “This is the sight of them through all the earth.” The CEV says, “And it shows what everyone in the land has in mind.”

The Hebrew is (5869) (עַיִן) (ayin); the BDB dictionary says:

- 1) eye 1a) eye
 - 1a1) of physical eye
 - 1a2) as showing mental qualities
 - 1a3) of mental and spiritual faculties (figuratively)
- 2) spring, fountain

Strong’s dictionary says:

Probably a primitive word; an eye (literally or figuratively); by analogy a fountain (as the eye of the landscape): - affliction, outward appearance, + before, + think best, colour, conceit, + be content, countenance, + displease, eye . . .

Gill’s Bible commentary says, “‘this is their eye’ - what they are looking at, and intent upon. . .” However, K&D says, “does not mean the eye, but adspectus [aspect], appearance, or shape.”

Since this is a vision, which is like a dream, it is hard to know how that word should be translated. However, based on the above information, and knowing what the woman in a basket represents, we can more easily ascertain the meaning of the word.

So, it is telling us that the woman represents what is in the mind and thoughts of the people of America, our point of view. What does the Lady represent to us? In one word, Liberty, which is clearly the word that best describes America and all those who come here seeking freedom. It is also the name of the statue.

The final information to note is that the angel made a point of telling Zechariah that the basket was being taken to Shinar, which was a plain in Babylonia. Since the statue was taken to the USA, it is absolute proof that America is the Bible’s end-time Mystery Babylon.

Lastly, the prophecy proves that the doctrine of the imminent return of Christ is totally false (see BK2) because the end could never arrive before this prophecy was fulfilled; that is, before the Statue of Liberty was constructed.

(2) The Future Destruction of the Statue of Liberty

A poem mounted inside the base of Lady Liberty, written by Emma Lazarus, is titled, "The New Colossus." The original Colossus of Rhodes was a similar large statue in the Greek harbor of Rhodes. It stood 110 feet tall for 56 years, then it was felled by an earthquake in 226 BC. Even so, people continued to travel long distances for centuries to see the fallen Colossus.

About 1500 years ago, before the end of the 5th century, Rabbi Pinhas lived in the village of Baram in upper Galilee. He was known as a holy man; his wife, Rachel, was also devoted to God, but the couple was childless. After much fasting and prayer, she gave birth to a boy named Nahman. With a crowd of people gathered around the infant, he began speaking, or so the story goes.

The boy reportedly spoke about heaven, the 2nd heaven, the 3rd heaven; all the way through the 7th heaven, and spoke about the Throne. And when he began to speak about God, his father told him to be quiet; he did not feel that those present were worthy to hear the secrets of heaven. After twelve years of not speaking, the boy's mother asked the rabbi to allow the boy to speak. He agreed, as long as he did not speak clearly about the secret things.

The boy then proceeded to give forth five prophecies in a mixture of Hebrew, Aramaic, Arabic, and possibly some Greek, making it very hard to know what they say or what they mean. When he finished, he told his parents that he would soon die. His grave is known to this day under the name Rabbi Nahman "Katofa."

The prophecies, which are called "The Child's Prophecy," were written down and published several times in books over the centuries, such as "Naggid uMetzave" in the 20th century, and included in "Otzar HaMidrashim." The prophecies have always been thought of as genuine. About 500 years ago, a commentary was written about the prophecies by Rabbi Avraham Ben Eliezer HaLevi that was recently republished.

As a result of this newly republished commentary, an American Hassidic Jew named R'Yaakov Nathan studied the prophecies. He discovered a way to translate and understand them. From the 4th prophecy, we have these interesting lines:

When the idol of Rhodes will be destroyed,
Know that the end of the Wicked Kingdom is near.

Since the original Colossus fell more than 700 years before this prophecy was given, it cannot refer to the original Colossus but to The New Colossus, the Statue of Liberty.

In all probability, the Statue of Liberty will be destroyed when the huge tsunami of the 2nd Trumpet hits the east coast of the US, which is shortly before the beast rises. The “wicked kingdom,” therefore, likely refers to Babylon the Great. It cannot refer to the beast of Revelation because the beast will not come out of the Abyss until the 5th Trumpet (see BK2). However, it is very possible that it is destroyed even before that tsunami, by a terrorist bomb!

Now that I have established that Babylon the Great is the USA, what about the belief that the USA was founded as a Christian nation? How can both be true?

I have also shown that BTG refers only to the wicked part of the USA, NOT ALL of it. In the next few chapters I will document that we were indeed founded as a Christian nation.

Chapter 6

The USA's de facto Covenant With God

(1) Early American Documents

Many books have been written over the centuries proving that America was founded by God-fearing people, on godly principles, as a Christian nation; yet, numerous people still refuse to accept or believe it. Even some Christians refuse to believe it. I could provide many details about how the first pilgrims dedicated the New World to God and for his purposes, but still, people will not believe. A wise man once said that no amount of evidence will convince those who do not want to believe the truth. Therefore, I will not add another book or chapter presenting the same historical truths that are well known, but will take a little different angle.

For those who are interested in reading the historical evidence, I recommend The Light and the Glory, by Peter Marshall & David Manuel. It even has a quote from Christopher Columbus that says he was not following a map, but inspiration from God (p. 17).

In my research, I found absolute proof that America was founded by God and as a Christian nation, a literal smoking gun, which is a de facto covenant with God (“de facto” means being in effect though not formally recognized).

Several decades before the Revolutionary War, the First Great Awakening resulted in the construction of many thousands of churches. Therefore, the population of the colonies at the time of the revolution was mostly Christian.

During the course of the Revolutionary War, the Continental Congress called upon the whole nation to engage in prayer to God: to repent of our sins, to ask God for victory in battle, and to thank him when we had victory in battle; and to pray for God to establish this nation where we could live in freedom and spread the Gospel. This is in the historical record more than once!

During the Revolutionary War, on November 1, 1777, the Continental Congress's first order of business was to elect a president of the Congress. The second order of business was to declare a Day of Thanksgiving to God for victory in the Battle of Saratoga (the spelling of some words has been updated):

Forasmuch as it is the indispensable duty of all men to adore the superintending providence of Almighty God; to acknowledge with gratitude their obligation to him for benefits received, and to implore such farther blessings as they stand in need of; and it having pleased him in his abundant mercy not only to continue to us the innumerable bounties of his common providence, but also to smile upon us in the prosecution of a just and necessary war, for the defense and establishment of our unalienable rights and liberties; particularly in that he hath been pleased in so great a measure to prosper the means used for the support of our troops and to crown our arms with most signal success:

It is therefore recommended to the legislative or executive powers of these United States, to set apart Thursday, the eighteenth day of December next, for solemn thanksgiving and praise; that with one heart and one voice the good people may express the grateful feelings of their hearts, and consecrate themselves to the service of their divine benefactor; and that together with their sincere acknowledgments and offerings, they may join the penitent confession of their manifold sins, whereby they had forfeited every favor, and their humble and earnest supplication that it may please God, through the merits of Jesus Christ, mercifully to forgive and blot them out of remembrance; that it may please him graciously to afford his blessing on the governments of these states respectively, and prosper the public council of the whole; to inspire our commanders both by land and sea, and all under them, with that wisdom and fortitude which may render them fit instruments, under the providence of Almighty God, to secure for these United States the greatest of all human blessings, independence and peace; that it may please him to prosper the trade and manufactures of the people and the labor of the husbandman, that our land may yet yield its increase; to take schools and seminaries of education, so necessary for cultivating the principles of true liberty, virtue and piety, under his nurturing hand, and to prosper the means of religion for the promotion and enlargement of that kingdom which consists "in righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost."

And it is further recommended, that servile labor, and such recreation as, though at other times innocent, may be unbecoming the purpose of this appointment, be omitted on so solemn an occasion. (Journals of the Continental Congress 1774-1789 Volume IX. 1777. Gov. Printing Office, 1907, p. 854-855.)

Another day of thanksgiving to God was declared for Dec. 09, 1779, after John Paul Jones captured the HMS Serapis. At that time, Thomas Jefferson was governor of Virginia, and he relayed the request for a day of thanksgiving to his state (in this quote, the spelling has not been updated):

Proclamation Appointing a Day of Publick and Solemn Thanksgiving and Prayer

Whereas the Honourable the General Congress, impressed with a grateful sense of the goodness of Almighty God, in blessing the greater part of this extensive continent with plentiful harvests, crowning our arms with repeated successes, conducting us hitherto safely through the perils with which we have been encompassed and manifesting in multiplied instances his divine care of these infant states, hath thought proper by their act of the 20th day of October last, to recommend to the several states that Thursday the 9th of December next be appointed a day of publick and solemn thanksgiving and prayer, which act is in these words, to wit.

“Whereas it becomes us humbly to approach the throne of Almighty God, with gratitude and praise, for the wonders which his goodness has wrought in conducting our forefathers to this western world; for his protection to them and to their posterity, amidst difficulties and dangers; . . . and spreading plenty through the land; that he hath prospered our arms and those of our ally, been a shield to our troops in the hour of danger, pointed their swords to victory, and led them in triumph over the bulwarks of the foe; that he hath gone with those who went out into the wilderness against the savage tribes; that he hath stayed the hand of the spoiler, and turned back his meditated destruction; that he hath prospered our commerce, and given success to those who sought the enemy on the face of the deep; and above all, that he hath diffused the glorious light of the gospel, whereby, through the merits of our gracious Redeemer, we may become the heirs of his eternal glory.

Therefore, Resolved, that it be recommended to the several states to appoint THURSDAY the 9th of December next, to be a day of publick and solemn THANKSGIVING to Almighty God, for his mercies, and of PRAYER, for the continuance of his favour and protection to these United States; to beseech him that he would be graciously pleased to influence our publick Councils, and bless them with wisdom from on high, with unanimity, firmness and success; that he would go forth with our hosts and crown our arms with victory; that he would grant to his church, the plentiful effusions of divine grace, and pour out his holy spirit on all Ministers of the gospel; that he would bless and prosper the means of education, and spread the light of christian knowledge through the remotest corners of the earth; that he would smile upon the labours of his people, and cause the earth to bring forth her fruits in abundance .

That he would in mercy look down upon us, pardon all our sins, and receive us into his favour; and finally, that he would establish the independence of these United States upon the basis of religion and virtue, and support and protect them in the enjoyment of peace, liberty and safety."

I do therefore by authority from the General Assembly issue this my proclamation, hereby appointing Thursday the 9th day of December next, a day of publick and solemn thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God, earnestly recommending to all the good people of this commonwealth, to set apart the said day for those purposes, and to the several Ministers of religion to meet their respective societies thereon, to assist them in their prayers, edify them with their discourses, and generally to perform the sacred duties of their function, proper for the occasion.

Given under my hand and the seal of the commonwealth, at Williamsburg, this 11th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1779, and in the fourth of the commonwealth. (Doubting Thomas: The Religious Life and Legacy of Thomas Jefferson, by Mark A. Beliles and Jerry Newcombe, page 403-404.)

There you have it. The smoking gun that proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that the United States was founded as a Christian nation. It says, right there in direct language, that the Congress of the United States implores Almighty God to "establish" the US "upon the basis of religion and virtue" and to continue to "support and protect" the states in the future. And God did so; therefore, this amounts to a de facto covenant. When the government and the people ask God to establish the nation as a Christian nation, it does not have to be encoded in the Constitution for it to be so.

Another day of thanksgiving was proclaimed after Benedict Arnold's plot to betray West Point was exposed. Then on October 19, 1781, the British General Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown, bringing an end to the Revolutionary War. After the peace treaty was signed, another Thanksgiving Day to God was declared:

Proclamation by the Continental Congress concerning a day of thanksgiving . . . October 18, 1783 . . . BY THE UNITED STATES IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED. A Proclamation.

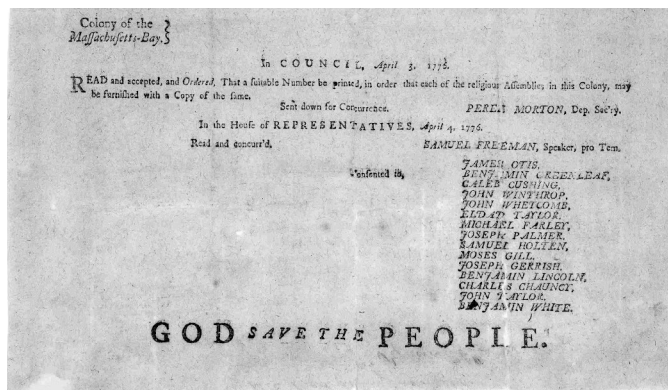

Whereas, it hath pleased the Supreme Ruler of all human events to dispose the hearts of the late belligerent powers to put a stop to the effusion of human blood by proclaiming a cessation of all hostilities by Sea and . . . the interposition of divine providence in our favor hath been most abundantly and most graciously manifested and the Citizens of these United States have every reason for praise and Gratitude to the God of their Salvation.

Impressed therefore with an exalted sense of the blessings by which we are surrounded and of our entire dependence on that Almighty Being from whose goodness and bounty they are derived, The United States in Congress assembled do recommend it to the several States to set apart the second Thursday in December next as a Day of public Thanksgiving that all the people may then assemble to celebrate with grateful hearts, and united voices, the praises of their Supreme and all bountiful Benefactor for his numberless favors and mercies, . . . and above all that He hath been pleased to continue to us the light of the blessed Gospel and secured to us in the fullest extent the rights of Conscience in faith and worship. . . . that we also offer up fervent supplications that it may please Him to pardon all our offences, . . . to smile upon our Seminaries and means of education, to cause pure religion and virtue to flourish, to give Peace to all Nations, and to fill the World with his Glory. (<http://docsouth.unc.edu/csr/index.html/document/csr16-0638>)

You can see from these proclamations that the first Americans were humble and contrite Christians who sought the intervention and guidance of God in all their affairs, including those of the government.

Take a look at the bottom of one Thanksgiving Day Proclamation dated March 16, 1776. Notice that this official government document says, “God Save the People.”

Another Thanksgiving Day was held in 1784, because of the final ratification of the treaty, signed on May 12, 1784:

Whereas it hath pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe, of his infinite goodness and mercy, so to calm the minds and do away the resentments of the powers lately engaged in a most bloody and destructive war . . . interposition of Divine Providence hath, on many occasions, been most miraculously and abundantly manifested; and the citizens of the United States have the greatest reason to return their most hearty and sincere praises and thanksgiving to the God of their deliverance; whose name be praised: . . . to set apart Tuesday, the 19th day of October next, as a day of public prayer and thanksgiving, that all the people of the United States may then assemble in their respective churches and congregations, to celebrate with grateful hearts, and joyful and united voices, the mercies and praises of their all-bountiful Creator, most holy, and most righteous! . . . more especially that he hath been graciously pleased so to conduct us through the perils and dangers of the war, as finally to establish the United States in freedom and independence, and to give them a name and place among the princes and nations of the earth; . . . that there is no famine or want seen throughout our land: And above all, that he hath been pleased to continue to us the light of gospel truths, and secured to us, in the fullest manner, the rights of conscience in faith and worship. . . . that it may please him of his infinite goodness and mercy, to pardon all our sins and offenses; to inspire with wisdom and a true sense of public good, all our public councils; to strengthen and cement the bonds of love and affection between all our citizens . . . (B. F. Morris, Christian Life and Character of the Civil Institutions of the United States, Developed in the Official and Historical Annals of the Republic. Philadelphia: George W. Childs, 1864, pages 542-543.)

Notice that the people are called on to assemble in their churches and that God is once again credited with founding the nation. These days of thanksgiving to God were religious meetings and had nothing to do with remembering the pilgrims or eating turkey. This is the real and true foundation of our annual Thanksgiving Day. Another was held in 1789:

Issued by President George Washington, at the request of Congress, on October 3, 1789 . . .

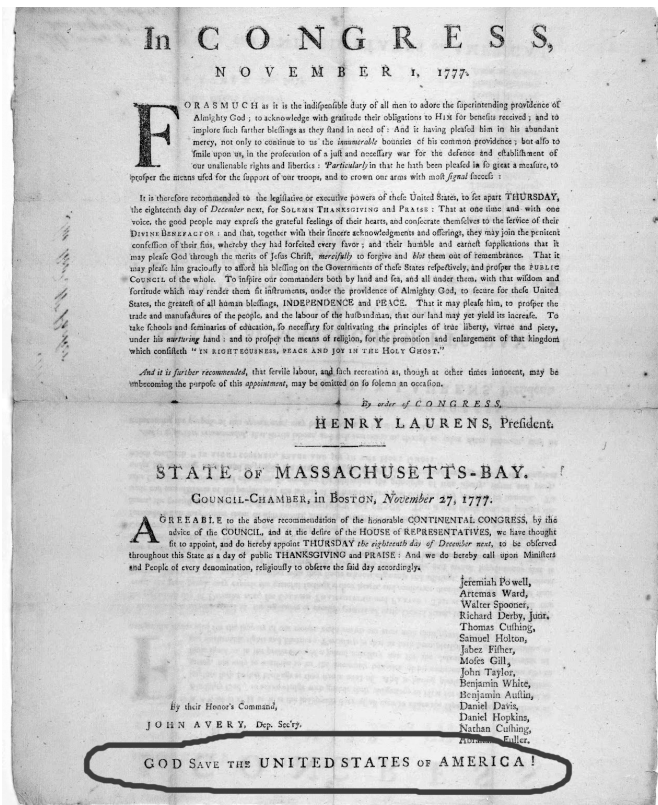

Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; . . . with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, . . .

Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country . . . offering our prayers and supplications to the great Lord and Ruler of Nations, and beseech Him to pardon our national and other transgressions . . . (www.heritage.org/initiatives/first-principles/primary-sources/washingtons-thanks-giving-proclamation)

Does this information sound like the Founding Fathers were deists? No! The Declaration of Independence clearly states that they are relying upon the protection of God. It ends with these words: "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor."

This image, and previous image, courtesy of Historic.us & www.thanksgivingproclamation.com/

Deism believes that God created the world and then left it alone; therefore, he does not intervene in the affairs of men and does not answer prayer. Benjamin Franklin was a deist early in his life, but later in life he asked that God bless America, which a deist would not say; and likely Thomas Jefferson was, at least to a point, but the majority of them absolutely were not.

Clearly, the claim that the Founding Fathers were deists is a lie. It should be illegal to teach lies about American history in any school, public or private, but it is not! So they are teaching lies!

There were several more days of Thanksgiving to God, such as the War of 1812, and finally, Lincoln declared it an annual event:

The year . . . has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come. . . the ever watchful providence of Almighty God. In the midst of a civil war of unequalled magnitude and severity, which has sometimes seemed to foreign States to invite and to provoke their aggression, peace has been preserved with all nations, order has been maintained, the laws have been respected and obeyed, and harmony has prevailed everywhere except in the theatre of military conflict . . .

No human counsel hath devised nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy . . . acknowledged as with one heart and voice by the whole American people. I do therefore invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States, and also those who are at sea and those who are sojourning in foreign lands, to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving and Praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens. And . . . fervently implore the interposition of the Almighty Hand to heal the wounds of the nation and to restore it as soon as may be consistent with the Divine purposes. . . (<http://AbrahamLincoln.org/lincoln/news/words.htm>)

Thanksgiving Day has been twisted into a day to remember the Pilgrims' feast with the Indians, which is A LIE by the lying liars in the public schools and colleges.

FOOTNOTE: Here is the truth about the first Thanksgiving: The history books will tell you that the first Thanksgiving was in 1621 and was a feast with the Indians, but that was just a harvest feast, it was not an actual Thanksgiving Day which was a Day where people gathered to offer prayers of Thanks to God for a particular reason, as seen above.

The first record of such a day was in 1623. The Massachusetts Colony was very short of food, having to scrounge for acorns, clams, and such, which were gotten with difficulty in winter-time. They sent Mr. Pearce to Ireland to bring provisions and were very afraid that he had been taken by pirates. So they proclaimed a day of fasting and prayer to God, but before that day arrived, Mr. Pearce arrived with provisions, so; “Upon which occasion the day of Fast was changed, and ordered to be kept as a day of Thanksgiving; which provisions were by the Governor distributed unto the people, proportionable to their necessities.” (Young’s Chronicles of Massachusetts, p. 385, quoted in Proclamations for Thanksgiving, Issued by the Continental Congress, . . . 1858. Franklin Benjamin Hough, p. vi.)

You can see that our Thanksgiving Day has been changed into a mere harvest feast. The day that Lincoln proclaimed was a day of Thanksgiving to God, not a harvest feast day. I suspect that this lie was invented by the Democrats, because EVERY SINGLE THANKSGIVING after the Civil War was basically remembering the DEFEAT of the southern rebels! They hated this, so the day was surreptitiously changed!

What about the clause in the Constitution that says “Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion . . .”? Since it is very clear that the Founders were real Christians who called upon God and asked God to establish them as a free nation, it means that they did not want the federal government to have a specific denomination that it promoted. Several of the states actually did have established denominations. They were very aware of history and did not want religious conflict that comes when the government pushes one denomination above another.

The Protestants in England suffered greatly when it had a Catholic ruler, and the Catholics suffered under Protestant rulers because they had no concept of freedom of religion. Therefore, the founders did not want to have an official religion, but that does not mean that it was the opposite, that they created a secular nation. To be secular is to be without religion, but it was clearly not without religion; it was merely non-sectarian.

Supreme Court Justice Joseph Story wrote a commentary on the Constitution in 1833 in which he stated:

Now, there will probably be found few persons in this, or any other Christian country, who would deliberately contend, that it was unreasonable, or unjust to foster and encourage the Christian religion generally, as a matter of sound policy, as well as of revealed truth. In fact, every American colony, from its foundation down to the revolution, with the exception of Rhode Island, . . . did openly, by the whole course of its laws and institutions, support and sustain, in some form, the Christian religion; and almost invariably gave a peculiar sanction to some of its fundamental doctrines. . . .

Indeed, in a republic, there would seem to be a peculiar propriety in viewing the Christian religion, as the great basis, on which it must rest for its support and permanence, if it be, what it has ever been deemed by its truest friends to be, the religion of liberty. . . .

Probably at the time of the adoption of the constitution, and of the amendment to it, now under consideration, the general, if not the universal, sentiment in America was, that Christianity ought to receive encouragement from the state, so far as was not incompatible with the private rights of conscience, and the freedom of religious worship. An attempt to level all religions, and to make it a matter of state policy to hold all in utter indifference, would have created universal disapprobation, if not universal indignation. . . .

Christianity ought to receive encouragement from the State so far as was not incompatible with the private rights of conscience and the freedom of religious worship. The real object of the [First] Amendment was not to countenance (tolerate), much less to advance Mahometanism (Islam), or Judaism, or infidelity by prostrating Christianity; but to exclude all rivalry among Christian sects, and to prevent any national, ecclesiastical (religious) establishment [from being given] the exclusive patronage of the national government. (Commentaries on the Constitution of the United States: Vol. 3, Boston, Hilliard, Gray, and Company, 1833, pages 724-728.)

America does not need to have a 100% Christian population to be a Christian nation, nor does it have to enforce all the moral laws of God as given in the Bible. However, if it does not support those laws, then evil could prosper until it is able to take over and subvert Christianity, and that is exactly what has happened. John Adams warned of this in a letter in 1798:

"We have no government armed with power capable of contending with human passions unbridled by morality and religion. Avarice, ambition, revenge, or gallantry, would break the strongest cords of our Constitution as a whale goes through a net. Our Constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate to the government of any other." (www. The federalist papers. org /founders/ john-adams)

The Constitution cannot restrain sin because it is not a religious document; therefore, sin has grown to the point that wicked people have nearly taken over the country. They have already taken the public schools, universities, mainstream media, many corporations, and most of the federal government, like the IRS and FBI. And they are doing everything in their power to take over throughout society.

Christian legal defense groups are flooded with cases as Christians are continually discriminated against throughout American society. One girl was training to be a radiologist and was kicked out of the program for being a Christian. Christian teachers have been prosecuted for praying over their own food during lunch! The ACLU is an atheist organization that is fighting tooth and nail to eliminate Christianity in America. But God will not allow the godless to take this nation that he founded; he will destroy it before permitting it be fully taken over by evil!

The belief by the first Americans that God played a major role in establishing the country is reflected in a statement made by an author in 1841:

This country is yet in its early youth, but the steps of Providence toward it have been so remarkable, that it stands in the world almost as a finished monument of the divine power, and from the opposite shores of the Atlantic, "the eyes of the oppressed are even now turning wistfully to the land of freedom, and the kings of the continent already regard with awe and disquietude the new Rome rising in the west, the foreshadows of whose greatness, yet to be, are extending dark and heavy over their dominions and obscuring the luster of their thrones." (Rev. Dr. Skinner, an essay in, The Hand of God in American History, Rev. George B. Cheever, 1841. The quote is from the London Examiner, publication date is unknown.)

Finally, even more evidence of their dependence on God for victory in the revolution, is the flag that they had made and was flown by George Washington's ships. It was a simple white flag with a pine tree on it, with the words, "An Appeal to Heaven."

Every time that flag flapped in the breeze, it was saying, "God please give us victory! Help us become a free

Christian nation!" And he did! The phrase came from philosopher John Locke, in his Second Treatise of Government;

"And where the body of the people, or any single man, is deprived of their right, or is under the exercise of a power without right, and have no appeal on earth, then they have liberty to appeal to heaven whenever they judge the cause of sufficient moment."

The phrase was also used by Patrick Henry in his famous speech, Give me Liberty or Give Me Death, "I repeat it, sir, we must fight! An appeal to arms and to the God of Hosts is all that is left us" The flag idea apparently originated with Col. Joseph Reed in 1775, an aide to George Washington, who suggested they make a flag with "the motto (Appeal to Heaven.)" The tree was known as the Liberty Tree, so named because Loyalists in Boston cut down a pine tree where the Sons of Liberty would gather around to talk about freedom.

(2) A Few Quotes

Samuel Adams (1722-1803): Governor of Massachusetts, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and organizer of the Boston Tea Party:

Religion and good morals are the only solid foundations of public liberty and happiness. (Paul H. Smith, Gerald W. Gawalt, Rosemary Fry Plakes, et. al., Letters of Delegates to Congress 1774-1789, volume 11.)

Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826): Governor of Virginia, first Secretary of State, primary author of the Declaration of Independence, and third President of the United States:

No nation has ever yet existed or been governed without religion. Nor can be. The Christian religion is the best religion that has ever been given to man, and I as chief Magistrate of this nation am bound to give it the sanction of my example. (Joseph Loconte, "Why Religious Values Support American Values," The Heritage Foundation, www.heritage.org/Research/Lecture/Why-Religious-Values-Support-American-Values.)

James Madison (1751-1836): Political philosopher, considered the Father of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, fourth President of the United States:

We have staked the whole future of American civilization, not upon the power of government, far from it. We have staked the future of all of our political institutions upon the capacity of mankind for self government;

upon the capacity of each and all of us to govern ourselves, to control ourselves, to sustain ourselves according to the Ten Commandments of God. (Ibid)

John Quincy Adams (1767-1848): Senator, Congressman, and sixth President of the United States. On the 45th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, he said:

The highest glory of the American Revolution was this: it connected in one indissoluble bond the principles of civil government with the principles of Christianity. (Dr. James Kennedy, "Christian Zeal Fueled the American Revolution," www.coralridge.org.)

Daniel Webster (1782-1852): United States Senator from Massachusetts and Secretary of State. Author of a dictionary:

No truth is more evident to my mind than that the Christian religion must be the basis of any government intended to secure the rights and privileges of a free people. (Dr. James Kennedy, "America's Schools Were Formed to Advance the Christian Faith," www.coralridge.org.)

To preserve the government we must also preserve morals. Morality rests on religion; if you destroy the foundation, the superstructure must fall. When the public mind becomes vitiated and corrupt, laws are a nullity and constitutions are waste paper. (Truth and Reason, "Religious Freedom," <http://truthandreasonblog.wordpress.com/> religious-freedom.)

Andrew Jackson (1767-1845): Victorious commander of American forces in the Battle of New Orleans in 1815, military governor of Florida, and seventh president of the United States. Even though he did not live by the Bible, speaking of the Bible, he said:

That Book, sir, is the Rock upon which our republic rests. (William J. Federer, America's God and Country: Encyclopedia of Quotes. Coppel, Texas: Fame Publishing, 1994, p. 311.)

I have shown that the first Americans were real Christians with a de facto covenant with God. This alone could explain why America became such a great nation, but there is an even more powerful and amazing reason.

Chapter 7

Why USA is God's Chosen Nation

(1) A Promise to Abraham

It is not just an accident of history that God-fearing people came to these shores and founded a nation that was to become the greatest nation on Earth. It was all part of God's plan; it was part of the Promise that God gave to Abraham!

The Bible repeatedly says that Abraham's offspring will be like the sand of the seashore and that the whole world will be blessed through his offspring. And it must be through Jacob because Esau did not inherit the promised blessing. So where are all those offspring that should, today, be as the sand of the seashore? The Jews are only a few million worldwide.

The nation of Israel split into two nations; the northern tribes were called by the name Israel, while the southern tribes were called Judah, which is where we get the term "Jews." The Jews are only what is left from the southern tribes.

For 150 years, people have written books that connect the northern tribes of Israel with Europeans, so I will not repeat all that information here but merely introduce you to the subject.

NOTE: Is this racist nonsense? No, the authors who wrote many books on this subject were not racists. However, white supremacists read those books and saw in them information they could use, but those books DO NOT say that the Jews are not real Jews, or that Blacks are an inferior race, but only the white supremacists such as the Christian Identity Movement and Aryan movement say those things.

Also, the teaching of British-Israelism has come under attack for its lack of solid sources, like there are going to be lots of documents from 3000 years ago recording the travels of dispossessed people. A wide range of Christian groups believe that the Israelites went into Europe, not just racists or those who sprang from the World Wide Church of God.

If this information is not believable, then why are Jews in Europe and Israel interested in this subject to the point of doing their own research and coming to the same conclusions? Yair Davidiy has written several such books, as well as Stephen Spykerman, a European Jew. Also see books by Steven Collins, but I have not read these authors.

The only way for the sons of Jacob to become as the sand of the seashore was for them to have left Israel and spread out into many other regions of the world. There is historical evidence that many people from the tribes of Israel ventured out from the land of Canaan, likely because of population growth:

14 Your descendants will be like the dust of the earth, and you will spread out to the west and to the east, to the north and to the south. All peoples on earth will be blessed through you and your offspring. (Genesis 28:14)

The Phoenicians were famous for traveling far and wide in ships and settling coastal areas of Europe. They were Israel's northern neighbor. So it should be no surprise that Israelites and Phoenicians intermarried. Jezebel was a Phoenician who married King Ahab of Israel. So, it stands to reason that some of the Israelites would also travel in ships and settle coastal lands the same as the Phoenicians; or in many cases-- along with the Phoenicians. According to 1 Kings, Solomon had a fleet of ships (10:22). The book of Judges says, "Why did Dan remain in ships?" (5:17).

Therefore, the descendants of Israel settled in many places around the Mediterranean Sea, just like the Phoenicians, who are known to have traveled far. The tribe of Dan can be traced to Africa, Cyprus, Ireland, England, Western Europe, and Greece.

Josephus, the Jewish historian, acknowledged that Hebrew blood was in Southern Europe. He states that Jonathan the high priest sent ambassadors to Rome and Sparta with a letter about the kinship between Israel and the Spartans. The letter states that he is aware that the Jews are related to the Spartans. He mentions a letter that was, in years past, sent from the king of the Spartans to the Jewish high priest, about the Spartans being related to the Jews:

. . . although we did not need such a demonstration, because we were satisfied about it from the sacred writings yet did not we think fit first to begin the claim of this relation to you . . . although we have had many wars that have compassed us around, by reason of the covetousness of our neighbors, yet did not we determine to be troublesome either to you, or to others that were related to us . . ." (Antiquities of the Jews, 13:8)

The Ethreaen Sibyl calls Greeks the "famous tribe of Danaans" (Visions of the End, by Bernard McGinn, p. 123). So, this means that the Greeks and Spartans had at least some Hebrew blood in their ancestry. Likely not 100%, but enough so that the information was remembered and passed down, as related by Josephus.

The Bible has many prophecies that address the northern tribes. Frederick Haberman, in his book, Tracing Our Ancestors, said:

. . . at the very time the Lord made the promise to David, about 1040 B.C., "I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, that they may dwell in a place of their own," (II Samuel 7:10) that promise was being executed. In fact, sixty years before the promise was made Brutus had arrived in the Isles of the West, in 1100 B.C. (page 113)

Since the nation of Israel already existed when that promise was given to David, and they had not yet been taken captive by Assyria, then it can only mean that God would provide a new home for those who had already left the land. And that promised home was mainly in Europe, and then later, some went into the United States, Canada, and Australia.

In addition to the Israelites spreading out far and wide because of population growth, they were also taken from the land by force. In the 8th century BC, the northern tribes in Israel were taken captive by Assyria and never returned to the land, but when Assyria fell, those captives gradually migrated north and west into Europe.

Many of them were still known even in the 1st century AD. The book of James is addressed "To the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad" (MEV). But I am sure that not all of them were known, and even most of those then-known tribes have become lost.

Assyria was located in northern Iraq and Iran (Persia), just south of Turkey. The historical sources say that the founder of Sweden was Woden Oden; he migrated with his people from the region near the Black Sea. He is believed to have been born in the late 2nd century or early 3rd century. The Black Sea is that very large body of water north of Turkey and is closer to Assyria than Israel is to Assyria, so it is completely realistic to believe that some of the 10 northern tribes went north from Assyria to the Black Sea region and then later into Europe.

The two arrows are exactly the same length.

It stands to reason that God would cause most of the tribes to go to Europe because that is the place where the Gospel took root and matured outside of the Middle East. This is how God fulfilled his promise to the Israelites, to send them away for worshiping idols, and that they would forget their identity; however, they would eventually become true worshipers of God again.

God told Jeremiah to go visit a potter because God wanted to speak to him there. While there he saw the potter create a pot that was not good, so the potter smashed the clay and remade it into a different pot:

5 Then the word of the Lord came to me. 6 He said, "Can I not do with you, Israel, as this potter does?" declares the Lord. "Like clay in the hand of the potter, so are you in my hand, Israel." (Jeremiah 18:5-6)

This passage tells us that God was planning to destroy Israel, but the people would be remade into a different country. In another chapter God said:

You shall be My people, and I will be your God. . . . In the latter days you will understand it. (Jer. 30:22, 24)

This tells us that they will once again become followers of God, and will understand it all in the latter days.

1 At that time, says the Lord, I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people. 2 Thus says the Lord: The people who survived the sword found grace in the wilderness, when I went to give Israel rest. (Jer. 31:1-2)

How will they come to worship God again after being pagans for centuries? Are they expected to convert to Judaism? Or perhaps it refers to modern Jews converting to Christianity? Notice that last line, “The people who survived the sword found grace in the wilderness.” The wilderness is not the land of Israel, it is Europe. The survivors will find “grace,” which is the Gospel. Can you see God’s hand in how he sent them away to end up in Europe, and then have Europe convert to Christianity? Wow, God’s long-range plan is amazing!

Ask yourself, where would they have gone? Africa was occupied by big, strong warrior tribes. A few Africans claim Jewish heritage, but all the tribes did not go south. No, most would have gone into sparsely inhabited regions, such as Europe. The point is that this means that the founders of America were also descended from the Hebrews. However, even though European nations contain descendants from the House of Israel, they are not THE nation that God promised to establish, along with Israel.

(2) America A Chosen Nation

In Genesis, God promised Abraham that his descendants would become a great nation, which we all know was Israel, but few Christians understand that God actually promised that Abraham’s descendants would establish several nations, not just one. The second nation would be a “company of nations.” Yes, it is clearly stated right there in the Bible, but it is literally ignored as though it were not there:

“I am God Almighty. Be fruitful and multiply. A nation and a company of nations will come from you . . .” (Gen. 35:11) (MEV)

Where is that company of nations? The only way this promise and prophecy given to Abraham could be fulfilled is for the Israelites to become as the sand of the seashore in another place, not a tiny nation in the Middle East that is only 25 miles wide.

When Jacob was about to die, he put his hands on the sons of Joseph and prophesied their future:

Joseph is a fruitful bough, a fruitful bough by a spring, whose branches run over the wall. (Gen. 49:22)

Later, Jacob again spoke a blessing over Ephraim and Manasseh, the sons of Joseph. He said the company of nations shall come from Ephraim:

“He will also become a people [Manasseh], and he will also be great, but truly his younger brother [Ephraim] will be greater than he, and his descendants will become a multitude of nations.” (Gen 48:19)

So, actually, Manasseh is said to become a great nation, and Ephraim a company of nations, but Ephraim is to become greater. So this makes three nations specially mentioned in prophecy. Now, most of the Christians in England who teach this believe that they are the company of nations, because the nations of the former British Empire have a loose affiliation called the British Commonwealth.

But the text clearly said the younger brother will be greater than the older, and the younger America became greater than the older England. The US became the greatest nation the world has ever seen. In 2023, the GNP of all the British Commonwealth nations was only 12.3% of the global GNP, while America’s was 24%.

But those who claim that the British are the company of nations say that the US is not a company of nations, only states. This stems from a lack of understanding of US history, as well as the meaning of the word “state.” It means, “a nation or territory considered as an organized political community under one government.” This is why “state” is a synonym for “nation.”

But more importantly, the 13 original colonies were self-governing and independent after the Revolution. Each state had to intentionally and willingly decide whether to join the Union or not. If they had not formed a Union, they would have been separate nations. Even today, the states operate exactly like separate nations, each with its own Senate and House of Representatives; each with its own state police, departments of education, taxation, and other services. Texas was even more separate because it was its own nation that was never under the rule of England, and was called the Republic of Texas before joining the union.

You don't believe that the United States is that promised nation? Well then, which nation do you suppose it could be? Do you believe that God forgot to fulfill his Word to create a great end-time nation? No! He did not.

I am not taking the position that America is reborn Israel, but merely that America is another chosen nation just like Israel was a chosen nation. Some people want to consider the USA as a reborn Israel and modern Israel today as a reborn Judah, which may or may not be true.

(3) The Jewish Connection

Now, here is a bit of history that most Americans are not familiar with: the Jews helped to found America. Over 3,000 Jews first came to America in 1654 to escape religious persecution, the same as the Christians. They were accepted here and not persecuted, and the Revolutionary War may not have been successful without their help.

They supplied the army with clothing, guns, powder, and food. Jewish merchants used their ships as blockade runners bringing supplies from Europe. Aaron Lopez of Newport, Rhode Island, used his 130 ships to supply the American army. Most Jewish merchants had lost everything by the end of the war. (As America Has Done to Israel, by John p. McTernan, 2008, page55)

One Jewish merchant kept the government going during the war. In 1781, the US currency collapsed, and we had no funds to pay our debts or continue the war, so the US turned to Haym Salomon who was known for his financial acumen, honesty, generosity, and his ability to speak seven languages. He was appointed "The Official Broker to the Office of Finance of the United States."

America at this time had no banking system, but Salomon's own credit backed the finances of the United States! . . . Salomon personally made large loans with no interest to many of the leading Americans of the Revolution, such as: future Presidents James Madison, Thomas Jefferson, and James Monroe, as well as generals von Steuben and St Clair.

Salomon personally supported the Spanish ambassador, which promoted Spanish goodwill toward America. (Ibid, page 57)

Salomon died in 1785 at the age of 45 due to an illness he received when he was imprisoned by the British before making his escape.

Unfortunately, many of those Jewish businessmen were, in fact, highly involved in the slave trade and growing cotton in the Southern states. This is the reason that the Southern states refused to join the Union unless they could keep their slaves. The Founding Fathers wanted to outlaw slavery, but it was largely the Jewish slave owners and traders who demanded that slavery continue in those states. And we all know the result: it was the Civil War.

Those who claim the Civil War was not about slavery do not know what they are talking about. The Republican Party was formed for the express purpose of eliminating slavery, and when Lincoln was about to win the presidency, the South said that if he wins, they will withdraw from the Union, and that is exactly what happened.

I consider it no small thing that Jews fought and died and gave up their wealth to help found America. In Hosea, it says God divorced the northern tribes, the House of Israel, and sent them away, yet gave them prophecies about their future. Read the following passage closely:

... for you are not my people, and I am not your God. 10 "Yet the Israelites will be like the sand on the seashore, which cannot be measured or counted. In the place where it was said to them, 'You are not my people,' they will be called 'sons of the living God.' 11 The people of Judah and the people of Israel will be reunited, and they will appoint one leader and will come up out of the land, for great will be the day of Jezreel. (Hosea 1:9-11)

This passage tells us that the House of Israel will become great in number, even though they had forsaken God, and they will go to another place and lose their knowledge of being sons of Abraham and followers of Yahweh. In that place they will become followers of the true God again. How will they be called "sons of the living God"? By converting to Christianity.

It also says that the House of Israel will join with the House of Judah and appoint one ruler. This fits the founding of America, where the lost ten tribes and the Jews created a new nation and elected one leader. To be “appointed” suggests receiving the approval of the people, which is called voting.

In previous centuries kings were not chosen by the people. The first king of Israel was chosen by God through the prophet Samuel, and so was David. And it cannot refer to the rule of Christ on Earth, because we will not appoint Christ to be our ruler.

And so it was that the House of Israel and the House of Judah joined together and created this new nation by way of a great deliverance from the mighty British Empire, and then became greater than the British Empire; “great will be the day of Jezreel.” “Jezreel” means “God sows,” and so it fits the people coming to North America, where they were scattered and planted and grew and produced a great harvest in every way possible.

It is hard to understand why mainstream Christianity in America has ignored the tons of evidence that supports the ten lost tribes going to Europe. Perhaps because people like to accuse the teachers of British-Israelism of being racists, but it was God who said he would bless the descendants of Jacob and not Esau. Is God a racist? God has not made the rest of the world poor; he has merely BLESSED the descendants of Jacob. (I have not read any modern books on this subject, so I cannot recommend any, but only read a couple of old books and then did my own study to find some of this information.)

In 1820, the United States was on the same level as any other nation on Earth, including all of Europe. We heated our homes with wood, and we traveled by walking, horseback, or buggy. But in less than 70 years the US had become the world’s largest economy with railroads, telegraph lines, factories, and tall buildings; even after a terrible civil war! Is that just a coincidence? Why do the majority of the world’s greatest inventions originate here in America? And most of the inventions that did not originate in America came from Europe. Because we are the offspring of Abraham.

(4) Abraham's Blessing

But God promised Abraham that his offspring would be a blessing to the whole world. How does this apply to America which seems to be acting like a bully around the world? Have electric lights been a blessing to anyone? Has the telephone been a blessing to the world? How about the airplane? What about moving pictures or recorded voice and music? Perhaps mass communication over the radio? The cotton gin or the combine harvester? The heart defibrillator, or the heart pacemaker?

We are often the first nation to arrive with help during disasters around the world. Americans donate money to educate poor children globally, feed the hungry, drill water wells, teach people how to farm, etc. We currently provide free GPS to the entire planet, benefitting millions of people in every nation. The greatest of all blessings is the Gospel of Christ, and America has done more to spread the Gospel throughout the world than any other nation!

So when you add it all up, America's influence upon the world is greater than the influence of all European and Asian nations combined. It is literally Planet America in terms of influence; but it is both good and bad influence.

Many people, including Christians, do not like to hear talk of how great America is and what is referred to as "American exceptionalism." But now we know why America is such a special nation, and it is not merely because the founders were God-fearing people, but also because America is genuinely chosen of God, one of the countries that God promised to Abraham. So now that America is even more special than we thought, the haters will have even more reason to attack!

(5) Freemasons and The Founding of America

It has been alleged by some people that, rather than being founded as a Christian nation by Christians, that the US was really founded by Freemans to be an occultist nation. It is true that some of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were Freemasons, but not 54 as often claimed:

The best and clearest evidence is the date and lodge of initiation. This type of evidence yields a total of nine members. (Robert Hieronimus,

George Washington was a Freemason, and he said:

So far as I am acquainted with the doctrines and principles of Freemasonry, I conceive them to be founded in benevolence, and to be exercised only for the good of mankind. (Ibid, p. 25)

Since it is abundantly clear that GW was a real Christian, I believe that Freemasonry in America, at that time, was very much like the Lions Club or the Kiwanis Club today. The members raised money for charitable causes, such as streetlights. I am sure there were Freemasons involved in the design of Washington, D.C., but that came later. The first Capital of the USA was Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, then it moved to New York City before moving to DC.

The Latin phrase, “annuit coeptis” on the one-dollar bill and Great Seal means, “He has favored our undertakings.” The “he,” of course, is God, so it means “God has favored our undertakings.” How was it that God favored the creation of this new nation? Because of the many miracles that they received before and during the war.

(6) Other Issues

You may say that a Christian nation would never have slaughtered the Indians. By the time that happened, the racist Democrats had a lot of power, and it was mostly racist Democrats who did the slaughters.

But the charge is often leveled at George Washington because he ordered General Sullivan to attack and destroy Iroquois towns. Before the Revolutionary War, the Iroquois had good relations with the colonies. The colonies even made treaties and had conferences with the Iroquois. But when the war broke out, the Iroquois sided with the British and committed what is called the Cherry Hill Massacre. So we had to retaliate, that is what happens in war.

In the same way, we would have lived in peace with all the Native Americans, but after a while they massacred some settlers, so we had to send in troops. But the settlers were on Indian land. Yes, the settlers often settled on Indian land. But how was it Indian land? Even the famous Iroquois spokesman, Canassatego, complained that land had been wrongfully occupied:

. . . we now renew our request, and desire you will inform the person whose people are seated on our lands, that that country belongs to us, in right of conquest; we having bought it with our blood, and taken it from our enemies in fair war. . . (www.smithsoniansource.org/ . . . PrimarySourceId=1195)

There you have it. The Indians took the land away from other Indians in war, so now they are whining that someone has come and settled on it. By this you can see that they got it by killing other Native Americans. The multiculturalists today say such behavior is perfectly fine, unless a white man did it; then it's a horrible crime.

If they had not gone on the warpath against the settlers, then whites would never have come up with the notion that "the only good Indian is a dead Indian." If they had been smart enough to not wage an unwinnable war, there would have been no retaliatory slaughters. One of their own prophets, Wovoka, prophesied to them that they should live in peace with the white man and wait for the apocalypse when the whites would be eliminated (he believed), but they did not listen, and much carnage resulted.

That said, there were several unjustified slaughters, such as the one in 1890 in which 290 Native Americans of all ages were killed at Wounded Knee. This is why only genuine Christians should be allowed to be in positions of authority in government. The removal of native tribes from their land was also unjustified. Not every person in America in the late 1800s was a real Christian; many were Democrats and members of the KKK.

Also, it was a different time. For example, despite the US Constitution, sometimes when someone was arrested, regardless of race, they never made it to trial, because a mob of men would show up at the jail and pull the accused out of the jail and hang him from a tree. This is where we get the term, lynch mob. Thank God we don't do that anymore. Historians tell us that we should not judge the past by current standards.

Would it have been a good thing if we had never arrived on the shores of North America and left the Native tribes to continue living like savages? No, for their own good they needed to be brought into the civilized world, but they resisted and did not want to give up their ancient way of life. The result was many of them were killed and mistreated. Things like that happened throughout history. All nations of any size have shed too much blood, even King David. The reason God would not let David build the Temple is because he had too much blood on his hands; "You are not to build a house for my Name, because you have shed much blood on the earth in my sight" (1 Chronicles 22:8). David especially killed many of the males in Edom. One passage even says that ALL the men of Edom were killed (1 Kings 11.15-16). Therefore, even God's chosen people were not perfect, and they committed many sins. Likewise, the USA has committed many sins, and God will bring judgement upon this nation because of those sins.

The Israelites even fought civil wars; the northern tribes fought against the southern tribes. This did not change their destiny, or the promise God made to Abraham. Humans are not perfect little angels, regardless of what race or religion they happen to be.

So we should not be too harsh on what happened 150–200 years ago. We should look at the big picture. If you examined the history of Europe, there were many murders, unnecessary wars, persecutions, etc. All nations have done things they would not repeat, if given a chance to do it over.

Chapter 8

Prophecies About George Washington and USA

(1) Divine Protection

This chapter contains dreams and visions not found in the Bible. God told us in the Bible that he will do nothing unless he first tells his prophets (Amos 3:7), and the Bible can only hold so much information, so we should expect many prophecies given to us before the final war, persecution, and return of Christ. Especially because the lukewarm Christians will need to survive the GT. This is explained in detail in BK2.

Many sinners and lukewarm Christians will repent once the civil war starts and will need to survive WWIII and the Wrath of God to keep the world populated. This is one of the reasons why we still need prophecies today. But you cannot believe every prophecy. If you examine all the predictions that exist about the GT and America, you will find many that contradict each other or say absurd things. Therefore, it is safe to say that many of them are not accurate, and many are just plain lies invented by people who want to be seen as prophets.

Nevertheless, many are genuine and need to be studied so we can know what to expect in the near future. God will not bring a global war and destruction without warning the Christians who must survive. Sinners are not going to inherit the Earth, but the righteous!

Let us begin at the beginning, before the birth of America. In his Inaugural Address, George Washington said that no people ever had the hand of God helping them the way God helped in the founding of America:

. . . it would be peculiarly improper to omit in this first official act my fervent supplications to that Almighty Being who rules over the universe, who presides in the councils of nations, and whose providential aids can supply every human defect, that His benediction may consecrate to the liberties and happiness of the people of the United States a Government instituted by themselves for these essential purposes, and may enable every instrument employed in its administration to execute with success the functions allotted to his charge. In tendering this homage to the Great Author of every public and private good, I assure myself that it expresses your sentiments not less than my own, nor those of my fellow-citizens at large less than either. No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the Invisible Hand which conducts the affairs of men more than those of the United States. Every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency; and in the important revolution just accomplished in the system of their united government the tranquil deliberations and voluntary consent of so many distinct communities from which the event has resulted can not be compared with the means by which most governments have been established without some return of pious gratitude, along with an humble anticipation of the future blessings which the past seem to presage. (Inaugural Address, 1789)

It is no accident that a ragtag volunteer army beat the mighty British Empire; it was a miracle of God. George Washington was the recipient of many of those miracles, even before the Revolutionary War began.

In the summer of 1755, GW was a 23-year-old major fighting with the British at the Battle of Monongahela in the French and Indian War when his legend began. GW had four bullet holes in his coat, and two horses were shot out from under him, but he was untouched, while the men he fought with lost the battle and suffered heavy losses.

GW reported he was fighting with about 1,300 men; about 300 were killed and 300 wounded. Washington recognized it as a miracle in a letter to his brother; “the miraculous care of Providence that protected me beyond all human expectation.”

George Washington at Princeton, 1777, by Alonzo Chappel, 1857.

<https://jenikerbyhistory.getarchive.net>

Fifteen years later, GW learned more details about this great miracle. In 1770 (some 19th-century sources say 1772), GW was on an expedition to explore the Ohio region when the party was near the Ohio and Great Kana-wha rivers when a group of Indians approached their camp with an interpreter. An Indian chief heard that GW was in the area and traveled a long way to see him. They all sat around the fire as the old chief recalled how he was in that battle and recognized that Washington was not fighting like the British but like an Indian, and ordered several of his marksmen to kill him:

I am a chief and the ruler over my tribes. My influence extends to the waters of the great lakes and to the far blue mountains. I have traveled a long and weary path that I might see the young warrior of the great battle.

It was on the day when the white man's blood mixed with the streams of our forest that first beheld this chief. I called to my young men and said, mark yon tall and daring warrior? He is not of the red-coat tribe - he hath an Indian's wisdom, and his warriors fight as we do - himself is alone exposed.

Quick, let your aim be certain, and he dies. Our rifles were leveled, riles which, but for you knew not how to miss- 'twas all in vain, a power mightier far than we, shielded you.

Seeing you were under the special guardianship of the Great Spirit, we immediately ceased to fire at you. I am old, and soon shall be gathered to the great council fire of my fathers in the land of shades, but ere I go, there is something bids me speak in the voice of prophecy:

Listen! The Great Spirit protects that man, [pointing to Washington], and guides his destinies—he will become the chief of nations, and a people yet unborn will hail him as the founder of a mighty empire. I am come to pay homage to the man who is the particular favorite of Heaven, and who can never die in battle.

The famous Indian warrior, who was in that battle, said: "Washington was never born to be killed by a bullet! I had seventeen fair fires at him with my rifle, and after all could not bring him to the ground." (America's God and Country Encyclopedia of Quotations, William J. Federer, Fame Publishing, 8th edition, 1996, page 636-637.)

Because of that prophecy, GW believed he could not be killed in battle and was known to be right out in the middle of the fighting during the Revolutionary War. He was never wounded, even though a cannonball hit so close that it threw dirt up into his face. This belief made Washington fearless and kept him going against impossible odds.

(2) The Vision of George Washington (NOT Fiction)

It is believed that GW had a vision during the Revolutionary War, known simply as the Vision of George Washington. Over the past 10 years, I went from believing the vision is genuine to believing it is fiction, but now I have reason to believe that it is, in fact, genuine.

First, I will give the reasons I came to believe it is fiction. Another fellow researched and dug up the information on the individual who published the vision. J. L. Bell is a writer who specializes in the American Revolution in and around Boston. He discovered facts about Wesley Bradshaw. It seems the name is a pseudonym of a writer whose real name was Charles Wesley Alexander (1837–1927). He wrote fictional stories under the name Wesley Bradshaw.

John Adcock at Yesterday's Papers says that Alexander, using his "Wesley Bradshaw" identity, had already contributed to a series of illustrated pamphlets that purported to be true stories of murderers and female fiends, full of torture, murder and melodrama . . . if we believe the story Alexander tells in "Washington's Vision," he heard of an angelic prophecy crucial to the nation, and chose to publish it under the same pseudonym he used for exploitative potboilers.

In fact, a big part of Alexander's work was responding to recent public events with patriotic thrillers and legends. During and after the Civil War he wrote and published several novels such as Pauline of the Potomac; Or, General McClellan's Spy; its sequel Maud of the Mississippi, General Grant's Daring Spy; and the immortal The Angel of the Battlefield: A Tale of the Rebellion. In 1876, just in time for the Centennial celebration, Alexander came out with The History and Legends of the Old Liberty Bell in Independence Hall in Philadelphia. "Washington's Vision" is part of that fictional output, not a historic link to Valley Forge. (<https://boston1775.blogspot.com/2006/12/truth-of-washingtons-vision.html>)

It does not seem reasonable that Charles W. Alexander would publish a true story under the name he used for fictional "potboilers." This made me believe it is fiction. However, several well-known pastors who write books on Bible prophecy have also authored novels. Does it make their books on Bible prophecy less legitimate because they also wrote novels? The fact that he used his pseudonym also does not make it fiction. Even 2,500 years ago, people who wrote significant books often attributed them to someone important, such as Enoch. No scholar believes that the Enoch who lived before the Flood actually wrote the book of Enoch, yet many people, including myself, believe it is a genuine book that contains much truth.

Therefore, I see two possible scenarios that could make the vision genuine: (1) He himself had the vision, but he wrote it up as a vision having come from George Washington. But he did not want his professional name connected with it, so he used his fictional name.

(2) Because of the previous writing and research that he had done, he came across the vision, but he was afraid he would be laughed at professionally for publishing it using his real name.

This vision is completely plausible and believable. GW was, after all, an authentic Christian man who was fighting a war that would result in the formation of the greatest and most powerful nation the world has ever known. So to say he is not likely to have had such a vision is ridiculous. Washington even considered becoming a preacher after the war, as seen in a letter:

... on 20 August 1778, he wrote Brig. Gen. Thomas Nelson of Virginia: "The hand of Providence has been conspicuous in all this, that he must be worse than an infidel that lacks faith, and more than wicked that has not gratitude enough to acknowledge his obligations. But it will be time enough for me to turn preacher when my present appointment ceases; and therefore I shall add no more on the doctrine of Providence." Although he never developed this theme beyond such statements, he often repeated it during the war and his presidency. (George Washington: A Biographical Companion, Frank E. Grizzard. 2002, ABC-CLIO, Santa Barbara, CA. Page 158)

His troops were ill-fed, ill-housed, and ill-clothed, and many people were saying that it was time to stop fighting an unwinnable war. Perhaps God gave him the vision to give him the courage to continue fighting because the vision concerned the present war as well as the future of the country.

George Washington's vision was published in several publications, but I was only able to find it in The Guardian, Vol. 12, of 1861, pages 197-200; the Rockland County Journal newspaper, June 22, 1861, and in the National Tribune, Vol.4, No. 12, December 1880.

Why was the vision first published in 1861 (as far as I could find)? Likely because it had proven itself to be accurate since the Civil War began in April 1861, and the vision included the Civil War.

Charles Wesley Alexander (Wesley Bradshaw) wrote down what he was told by an old soldier who had fought with GW. The vision was apparently seen at Valley Forge during the winter of 1777-78. I will present an analysis as the vision goes along:

The last time I ever saw Anthony Sherman was on the 4th of July, 1859, in Independence Square. He was then ninety-nine and becoming very feeble; but though so old, his dimming eyes rekindled as he looked at Independence Hall, which he said he had come to gaze upon once more before he was gathered home. . . .

Some accounts of this vision have Anthony Sherman 99 years old, some 91, but I think 91 is not old enough to have been a soldier in the Revolutionary War; because in 1777 he would have been 9 years old if he was only 91 in 1859. Therefore, 99 is the likely age.

Reaching the visitor's room in which the sacred relics of our early days are preserved, we sat down upon one of the old-fashioned wooden benches, and my venerable friend related to me the following singular narrative, which, from the peculiarity of our national affairs at the present time, I have been induced to give to the world. I give it, as nearly as possible, in his own words.

"When the bold action of our Congress, in asserting the independence of the colonies, became known in the old world, we were laughed and scoffed at as silly, presumptuous rebels, whom British grenadiers would very soon tame into submission; but undauntedly we prepared to make good what we had said. The keen encounter came, and the world knows the result. It is easy and pleasant for those of the present generation to talk and write of the days of Seventy-Six, but they little know, neither can they imagine, the trials and sufferings of those fearful days. And there is one thing that I much fear, and that is, that the American people do not properly appreciate the boon of freedom. Party spirit is yearly becoming stronger and stronger, and, without it is checked, will, at no distant day, undermine and tumble into ruins the noble structure of the Republic. But let me hasten to my narrative.

"From the opening of the Revolution, we experienced all phases of fortune—now good, and now ill, one time victorious, and another conquered. The darkest period we had, however, was, I think, when Washington, after several reverses, retreated to Valley Forge, where he resolved to pass the winter of '77. Ah! I have often seen the tears coursing down our dear old commander's care-worn cheeks, as he would be conversing with a confidential officer about the condition of his poor soldiers. You have doubtless heard the story of Washington going to the thicket to pray, well, it is not only true, but he used often to pray in secret, for aid and comfort from that God, the interposition of whose divine providence alone brought us safely through those dark days of tribulation.

"One day—I remember it well—the chilly wind whistled and howled through the leafless trees, though the sky was cloudless, and the sun shining brightly, he remained in his quarters nearly the whole afternoon alone. When he came out, I noticed that his face was a shade paler than usual, and that there seemed to be something upon his mind of more than ordinary importance. Returning just after dusk, he dispatched an orderly to the quarters of the officer I mentioned, who was presently in attendance. After a preliminary conversation, which lasted some half an hour, Washington, gazing upon his companion with that strange look of dignity which he alone could command, said to the latter:

"I do not know whether it is owing to anxiety of my mind, or what, but this afternoon, as I was sitting at this table engaged in preparing a dispatch, something seemed to disturb me. Looking up, I beheld standing opposite me a singularly beautiful female. So astonished was I, for I had given strict orders not to be disturbed, that it was some moments before I found language to inquire the cause of her presence. A second, a third, and even a fourth time did I repeat my question, but received no answer from my mysterious visitor except a slight raising of her eyes.

I have read a claim that this vision cannot be genuine because there is no record of a female angel appearing to anyone in the Bible! I find this type of logic laughable. There are not any swordfish in the Bible either. Just because only male angels appeared in the Bible does not mean that only males exist. The vision continues:

“Presently I heard a voice saying, ‘Son of the Republic, look and learn,’ while at the same time my visitor extended her arm eastwardly. I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance rising fold upon fold. This gradually dissipated, and I looked upon a strange scene. Before me lay spread out in one vast plain all the countries of the world---Europe, Asia, Africa, and America. I saw rolling and tossing, between Europe and America, the billows of the Atlantic, and between Asia and America lay the Pacific. ‘Son of the Republic,’ said the same mysterious voice as before, ‘look and learn.’ At that moment I beheld a dark, shadowy being, like an angel, standing, or rather floating, in the hollow air, between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand, he sprinkled some upon America with his right hand while with his left hand he cast some on Europe. Immediately a cloud raised from these countries and joined in mid-ocean. For a while it remained stationary, and then moved slowly westward, until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning gleamed through it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American people. A second time the angel dipped water from the ocean, and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean, in whose heaving billows it sank from view.

“By this time I felt strange sensations spreading through me. I would have risen but the riveted gaze of the being before me rendered volition impossible. I assayed once more to address her, but my tongue had become useless, as though it had become paralyzed.

“A new influence, mysterious, potent, irresistible, took possession of me. All I could do was to gaze steadily, vacantly at my unknown visitor. Gradually the surrounding atmosphere seemed as if it had become filled with sensations, and luminous. Everything about me seemed to rarefy, the mysterious visitor herself becoming more airy and yet more distinct to my sight than before. I now began to feel as one dying, or rather to experience the sensations which I have sometimes imagined accompany dissolution. I did not think, I did not reason, I did not move; all were alike impossible. I was only conscious of gazing fixedly, vacantly at my companion.

It is not unheard of to be frozen and unable to move when having this kind of encounter; therefore, it is actually evidence of its genuineness:

“Presently I heard a voice saying, ‘Son of the Republic, look and learn,’ while at the same time my visitor extended her arm eastwardly, I now beheld a heavy white vapor at some distance rising fold upon fold. This gradually dissipated, and I looked upon a stranger scene. Before me lay spread out in one vast plain all the countries of the world — Europe, Asia, Africa and America. I saw rolling and tossing between Europe and America the billows of the Atlantic, and between Asia and America lay the Pacific.

“‘Son of the Republic,’ said the same mysterious voice as before, ‘look and learn.’ At that moment I beheld a dark, shadowy being, like an angel, standing or rather floating in mid-air, between Europe and America. Dipping water out of the ocean in the hollow of each hand, he sprinkled some upon America with his right hand, while with his left hand he cast some on Europe. Immediately a cloud raised from these countries, and joined in mid-ocean. For a while it remained stationary, and then moved slowly westward, until it enveloped America in its murky folds. Sharp flashes of lightning gleamed through it at intervals, and I heard the smothered groans and cries of the American people. A second time the angel dipped water from the ocean, and sprinkled it out as before. The dark cloud was then drawn back to the ocean, in whose heaving billows it sank from view.

This describes armies coming from Europe joining with loyalists in America to fight against those who desired freedom.

“A third time I heard the mysterious voice saying, ‘Son of the Republic, look and learn,’ I cast my eyes upon America and beheld villages and towns and cities springing up one after another until the whole land from the Atlantic to the Pacific was dotted with them.

“Again, I heard the mysterious voice say, ‘Son of the Republic, the end of the century cometh, look and learn.’ At this the dark shadowy angel turned his face southward, and from Africa I saw an ill omened specter approach our land. It flitted slowly over every town and city of the latter. The inhabitants presently set themselves in battle array against each other. As I continued looking I saw a bright angel, on whose brow rested a crown of light, on which was traced the word “Union,” bearing the American flag which he placed between the divided nation, and said, “Remember ye are brethren.” Instantly, the inhabitants, casting from them their weapons became friends once more, and united around the National Standard. And again I heard the mysterious voice saying, ‘Son of the Republic, the second peril is passed – look and learn.’

Notice that this conflict takes place after the end of the 18th century and that it was related somehow to Africa and union. Therefore, this is the Civil War, which arose because of the slaves from Africa. The vision continues:

“And I beheld the villages, towns, and cities of America increase in size and numbers, till at last they covered all the land from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and their inhabitants became as countless as the stars in Heaven, or as the sand on the sea shore. And again I heard the mysterious voice, saying, ‘Son of the Republic, the end of a century – look and learn.’

“At this the dark, shadowy angel placed a trumpet to his mouth, and blew three distinct blasts; and taking water from the ocean, he sprinkled it upon Europe, Asia and Africa.

“Then my eyes beheld a fearful scene: From each of these countries [actually continents] arose thick, black clouds that were soon joined into one. Throughout this mass there gleamed a dark red light by which I saw hordes of armed men, who, moving with the cloud, marched by land and sailed by sea to America. Our country was enveloped in this volume of cloud. And I dimly saw these vast armies devastate the whole country, and burn the villages, cities, and towns that I beheld springing up. As my ears listened to the thundering of the cannon, clashing of sword, and the shouts and cries of millions in mortal combat, I heard again the mysterious voice saying, ‘Son of the Republic, look and learn.’

I previously believed that this vision referred to the Russian invasion, but according to a vision had by Terry Bennett, it refers to the armies of the Antichrist, which will be given later. This will happen after the United States of America has been weakened by another civil war and natural disasters, such as the tsunami of the 2nd Trumpet of Revelation.

“When the voice had ceased, the dark shadowy angel placed his trumpet once more to his mouth, and blew a long and fearful blast. Instantly a light as from a thousand suns shone down from above me, and pierced and broke into fragments the dark cloud which enveloped America. At the same moment the angel upon whose forehead still shone the word Union, and who bore our national flag in one hand and a sword in the other, descended from the heavens attended by legions of white spirits. These immediately joined the inhabitants of America, who I perceived were well-nigh overcome, but who immediately taking courage again, closed up their broken ranks and renewed the battle.

Again, this agrees with other visions and prophecies that say when Christ returns, he will come with burning fire to burn up the goat nations. This is how we are freed from the Antichrist forces; therefore, this war happens during the final years of the Great Tribulation. The white spirits could be the returning saints, led by Christ, who come to destroy the beast and false prophet and cast them into the lake of fire. Or, the spirits could simply be angels who come to kill the beast and false prophet's armies.

"Again, amid the fearful noise of the conflict, I heard the mysterious voice saying, 'Son of the Republic, look and learn.' As the voice ceased, the shadowy angel for the last time dipped water from the ocean and sprinkled it upon America. Instantly the dark cloud rolled back, together with the armies it had brought, leaving the inhabitants of the land victorious.

"Then once more I beheld the villages, towns and cities springing up where I had seen them before, while the bright angel, planting the azure standard he had brought in the midst of them, cried with a loud voice: 'While the stars remain, and the heavens send down dew upon the earth, so long shall the Union last.' And taking from his brow the crown on which blazoned the word "Union," he placed it upon the Standard while the people, kneeling down, said, "Amen."

There is an important reason why the word "Union" was placed on the Standard once again; because the next civil war will give our enemies an opportunity to attack us. The invasion that is coming is because of our lack of union, a splitting that is even now happening in America. Not only are there mobs of Communists calling for the destruction of America, but treasonous senators as well.

"The scene instantly began to fade and dissolve, and I at last saw nothing but the rising, curling vapor I at first beheld. This also disappearing, I found myself once more gazing upon the mysterious visitor, who, in the same voice I had heard before, said,

'Son of the Republic, what you have seen is thus interpreted: Three great perils will come upon the Republic. The most fearful is the third, but in this greatest conflict the whole world united shall not prevail against her. Let every child of the Republic learn to live for his God, his land and the Union.'

"With these words the vision vanished, and I started from my seat and felt that I had seen a vision wherein had been shown to me the birth, progress, and destiny of the United States. In Union she will have her strength, in Disunion her destruction."

"Such, my friends," concluded the venerable narrator, "were the words I heard from Washington's own lips, and America will do well to profit by them. Let her remember that in Union she has her strength, in Disunion her destruction.” (The Guardian. Also found at http:// www. ushistory. org/ valley forge /Washington /vision.html)

This vision tells us that Americans will have to fight and will almost be defeated, but God will come to our aid in the same way that he helped America since its founding. It also says that there will forever be a USA, but it does not say how many states.

Some modern prophets are predicting that America will be totally destroyed with nothing left, but I feel it refers to the most wicked cities and states of Babylon the Great.

Another reason this vision makes sense is that the armies came from several continents, and I believe the nations aligned with Antichrist will include many nations in Europe, the Middle East, Africa, and Asia.

Chapter 9

The Democrat Deep-State

(1) Birth of The Deep-State

This is not a complete and exhaustive exposé of the Deep-State, as that would take a whole book, so this is just an introduction to the subject. Hopefully, I present enough information for you to get a good picture of what it is and what it is doing in the USA. One definition of Deep-State is:

a body of people, typically influential members of government agencies or the military, believed to be involved in the secret manipulation or control of government policy.

The Deep-State in the USA began after the US Civil War, the southern states who lost the war were Democrats; they were the slavers, and started the Civil War because Lincoln was elected. The Republican party was formed to fight against slavery.

When the Democrats lost the war, they were not willing to accept defeat, so they assassinated President Lincoln and then started the Klu Klux Klan (KKK) which terrorized millions of people, and basically continued the war. Bands of men cloaked in white hooded robes burned down the homes of Blacks and whites alike; lynched and shot and raped both Blacks and whites who did not do what they demanded. They held so much power that mayors and governors and even law enforcement were afraid to oppose them and often were members of the Klan. Eric Foner, Professor of History at Columbia University, and a Democrat, said; “In effect, the Klan was a military force serving the interests of the Democratic party.”

According to the Tuskegee Institute, from 1882-1968, 3,446 Blacks were lynched by Democrats, and 1,297 whites were lynched who dared to register Blacks to vote. The National Rifle Association was formed to help arm black people so they could protect themselves from the KKK.

In the 1920s the KKK had 4-6 million members and occasionally held very large marches in Washington, DC. There are photos and videos that show these marches. The marches were peaceful because there were no “counter protesters” with clubs and other weapons trying to stop them, even though plenty of Americans would have liked to have done so. It was a matter of free speech; they also did not want to start another civil war.

Though the KKK wore hoods to hide their identity when they committed crimes, they got bold in 1925 when 40,000 KKK marched down Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House as a means to show their power, with senators and congressmen openly affiliated with the Klan. As time went on, the power and numbers of the KKK officially diminished, but the spirit behind it just went inside the federal government.

The 30th President of the United States (1923-1929) was a Republican, and said:

“Unless the people, through unified action, arise and take charge of their government, they will find that their government has taken charge of them. Independence and liberty will be gone, and the general public will find itself in a condition of servitude to an aggregation of organized and selfish interest." (Calvin Coolidge)

The Republican Party was formed to oppose slavery, and it was only Republicans who gave Blacks the right to vote; later, they wrote and passed the Civil Rights Act. Democrat President Lyndon Johnson had no choice but to sign the bill and did so knowing that Blacks were going to give Democrats the credit, because he was a Democrat. And as he expected, the Blacks switched to the Democrat Party. The Democrats then became the party of Blacks; therefore, what little was left of any open KKK switched to the Republican Party but had only a few thousand members.

But the Democrats had not suddenly become the good guys. They did not suddenly start loving minorities, even though they claimed to love them. They gave them welfare but refused to give it when the husband/father was in the home; thus, they broke up millions of Black families. And they did much more evil, such as legalizing abortion.

If that were not bad enough, the Communists of the early 20th century infiltrated the Democrat party and now call themselves Progressives. Communist ideas were gradually adopted into the Democrat platform. So it should be no surprise that the Democratic National Convention of 2012 twice voted to remove any mention of God from its platform, and God was actually booed from the floor of the convention.

College campuses were once bastions of truth and free speech, but the last few decades have seen a growing number of lies being taught along with suppression of free speech on college campuses. Our public schools and universities have been infiltrated by Democrat/Communists who have been teaching our kids lies about history, focusing only on the negative, and pushing hate for America. So now the left-wing students will not allow conservatives to even speak but will shout them off the stage.

In spite of their own true history, they have decided to foment hate between whites and Blacks by accusing all white people today of being guilty for the past. This has fueled calls for the killing of all white people. They have even begun teaching that all white people are born racists (Critical Race Theory). They only teach this to generate hate and division.

The desire for complete control that originated with the KKK still resides inside the Demoncrat party and has entered into the CIA, the FBI, and the universities. Like the KKK, they will commit crimes to further their cause. In order to be able to better spy on China, the CIA operated an airline in SE Asia called Air America from the 1950s through the 1970s.

The website history.com says:

. . . reports suggest that agency operatives became involved with groups engaged in the Asian opium and heroin trade, and that Air America was used to ship drugs around the region.

The CIA had programs where they conducted experiments on American citizens using electroshock therapy, psychedelic drugs like LSD, "and other methods for mind control," and even psychological torture. CIA activities have included "assassinations of foreign leaders—around the world and within the United States" (Ibid). They were merely continuing with the behavior of their forefathers, the Klu Kux Klan.

In 1961, President Eisenhower gave his farewell speech on TV:

This conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new in the American experience. The total influence -- economic, political, even spiritual -- is felt in every city, every State house, every office of the Federal government. We recognize the imperative need for this development. Yet we must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources and livelihood are all involved; so is the very structure of our society.

In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist.

We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.

The military-industrial complex includes the CIA, which proposed a plan to President Kennedy called Northwoods. The plan included:

. . . the possible assassination of Cuban émigrés, sinking boats of Cuban refugees on the high seas, hijacking planes, blowing up a US ship, and even orchestrating violent terrorism in US cities. (ABC News, 7 Jan. 2006. "U.S. Military Wanted to Provoke War With Cuba.")

They wanted to do all that and blame Castro in order to justify an invasion of Cuba. JFK rejected the plan. On April 27, 1961, JFK gave a very chilling speech, in which he said:

The very word "secrecy" is repugnant in a free and open society; and we are as a people inherently and historically opposed to secret societies, to secret oaths and to secret proceedings. We decided long ago that the dangers of excessive and unwarranted concealment of pertinent facts far outweighed the dangers which are cited to justify it. Even today, there is little value in opposing the threat of a closed society by imitating its arbitrary restrictions. Even today, there is little value in insuring the survival of our nation if our traditions do not survive with it. And there is very grave danger that an announced need for increased security will be seized upon by those anxious to expand its meaning to the very limits of official censorship and concealment. That I do not intend to permit to the extent that it is in my control. . . . (reference below)

He warned that a national emergency or security threat will be used as an excuse to restrict our freedoms and increase the power of the Deep-State, and he did not intend to allow it. Why did the Deep-State want to limit our freedoms? And to what extent? The speech continues:

Today no war has been declared--and however fierce the struggle may be, it may never be declared in the traditional fashion. Our way of life is under attack. Those who make themselves our enemy are advancing around the globe. The survival of our friends is in danger. And yet no war has been declared, no borders have been crossed by marching troops, no missiles have been fired.

If the press is awaiting a declaration of war before it imposes the self-discipline of combat conditions, then I can only say that no war ever posed a greater threat to our security. If you are awaiting a finding of "clear and present danger," then I can only say that the danger has never been more clear and its presence has never been more imminent.

It requires a change in outlook, a change in tactics, a change in missions--by the government, by the people, by every businessman or labor leader, and by every newspaper. For we are opposed around the world by a monolithic and ruthless conspiracy that relies primarily on covert means for expanding its sphere of influence--on infiltration instead of invasion, on subversion instead of elections, on intimidation instead of free choice, on guerrillas by night instead of armies by day. It is a system which has conscripted vast human and material resources into the building of a tightly knit, highly efficient machine that combines military, diplomatic, intelligence, economic, scientific and political operations.

Its preparations are concealed, not published. Its mistakes are buried, not headlined. Its dissenters are silenced, not praised. No expenditure is questioned, no rumor is printed, no secret is revealed. It conducts the Cold War . . .

He mentioned the Cold War with the Russians, yet he seemed to be describing the CIA, because the CIA and several other agencies were doing the things he described. He went on to say that our enemies were reading the newspapers and obtaining a lot of information about us that they should not have, and suggested that the papers should not publish specific facts as if we were not in a war, because we were. Yet, he said this:

I am not asking your newspapers to support the Administration, but I am asking your help in the tremendous task of informing and alerting the American people. For I have complete confidence in the response and dedication of our citizens whenever they are fully informed. (www.jfklibrary.org)

So, on the one hand, he did not want the press to reveal secrets, yet he said the public should be informed about what's going on within our government and the threats we face from the Deep-State. He did not say "informed," he said, "alerted." Was he planning to release secret documents to the press, exposing the CIA?

A New York Times article on April 25, 1966, reported something that JFK allegedly said to an official in his administration:

And President Kennedy, as the enormity of the Bay of Pigs disaster came home to him, said to one of the highest officials of his Administration that he "wanted to splinter the C.I.A. in a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds."

Since he did not say it in his speech, it cannot be confirmed. However, President Truman said something similar. Even though Truman founded the CIA, just a month after JFK was killed, it was reported in the Washington Post on Dec. 22, 1963, and is part of the Congressional Record, that he said--

"something about the way the C.I.A. has been functioning that is casting a shadow over our historic positions, and I feel that we need to correct it" (Congressional Record, May 3, 1966, page 9568).

So this backs up the previous quote and suggests the great probability that JFK held the same view and did, in fact, say that he was going to "scatter" the CIA into "a thousand pieces."

There have been several books written that provide significant evidence that the CIA and FBI killed JFK and his brother, Robert F. Kennedy. And it appears that the Dallas police were also working with them. Vice President Johnson was from Texas and had much power there. The day JFK was killed, there were flyers around Dallas and a full-page newspaper ad accusing JFK of treason for seeking better relations with the U.S.S.R., which is now Russia.

In the book, Kennedys: How and Why US Agents Conspired to Assassinate JFK and RFK, Patrick Nolan said:

... in November 1963, President John F. Kennedy had signed an order to begin the process of gradually withdrawing US troops from Vietnam.

JFK was killed only a few days later. Of course, it took much longer than a few days to plan and execute the assassination.

The new President Johnson is known to have said, "I'll give them their d war." Who was he talking about? The military-industrial complex and the CIA wanted war with Vietnam, but not JFK. Therefore, my personal opinion is that the Deep-State made a deal with LBJ and the Dallas police; they worked together to kill JFK. (P.S., Oswald was framed for the crime, then murdered to make sure he would not be able to testify. And it just came out in 2022 that Oswald was a CIA asset; which means he was an informant and used by the CIA. Which means they killed one of their own. He was dispensable.)

Perhaps the first, and certainly one of the best books on the subject, was written in 1966; The Rush to Judgment, by Mark Lane. He also produced a film documentary based on the book, wherein he interviewed many people, including eyewitnesses. It seems about two dozen witnesses were murdered or died in "accidents." Penn Jones of the Midlothian Mirror newspaper in Texas said, "I think all of us who love this country should be alerted that something is wrong in the land" (Rush to Judgment, film).

In late 2022, a real journalist, Tucker Carlson, spoke with someone who had access to the CIA records on the JFK assassination:

We spoke to someone who had access to the still hidden CIA documents, a person deeply familiar with what they contain; we asked this person directly, "Did the CIA have a hand in the murder of John F. Kennedy," an American president? And here is the reply we received verbatim: "The answer is yes. I believe they were involved. It's a whole different country from what we thought it was. It's all fake."

JFK's nephew, Robert Kennedy Jr., said about the report, "The most courageous newscast in 60 years. The CIA's murder of my uncle was a successful coup d'état from which our democracy has never recovered."

On Jan. 19, 2023, Tucker Carlson revealed that 4 of the 5 men who broke into the Democratic headquarters in 1972 for the benefit of Republican president, Richard Nixon, were CIA. They are the ones who came up with the idea. Then, a former navel officer with a TOP SECRET security clearance, who had been hired by the Washington Post as a journalist, Bob Woodward (CIA), broke the story. His "Deep Throat" source later turned out to be the FBI. This scandal forced Nixon to resign. They also forced out his VP for a tax issue, and then Congress voted in another president, Gerald Ford, who was an obedient servant of the Deep-State. This all happened because Nixon told people that he knew who killed JFK; that it was the CIA.

Every president since Nixon was at least "allowed" to become president. In other words, as long as the CIA and FBI did not object. You can see from this the great likelihood that Obama was groomed and chosen to be president by the CIA. Also, that the USA is no longer a free country.

The CIA has murdered many people because they felt it was in the best interest of the Deep-State to remove them, such as Dr. Martin Luther King (1968). They have also framed people for crimes and sent them to prison, and have even used the Mob to kill people for them. The CIA has also overthrown numerous governments, from Iran to Brazil. So to say that they have done a lot of evil throughout the world is putting it mildly; they are one of the major reasons that Babylon the Great USA must be destroyed. But the CIA doesn't always operate alone; they work with other government agencies and the Pentagon.

Now we will move forward a bit. The CIA and the media would have us believe that they no longer assassinate people or overthrow governments, but that is not true. Hollywood director Oliver Stone took a team of people and went to Ukraine. His investigation showed that Obama's CIA and State Department were responsible for causing the supposed popular uprising that overthrew the government of Ukraine, which began in late 2013 and into 2014. People died, and there was at least one murder to make the victim a martyr for the cause.

The CIA and Obama did this because Ukraine had a Russian backed ruler, but they wanted to control the country because it is right next door to Russia. So they overthrew the government and installed a US-backed ruler. Therefore, I fully believe that Obama and Biden are just as guilty as Putin for the war that began in 2022, and all those who will be killed in the war. None of it would have happened if the US had not caused the revolution.

You can watch the documentary, Ukraine on Fire, at no cost if you are a member of Amazon Prime, and likely other video streaming services. The Obama administration even admits that after the Arab Spring started, they helped the people of Libya get rid of their leader, Muammar Kaddafi. So the CIA has not reformed.

Now we move to Donald Trump. When he was running for president, and also after, he stated many times his plan to clean up the swamp in Washington. He used the term Deep-State, referring to the US intelligence and military-industrial complex, along with corrupt politicians. He also threatened to jail Hillary Clinton for her crimes while Secretary of State. Hillary stated in an email to the chairwoman of the DNC, "If that f---in bastard wins, we're all going to hang from nooses! You better fix this st!" (email to Donna Brazile, DNC Chair, Oct. 17, 2016).

Glenn Greenwald is an honest journalist, not a lackey for the Democrat party like CNN, nor for the Republicans. He was interviewed for an article at DemocracyNow.org, and said:

"The CIA and the intelligence community were vehemently in support of Clinton and vehemently opposed to Trump, from the beginning. And the reason was, was because they liked Hillary Clinton's policies better than they liked Donald Trump's. One of the main priorities of the CIA for the last five years has been a proxy war in Syria, designed to achieve regime change with the Assad regime. Hillary Clinton was not only for that, she was critical of Obama for not allowing it to go further, and wanted to impose a no-fly zone in Syria and confront the Russians. Donald Trump took exactly the opposite view. He said we shouldn't care who rules Syria; we should allow the Russians, and even help the Russians, kill ISIS and al-Qaeda and other people in Syria. So, Trump's agenda that he ran on was completely antithetical to what the CIA wanted. Clinton's was exactly what the CIA wanted, and so they were behind her. And so, they've been trying to undermine Trump for many months throughout the election. And now that he won, they are not just undermining him with leaks, but actively subverting him. There's claims that they're withholding information from him, on the grounds that they don't think he should have it and can be trusted with it. They are empowering themselves to enact policy." (Greenwald: Empowering the "Deep State" to Undermine Trump is Prescription for Destroying Democracy, Feb. 16, 2017)

A newspaper columnist said in 2019:

No sooner had Trump been elected than Rosa Brooks, a former Defense Department official during the Obama administration, wrote an essay for Foreign Policy magazine discussing theoretical ways to remove Trump before the 2020 election, among them a scenario involving a military coup.

Some journalists, like Geraldo Rivera, who did not vote for Trump, could see what was happening with the Russia investigation and impeachment hearings. He wrote in a tweet on 12/ 11/19:

#FBIAbuseOfPower has been clearly demonstrated. I love cops, but undoubtedly there was an informal cabal within the Bureau dedicated to taking down @realDonaldTrump by any means necessary.

As it turns out, Obama, Hillary, and the FBI were all responsible for what has come to be called the Russia Hoax and Spygate, which was a fabrication to make Trump look like he was colluding with the Russians.

But I believe the connection between the FBI and the Democrats goes back much farther than that. The FBI had been arresting and prosecuting people who donated to the Republican party for decades, but it was not understood. The trend was not spotted until it became clear to the world that the FBI was on the side of the Democrats and were willing to lie and commit crimes to further the cause of the Democrats.

Whole books are filled with the crimes committed by the CIA, and now we know that even the FBI is committing crimes. They will arrest a Republican at the drop of a hat, but ignore crimes committed by Democrats. It is widely recognized.

In 2022, author, filmmaker, and former college president, Dinesh D'Souza tweeted: "The FBI has replaced the Ku Klux Klan as the paramilitary wing of the Democratic Party."

But how did it happen? After killing Democrat President JFK, how did the Democrat Party become buddies with the FBI? There is no way to know for sure, but it could have happened like this: A few years after the assassination, when the evidence mentioned above came out, the entire leadership of the Democrat party met with the FBI and said; We know what you did, are you going to kill us all? We will do what JFK threatened to do, and have the military arrest you all unless you do what we tell you to do. From that point on, the Democrats began to send occasional orders to the FBI: arrest this person, or even kill someone they want eliminated.

Back during the period when the KKK ruled as the Deep-State of the South, if they ordered you to do something, you did it, or you got your house burned down or your car set on fire. And if you still did not follow orders, you got beaten up or killed. The KKK now lives inside the Democrat Party and the federal government.

People who are informed know that there is a large count of dead bodies connected to Bill and Hillary Clinton. Supposedly, they have had many people killed. People who get in their way tend to die in accidents or commit "Clintoncide." Hillary is euphemistically known as Killary. But what people do not understand is that it was not the Clintons who hired the hitmen to make the kills; they merely picked up the phone and made a call to the right person, and the FBI did the killings.

The Democrat Party no longer sends men dressed in white robes to burn a cross on your front lawn; they now do their work with professional killers who can make it appear that someone died of natural causes or from an accident. But if they need to take someone out quickly, they just shoot them.

Because of the connection between the Democrats and the FBI, the Democrats have steadily grown in power within all branches of the US federal government. The vast majority of the civil employees are Democrats, who take actions to favor the Democrats and against Republicans.

The Democratic Party is still fighting the Civil War and will not stop until they take full totalitarian control of the country. They are not happy winning 1/2 or so of the presidential elections. There is an old saying, "Power corrupts, and absolute power, corrupts absolutely." The more power they get, the more they want.

There is also a ton of evidence I won't go into, that they stole the 2020 election. Biden said:

"We have put together the most extensive and inclusive voter fraud organization in the history of American politics." (10/24/20)

"I don't need you to get me elected. I need you once I'm elected." (10/31/20)

"It's no longer just about who gets to vote. Or making it easier for eligible voters to vote; it's about who gets to count the vote." (7/13/21)

He did not speak out of ignorance or because he is elderly; the Democrats have a long history of stealing elections. They began by stealing elections in the Southern states where the KKK ruled but have spread their methods into other states, and they are now experts at it. They even did it in 2016, but still lost because Trump received so many votes it overwhelmed the steal. This is why they stopped counting in the middle of the night in 2020, to ensure they had enough votes to overcome Trump's.

They have also adopted the methods of other corrupt regimes that unlawfully gained control of their countries. Stalin is famous for saying:

"I consider it completely unimportant who in the party will vote, or how; but what is extraordinarily important is this — who will count the votes, and how." (The Memoirs of Stalin's Former Secretary, by Boris Bazhanov, published in 2002)

It is no accident that the Democrats control the vote counting in many states. Yes, as difficult to believe as it is, the Democrats are actually in charge of counting the votes in many general elections, not only the Democrat primaries. Let that sink in!

They also like to accuse the Republicans of doing what they are doing. Joseph Goebbels was Hitler's Nazi propaganda minister, he said: "Accuse the other side of that which you are guilty."

The Democrats think nothing of bringing forward a line of women to falsely accuse a conservative Supreme Court nominee of rape. But that was not enough, they threatened to kill him. Here is just one threatening post:

The liberal media then push those lies. "Liberal media" is another term for Democrat-controlled media that tell many blatant lies and distortions, knowing that the ignorant sheeple (sheepeople) will believe their lies. They have even claimed that it was the Democrats who gave the Black people the right to vote, but not one Democrat voted to give Blacks the vote; it was the Republicans who gave them the right to vote. They know that the many uneducated and ignorant Democrats will believe them.

Another example of their many lies and dirty tricks was their outrage because Trump fired the US ambassador to Ukraine, but when Obama became president, he fired ALL the ambassadors and appointed all Democrats, because that is within the right of the president to do so. The liars were just trying to build public outrage against Trump and all those who voted for him. And the left-wing news media willingly broadcast their lies and distort the facts to make Trump (or whoever they have decided to target) look bad. Anything they can scream and yell about, they will.

The media did the opposite to Obama and Biden, barely mentioning what should have been great scandals, such as Obama's secret Iran deal, the Benghazi debacle, the selling of assault rifles to the Mexican drug cartels called Fast and Furious, and many more. If Trump had done anything like them, there would be rioting in the streets and impeachment.

This totalitarian, uncivil, and undemocratic spirit has spread from ruling elite Democrats into the minds of the general public of Democrats through the schools, colleges, and mass media. So now, all the above are not accepting of a two-party system; any views that disagree with their views are considered wrong and must be stamped down. If you disagree, you get shouted down and / or assaulted! They have caused people to get fired from their jobs, bank accounts canceled, death threats, etc. just for being a Republican. It is shocking what they openly do to anyone that dares to speak out against their agenda.

In May of 2017, comedian Kathy Griffin said President Trump should be beheaded. She apologized, but then in later withdrew her apology.

Rosie O' Donald said that martial law should be used to keep Donald Trump from being sworn in as president. Hollywood actors even called for a boycott of making new TV shows until Donald Trump resigns, and Al Sharpton has said that "long violence" should be used against white America because Trump was elected (<https://conservativedaily.com/al-sharpton-calls-long-violence-trump-blm-turns-heat-follow-order/>).

Hollywood director and screenwriter Paul Schrader said:

"I have spent the last five days meditating on Trump's election. Upon consideration, I believe this is a call to violence. I felt the call to violence in the 60's and I feel it now again. This attack on liberty and tolerance will not be solved by appeasement. Obama tried that for eight years.

We should finance those who support violence resistance. We should be willing to take arms. Like Old John Brown, I am willing to battle with my children." (www.newsbusters.org/blogs/nb/pj-gladnick/2016/12/17/film-director-writer-paul-schrader-blames-wine-drugs-trump-violence)

Obama did not move out of Washington, DC, like all previous presidents; no, he stayed in DC and began working to undermine President Trump. On Feb. 11, 2017, Paul Sperry at The New York Post reported on Barack Obama's plan to destroy the Trump administration with a shadow government:

In what's shaping up to be a highly unusual post-presidency, Obama isn't just staying behind in Washington. He's working behind the scenes to set up what will effectively be a shadow government to not only protect his threatened legacy, but to sabotage the incoming administration and its popular "America First" agenda.

He's doing it through a network of leftist nonprofits led by Organizing for Action. Normally you'd expect an organization set up to support a politician and his agenda to close up shop after that candidate leaves office, but not Obama's OFA. Rather, it's gearing up for battle, with a growing war chest and more than 250 offices across the country.

Since Donald Trump's election, this little-known but well-funded protesting arm has beefed up staff and ramped up recruitment of young liberal activists, declaring on its website, "We're not backing down." Determined to salvage Obama's legacy, it's drawing battle lines on immigration, Obama Care, race relations and climate change.

Obama is intimately involved in OFA operations and even tweets from the group's account. In fact, he gave marching orders to OFA foot soldiers following Trump's upset victory... (<http://nypost.com/2017/02/11/how-obama-is-scheming-to-sabotage-trumps-presidency/>)

Paul Sperry told Lou Dobbs on Fox News in Feb. 2017 that Obama had already trained tens of thousands of radicals in Alinsky tactics at his boot camps:

These are professionally trained radicals. They are schooled in Alinsky's Rules for Radicals tactics in a program that lasts six weeks. And that's about 32,000 people who have gone through that, over 32,000. Another 25,000 are under training now. (Fox News channel, and video on YouTube)

So now we know that Obama was the primary mover behind the many demonstrations in major cities after Trump was elected.

It appears that the attacks on Trump in Washington, which are still happening, are coming from the “Deep-State” and the Demoncrat party. This means that the majority of the CIA, FBI, and other areas of government are being controlled by radical Demoncrats.

Stephen Miller, senior advisor to President Trump, said on a Fox News interview in Dec. 2019:

The Democratic party of today endorses the FBI leadership spying on a political campaign, like we're in some sort of banana republic, and conducting espionage and surveillance against individuals associated with that campaign, and fabricating and concealing evidence, hiding exculpatory information to a FISA court; all to interfere in our elections. The democratic party is ok with Hillary Clinton and the DNC purchasing from a foreign spy disinformation to throw our country into turmoil.

No, I don't believe the Demoncrat party endorsed the FBI spying on Trump; we now know that Obama gave the order! On July 23, Tulsi Gabbard, the Director of National Intelligence, gave an official statement that said:

There is irrefutable evidence that details how president Obama and his national security team directed the creation of an intelligence community assessment that they knew was false. . . .

They manufactured findings from shotty sources, they suppressed evidence and credible intelligence that disproved their false claims . . . and withheld the truth from the American people. In doing so, they conspired to subvert the will of the American people and worked with their partners in the media to promote this lie to undermine the legitimacy of President Trump. This kicked off what would essentially be a yearslong coup against President Trump which included federal investigations, two impeachments, FBI raids on his home, arrests of senior officials, smears and harassment of President Trump and his family, and more.

The Deep-State slowly gained power within the US government for 100 years, or more, and has now gotten to the point that it now virtually controls the government.

A tweet by Dinesh D'Souza, while Biden was president:

The FBI is the largest criminal gang in the country. It is more dangerous than any other gang because it is run by “thugs with badges” and also because it is funded and supported by Congress and the White House. It's America's version of the KGB or the Chinese state police. (Dec. 17, 2022)

The world saw and knows the great things Trump accomplished for the nation in his first term, and they also see and know the evil that is being done by the Demonrats and Deep-State. The ruler of El Salvador, Nayib Bukele, said in a tweet:

“The most powerful country in the world is falling so fast, that it makes you rethink what are the real reasons. Something so big and powerful can't be destroyed so quickly, unless the enemy comes from within.” (March 19, 2022)

A video was shared online that shows Senator Lindsay Graham and the late Senator John McCain speaking to Ukrainian soldiers in 2016, before Trump was elected:

“I admire the fact that you will fight for your homeland. Your fight is our fight. 2017 will be the year of offense. All of us will go back to Washington, and we will push the case against Russia. Enough of Russian aggression, it is time for them to pay a heavier price. . . .”

“I believe you will win. And we will do everything we can to provided you with what you need to win.”

This proves that they planned to begin the war against Russia in 2017, but when Trump was elected, he would not go along with it.

The Deep-State is, perhaps, the most evil and dangerous part of Babylon the Great. And that is saying something, after we already suffered through the Civil War, the KKK, and now the Deep-State and the lying media that supports them. They even have their own outlaw militants, Antifa, which is funded by George Soros and the Demonrats. The FBI and CIA are not able to easily engage in rioting and mob violence, so they need Antifa for that.

Vladimir Putin was in the KGB before the fall of Communism in the USSR, so he is in a position to know. He has stated:

95% of the world terrorist attacks are made by the CIA. "The CIA does not work on behalf of the American people or act in their interests."

"The CIA is a rogue element of the Deep-State, and an expression of the will of world oligarchy and their vision for a New World Order."

I will not take space to discuss how the Demoncrats took over USAID and used it as their personal funding source, not to mention funding evil deeds around the world.

Even though Trump is making a great effort to clean out the corrupt Demoncrats from positions of control within the government, he will not be able to complete the job. There are far too many of them. We will read prophecies that suggest that a major "terrorist" attack will remove him and VP.

(2) The Next Democrat Civil War

In 2020, many Democrats made clear statements in support of the BLM riots. The Democrats in Congress took a knee to show their support, and EVEN the FBI came out and kneeled in submission to the rioters. In other words, this was telling them, "Go ahead and riot, we are with you, nothing will happen to you." And so it happened that the majority of the rioters got away with no charges. Those who were charged eventually had their charges dropped.

It also suggests that they likely planned in advance for the BLM riots to take place and were just waiting for the excuse, which they knew they would eventually get. Many city blocks were set on fire, and many people lost their businesses in several large cities across the US. People were beaten and murdered, but the news media and the Demoncrats defended the riots and called them "mostly peaceful." BLM is officially a Marxist organization that calls for the destruction of democracy, free speech, and capitalism.

Therefore, based on this evidence, I would say that we are now in an unofficial civil war; they are just trying to keep it undercover. It is a subversion/guerrilla civil war. They are trying to take full control of the nation without actually having to form one army against another because they know if they do, they will lose! The fact that their evil is even now being exposed to the world will not stop them; they will continue their civil war until the USA, as we know it today, no longer exists, according to the prophecies that follow.

Donald Trump reportedly said, and it sounds like something he would say:

They use big tech to censor you, they use the Deep-State to spy on you, they use the intelligence agencies to frame you, they use the media to slander you, they use the legal system to persecute you, they rig elections to disenfranchise you, destroy you, and ruin your lives, all the while they say they are the ones that are going to defend your democracy and justice. It's a lot of bullsh—, that's what it is.

After Trump's second presidential win, the Dems openly formed a shadow government for the purpose of opposing Trump at every turn. There have also been numerous calls for Trump's assassination, something that did not happen to Biden even with tons of evidence that they stole the 2020 election.

The Dems have continued their violence in 2025 by burning dozens of Tesla cars and trucks because Elon Musk was helping to dismantle the money-stealing machine the Democrats had set up in Washington with USAID. Hakeem Jeffries spoke against Trump's plan in January, 2025: "We are going to fight it legislatively. We are going to fight it in the courts. We're going to fight it in the streets" (www.foxnews.com/media/hakeem-jeffries-call-fight-trump-agenda-in-streets-sparks-backlash).

In March 2025, former FBI director James Comey posted an image made in the sand that read 8647, which is outrageous, because 86 means kill, and Trump was the 47th president. Then they started rioting in LA because ICE was rounding up illegals. Any time the Dems do not get what they want, they turn to violence. Therefore, there is no doubt that their violence will continue. In fact, they have made many such threats.

The news reported that a van was stopped on 7/16/25 in New York City loaded with 50 propane tanks and gasoline cans. He ran away on foot, which suggests he was likely planning to use them to make a bomb.

An article on the New York Post website reported the Demonrats said the children who died in the flash floods in Texas (July, 2025), deserved to die because they voted for Trump:

Across the political left, from orthodox Democrats to Antifa in the streets, the opposition to President Trump has lost its collective mind. . . . The left-wing internet mob grotesquely claims children lost to the recent flash floods in Texas deserved their fate. [because] Texas Christians supported the MAGA agenda and thus met a just fate. (7/13/25, Why the left, from normal Dems to Antifa, have lost their collective minds, Victor Davis Hanson, nypost.com/2025/07/13/opinion/why-the-left-from-normal-dems-to-antifa-have-lost-their-collective-minds/)

Those Demonrats will put Christians in a re-education camp without a second thought, or hang you from a tree.

(If the only place you get your news is from mainstream TV networks, you are not being told the entire truth. Everything they report is skewed, or twisted to make Republicans or Christians look bad, while making Democrats and nonChristians look good.)

Chapter 10

Prophecies of USA's Fall

Here are some prophecies about judgment and destruction coming to the USA without specifically mentioning civil war, nuclear war, or invasion; those are in other chapters.

(1) John Mulinde

John Mulinde was an evangelist in Uganda when God told him to go to the USA and spread a message that God would give him after his arrival:

[God said:] The cloud of judgment is hanging over this land. And three waves of judgment will hit this land. One will be a judgment against the spirit of mammon, because my people have made money a god in my place.

I am going to hit at their financial foundations, and everything will come tumbling down. It will not only attack this land of America, it will also pull down the economies of many many other countries, [and] will come tumbling [down].

When you speak, speak out to my people, not only here, but everywhere you go, turn your eyes away from the perishables to that which is everlasting. Tell my people to fix their faith in me, when things fall apart, they will still [be] standing.

A second wave of judgment will hit this land will be a judgment against human pride, in human achievements. What man has built, what man has done, what man has been able to put together. And because of that, he thinks he can be God, he can replace God in his lifestyle, and he can choose what is good for him, and what is bad for him. And he can set his own standards. The judgment that is going to come, [is] in natural calamities. It's going to come by natural means, which will hit at the civilization of man. And will again and again will hit. And the time will come, when it will get so intense, whole cities will be raised to the ground in a matter of days.

The third one is a judgment against the liberties that overthrew my statutes and standards. In the name of rights and freedoms, my people have rejected my standards, and have chosen to institute their own standards for themselves. At this moment my hand is holding back the consequences of their choices, but the day is coming when I will lift my hand and allow the flood of the consequences of the choices they have made to come flooding over the land. And at that time there will be a cry for help, but help will not be near.

. . . [John Mulinde asked] "What is the last word you have for America?" . . . Pray that the remnant will be big and strong, and that they will not fear to stand, and that they will have the faith to claim this nation back. My purposes for this nation are yet unfulfilled; I am not through with this land. But I want people who will stand before me on behalf of this land. (from a video on YouTube.com)

Notice that natural disasters will get so bad that cities could get wiped out in a single day. What could cause this? A tsunami, which is said to take place with the 2nd Trumpet, and earthquakes. Notice that this event will likely cause a turning back to God by millions of people, a great revival. But first will be the economic collapse. Nothing was said about civil war, but notice that God did not say there will be total destruction, but that God wants this nation to survive.

He also had a vision that showed the foundations of America had been broken, and God gave him two chapters in Genesis about Lot and the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah.

(2) Trump Needs a New Desk

Here is a dream from Sister Barbara of Godshealer7 End Times Prophecy channel on YouTube:

Today is, 12/26/2021. . . . So I had an appointment to go to a meeting. So I meant, I show up at a building, and I go into a room. Okay. Now we're not a political channel. I'm saying that straight up and I have no interest or nothing at all with politics. So my appointment was with the President of The United States. And at this point, I can't even say it, the President of The United States was Donald Trump.

Yes. So I have an appointment with him, I have a meeting with him. I go in his office and here is the hair raising part of the dream; I go in his office and I tell him that I was there for the meeting and I look at his desk and there's handicapped bars on his desk.

Okay, think on that in a minute and what that could possibly mean. There's handicapped bars on his desk and I look at him and I say to him, "Mr. President," I said, "you really need to get," of course I would say this, "you really need to get a new desk." His answer to me was, "I can't, we can't afford one." Woah, look at this. How about that? That was the end of the dream. I think that was more than enough of a dream. . . .

Now if anybody out there has the gift of interpretation for dreams, please feel free to put that underneath there or your thoughts of what you think possibly this can be. Now my own opinion, I'm gonna just say this, is this is not good. Based on the handicap bars, him not having money to buy a new desk, this is not a good dream that I got here. . . .
(Dream, Donald Trump is President)

The handicap bars likely do not refer to DJT having a medical issue that requires him to need assistance; it most likely refers to the entire nation. Our economy could become crippled, which is also indicated by his statement that he cannot afford a new desk.

(2) Timothy V. Dixon

Of Timothy V. Dixon Ministry, channel, on Rumble and YT:

Out of the hills of Japan shall I shake the earth, and rattle the oceans' floor. The land and its foundation shall move out of its place. Many say, Peace, peace and safety, then sudden destruction cometh upon you as travail upon a woman with child, and you shall not escape. Shall I not rise up against your blasphemy? Shall I lay still when the blood of the innocent has cried to me from the ground? Shall I remain silent, Nancy, when you yourself have spilled the blood of the children? Their blood I will require at your hands. And you, Schumer, you lie in wait to commit murders; you have slain the innocents, you support the darkness, and kneel at the altar of the incense of the damned. . . . Therefore, your pain shall overtake you in a day, and your vision shall leave you, and your mind is taken from you by whom you serve, there at your altar. Your mind will be overtaken with an insane spirit. . . . I see your high-priest office; you have denounce me and my name. . . . your days are done, saith God. I will send angels of my Word to the streets of the cities, and the rattles of death is heard throughout the city of Washington D.C., all the way to Sacramento, California. . . . in one day the pains of rage shall take the breath of the ones that have chosen to slaughter the unborn. . . .

There shall come forth a great exodus out of this generation, saith God. . . . Remember I have told you evil is upon this nation, this nation, and desires to take the land, but I will drive it back, saith God, and I will cleanse the Whitehouse . . . soon the rightful one will take his seat, and great shall be the victory, but great shall be the loss to them that placed all in to steal the land, then they will see that I am the Lord . . . you have not seen the miracles, you have not seen the times that is upon the land . . . take up the cross and follow me, saith God, for this is hour of deliverance . . . you that mock my name and blaspheme you will weep and weep for the day's at hand that I shall call for you, thy soul . . . I will take down the evil, I will cause a disease among the witches of DC. . . this is the hour that the very showing, the show-down of good and evil . . . everyone that has breath will proclaim that I am the King of Kings and Lord of Lords . . . revival is at the door, trouble is in the land, there shall be an uprising . . . have faith in me, saith the Lord, I shall keep you through the storm. Great shall be the testimony of those who stand through these times. . . the great harvest call, the end of all times . . . I shall keep you, my hand shall rest upon you, my people . . . for this is the time of great revival . . . (WARNING WARNING WARNING Prophetic word of the Lord. #Pelosi #shumer #capital. His original YouTube channel which he removed)

The angels that God will send to the streets, are the end-time miracle workers and preachers during the last-days' out-pouring.

(4) The Armenian Prophecy and Secret Letter

Demos Shakarian (1913-1993) was the founder of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship. Many times, he told a story of an Armenian prophecy that saved his family from destruction. It is also mentioned in his book, The Happiest People on Earth.

An Armenian prophet named Efim Gerasemovitch Klubniken gave a prophecy in 1852 that said, in the near future he will give a Word from God; then all the Armenians should leave and go to the place marked on the map, which turned out to be Los Angeles. That day came in the late 1800s, and over the next few years many Armenians went to America, including Demos Shakarian Sr. in 1905. Everyone who was left in their village was killed in the Armenian Genocide of 1915-1921 (BK2).

The important lesson here is that many people were saved because they believed the prophet and moved to America. Now many prophets are having dreams and visions of nuclear destruction in America. Whether you believe the prophecies or not could determine whether you live or die, or other members of your family.

Efim also wrote another prophecy of a similar nature, and put it in a sealed envelope to be opened only when a later prophet says it should be opened. The prophecy is believed to say that they should once again flee to another area of the country, or to another country, to avoid being killed once again. No one dares to open the letter before its time, because, he said that anyone who opens the letter before it should be opened will die.

(5) The Statue of Liberty Falls to Its Knees

This short vision was published anonymously in 2012:

I was awakened at 4:13 am and started praying in the Spirit earnestly and then the Spirit spoke to me, "It has begun." Then I had a vision of a giant Statue of Liberty tripping over Washington, D.C. (Father will begin to judge the nation. Our freedom will be taken away by the nation stumbling over its leadership.) Its knees hit the ground around the Mississippi River and the ground shook mightily. Then it proceeded to place its hands on the ground and bow down facing west toward China. It looked defeated and tired.

Like other dreams and visions, this one only contains some of the end-time events; it shows how the federal government will take away our liberty, which started with the Patriot Act, the formation of the NSA, and the National Defense Authorization Act. Then it skips to when the US will be split by a huge earthquake at the Mississippi River. Then we will be invaded by China, but because this vision was so short, it appears to compress events. Other prophecies indicate that China invades with Russia after the end of the civil war.

(6) Elizabeth Marie with Latter Rain³³³:

I come to you in the name of our Lord and savior Jesus Christ. And I do this video for his glory alone. . . . I have gotten several messages from the Lord about his people wanting a King. . . .

And it does not give me any pleasure to bring these messages to you except for, to be faithful to the Lord and to continue to share with you what he has been showing me. Alright, so . . .

"People are looking for [Donald Trump] to save them just like Saul, but instead it will lead them down a bad path. However, they are still crying out for their King to save them." . . .

They need to be looking to Jesus Christ the King of Kings and not to man. We are to trust no man. Here's this severe message:

"I gave them a King and he was no different than Saul. When he comes back on the scene, it will only bring more destruction for my people have abandoned me and have looked to their king for their protection, their direction, and their guidance. They will have their king once again and it will be the final nail in the coffin because their deception was great. They believed a lie to make America great.

"It will not be great again, but will be governed by its foes. Those who call themselves by my name need to point their finger at themselves for blame. They are the reason America has fallen. They are the harlot of Babylon."

And the Lord is talking about the lukewarm apostate church brothers and sisters. "They are part of the harlot of Babylon. . . . They have spread their delicacies across the nation. It is not been my spirit of fire that has spread but the fires of false prophecies, teachings and doctrines. I will put out their fire with the breath of my mouth and they will be no more unless they repent. America has fallen because of the church. They have led the people astray and have allowed the infiltration of the beast system to permeate it. It is a stench to my nostrils. There is no hope but to wipe them out and start anew.

"Out of the ashes will arise my true and tried people who have been tested and improved by me, approved by me. They will come forth on wings like eagles and take their rightful place. There will be no one elevated above, but all will be on the same level. All will be humble and will have only one leader, the savior of their souls. For those who follow [Donald Trump] you do not hear my voice. You follow vain imaginations. You worship another and I know you not. Repent so you can once again come into my fold, my pasture of my sheep.

"Only I am the king of my people. They have no other. Only I can set people free. Look to me and you will not be deceived and lied to. Look to me and you will and you will be set free. Your savior, Jesus the Messiah."

Alright brothers and sisters, that's the first one. . . . Here's the second one:

"You have been bewitched my children by thinking that there's an earthly solution to your condition. It is only through my mercy and grace will America ever stand again as she once was. Why do you put your trust in a man? There is only one anointed from God and that is his son, not the previous president.

"Repent, I will give them what they want and it will be their downfall. No party will save you. No government will save you. Why do you look for me among them?"

Let me say that again. "I will give them what they want and it will be their downfall for no party will save you. No government will save you. Why do you look for me among them? I will not be mocked.

"I will not be ridiculed. My anger will swallow those who continue to disobey my word and my word says, trust in no man. America, you will now fall and you will fall hard. Only my faithful ones who trust only in me will be saved. All others will perish. I have had enough of the rebellious church. They know me not and will be banging on closed doors begging to be let in. But they will not enter because of their wicked deeds before me. . . .

[Though a good message of rebuke, it is not the purpose of this book to preach. You can read the full message online.]

"They will not live with me for all eternity, but will be thrown into the lake of fire. Warn the people that I am King."

That was the end of the second message brothers sisters and then I heard this; "Let the scepter of the wicked be handed over to Jesus, the one and only true king." (PROPHETIC WORD: Severe Warning to the Church! Feb 18, 2022)

This message does not say that Trump will bring the coming destruction, but that it will happen under his watch. It will happen because the demoncrats will riot and commit violence because they are not the ones in power.

(7) Brandon Biggs: Banks closing and taking money

The Lord showed me an American flag, and the American flag was transformed into a hundred dollar bill. And the hundred dollar bill was waving in the wind, and all of a sudden it was, it started to transform into some kind of digital code, like, almost like crypto code. . . .

And I said, Lord, what is this? And the Lord said, the, the dollar's about to turn into a digital dollar. And, and He said, it will be worth half than what it's worth right now. So a hundred dollar bill would be worth fifty dollars.

And so He showed me, the banks all went bankrupt. All the money that was in the banks, every person that had money in there, no matter if you were really rich or if you were poor, whatever was in the banks, they seized it all. The money was now property of the bank somehow. . . .

I don't know how they did it, but all the loans that you have on your house and all the, on your cars and everything, I saw that all of it, they would call it a debt jubilee. And, and because they couldn't foreclose and take everybody's houses and everybody's cars because of the dollar crashing, they, they just wiped it out and they created a new platform. They created a new digital dollar with this.

And then the Lord showed me lines for people standing at Target stores for trying to get food, but they weren't dressed like in poverty looking clothes. They still had nice clothes on. It was like, it happened so suddenly.

It was just like, it was like an overnight deal. And people were in lines at the Target, Walmart for like a mile long because there was no products and there was no food. There was hardly anything in these stores and people were waiting just to get whatever they could get. . . .

And He showed me certain cryptocurrencies that would go up in value. He showed me certain things that would happen with gold and with silver. . . . And He told me the Euro would be in trouble because of what was going on with Europe and this war. And so that was one of the words that He gave me when I was praying about 2023.

That was one of the first signs that this was all going to happen like dominoes. And so I just wanted to come on and tell everybody the things that are fixing to start to happen are very serious. Okay. . . . (The Lord showed me the dollar crash and banking, crash, and a new digital platform, Last Days, YT, Jun 29, 2023)

John Paul Jackson said trucks hauling food will need armed guards to keep them from being highjacked.

This only shows one drop of the dollar, by 50%, and banks taking everything from your account. I also had a dream of banks taking all the money from people's accounts.

I heard from others that when the banks take the money in the accounts, if you owe money on a house, they will also take ownership of the house. No, they cannot actually take the house, but they can take ownership of it and charge you rent. Maybe they won't do that, maybe they will wipe out everyone's debt, like he seemed to suggest.

In another video, he said they will stop requiring payments on houses for a period of time because of a new lockdown caused by another virus; in which case, it will also include rent. I suspect this could be one and the same event; the dollar drops because of a virus-caused lockdown.

There was also a shortage of all products. Was it caused by not being able to buy and sell goods because banks had collapsed? These appears to be extreme events and will doubtless happen during the full civil war, as indicated by Terry Bennett and others.

Brandon Biggs also saw empty shelves at Walmart:

All I know is the season that is coming is very dark for the world and great financial hardship is coming. Very dark days, so much so that there'll be many of you that stand in line for days; feel like camping out to try to get food. . . . days for hours standing in line just to get a bag . . . a paper sack of food that they'll give you by FEMA. Because there are great trade wars with China and America that are coming, and we depend solely on China for a lot of our goods . . . Remember what I tell you; there will be a day when China says we're not sending anything, we're not doing business with you for a while as a strike. And when this strike takes place our grocery stores our Walmarts, our Targets will have nothing in them. I saw shelves with cobwebs in the corners representing a longer period of time with nothing on them . . .

I saw interest rates skyrocketing again, because they couldn't control it. . . . the House of Cards is falling folks, . . . it is by the grace of God if this thing does not all fall apart. . . . I saw Church and people and major congregations, because the notes on their churches it was too much, and they, and they closed down the doors because the people weren't able to give to help support these mega churches . . . but God told me that he would protect his beloved his Remnant. (We had a visitation from the Holy Spirit | the ark is about to close: Jesus is coming, Dec 28, 2024, Last Days)

One thing we do not get from China is our food. So it appears that when we are having a food shortage because of another pandemic or civil war, then China will decide to cut off our imported products as well, which will be an act of war against us.

(8) Dana Coverstone: Rock impacts, dollar drops

Pastor Dana Coverstone had a dream on August 10, 2020, about October: Protests, Explosions, Fall of U.S. Dollar. He saw a rock that came flying out of the sky and landed in a large pond. The ripples started off small but then became vicious waves – like when a wind begins to blow stronger and the ripples start to go further out. Does this refer to the asteroid of the 2nd Trumpet?

He saw federal officials' faces that he recognized, state leaders, agency leaders, and radicals (like the protesters from Portland, Seattle, or Minneapolis). All of these people had a wick coming out of their heads like a firework wick. This refers to people who are angry and about to explode. In other words, protests, violence, and loud yelling of those on the street and in politics. This is happening now. He saw elderly people being attacked, and Christians and conservatives attacked. He even saw people trying to get into nursing homes to beat up the elderly.

He then saw a big $100 bill about the size of an American flag. It was hanging off a flag off a pole, and it was burning from one corner. It was being lowered like at the end of the day. There were people with a hand over their heart that were crying because their god of money was being lowered and lost its value. The bill burned until about one-third of it was left. Some people were devastated. Some people were celebrating.

Then he saw Christians kneeling and praying who were surrounded by bubbles of safety, with angels guarding them. He saw puffed-up prophets and pastors wearing very expensive suits. They were preaching against persecution coming and were promising only prosperity, wealth, and good things. And when the dollar dropped, they were seen standing naked and had the rug pulled out from under them.

(9) Henry Gruver's View of America-Babylon

Henry Gruver is known for his several visions of Russia attacking the US in a surprise gas attack and nuclear strike. He viewed the USA as Babylon the Great:

Isaiah 18 talks about the land "overshadowing with wings," with wings that dwell from seas to sea. Palestine is not from sea to sea, but the United States of America is! "And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners." What are the utmost corners of this country? Geographically, as far as the continental U.S. is concerned, it would be Seattle, San Francisco, Miami and New York. Is there any corruption in those cities, any problem in those cities?

(10) A Hopi Prophecy

A Native American prophecy says that God caused two great shakings, which were WWI and WWII. It speaks of a gourd of ashes that will be dropped, which refers to the nuclear bombs that the US dropped on Japan in WWII. It also predicts that a house will be thrown into the sky, which is the space station. It goes on to say:

When this house is in the sky, the Great Spirit is going to shake the Earth a third time, and whoever dropped that gourd of ashes, upon them it is going to drop. (1986 Continental Indigenous Council, Fairbanks, Alaska, By Lee Brown, Cherokee)

This means that upon America, nuclear bombs are going to drop.

(11) George John: America Crushed

During worship I had my eyes closed and I saw an image of myrrh. I then saw it was crushed, allowing the fragrance out. This fades. Then I see an image of a relief map of America. I then see it is crushed. The Spirit then allowed me to understand that America needs to be crushed for the same reasons biblically. Many souls will be saved that never would be if this didn't happen. This "crushing" will purify many. It will be painful to the people, but pleasing for God's purpose. (2016)

Difficult times cause some people to get serious with God! This is why a great revival takes place, not only during the hard years before the Great Tribulation, but also during.

If you take all the prophecies and dreams in this section together, here is my analysis: Donald Trump will become president again, but the country will not become great again. He will pass laws favorable to conservative values, which will enrage the left. There will also be more exposure of those who tried to overthrow Trump, but this exposure will enrage the left even more, resulting in more trouble, such as rioting, violence against Christians, etc.

The end result will be that America will become even more divided, until we finally have civil war and the tsunami of the 2nd Trumpet hits the East Coast of the US.
